We Dedicate. . .

Although she has never sponsored a class or a club, she sponsors the whole student body!

Administration, faculty and students alike know and appreciate Mrs. Bundy's efficiency, kindness, and gracious smile. No task seems too much; no request too trivial for her undivided attention. Her well known voice over the loud-speaker makes all of us come to attention.

Though you rarely see her outside of the office, Mrs. Bundy is a loyal supporter and avid fan of the Braves.

Mrs. Bundy became Bonner High's prize secretary in 1942. She left for a brief time in 1951 to marry and start a family, but she returned in 1963 to become "our Lady in the Shoe."

The Totem Pole Staff feels that this dedication is long overdue. We are proud to make it now. Thank you, Mrs. Bundy.

A Focus on Faces. . .

Faces reveal feelings. . . Faces project responses. A facial expression can say a whole paragraph. . . often more eloquently than a whole paragraph. And Faces are our focus. . . our expressive symbols for the hours of fun, enlightenment, and achievement.

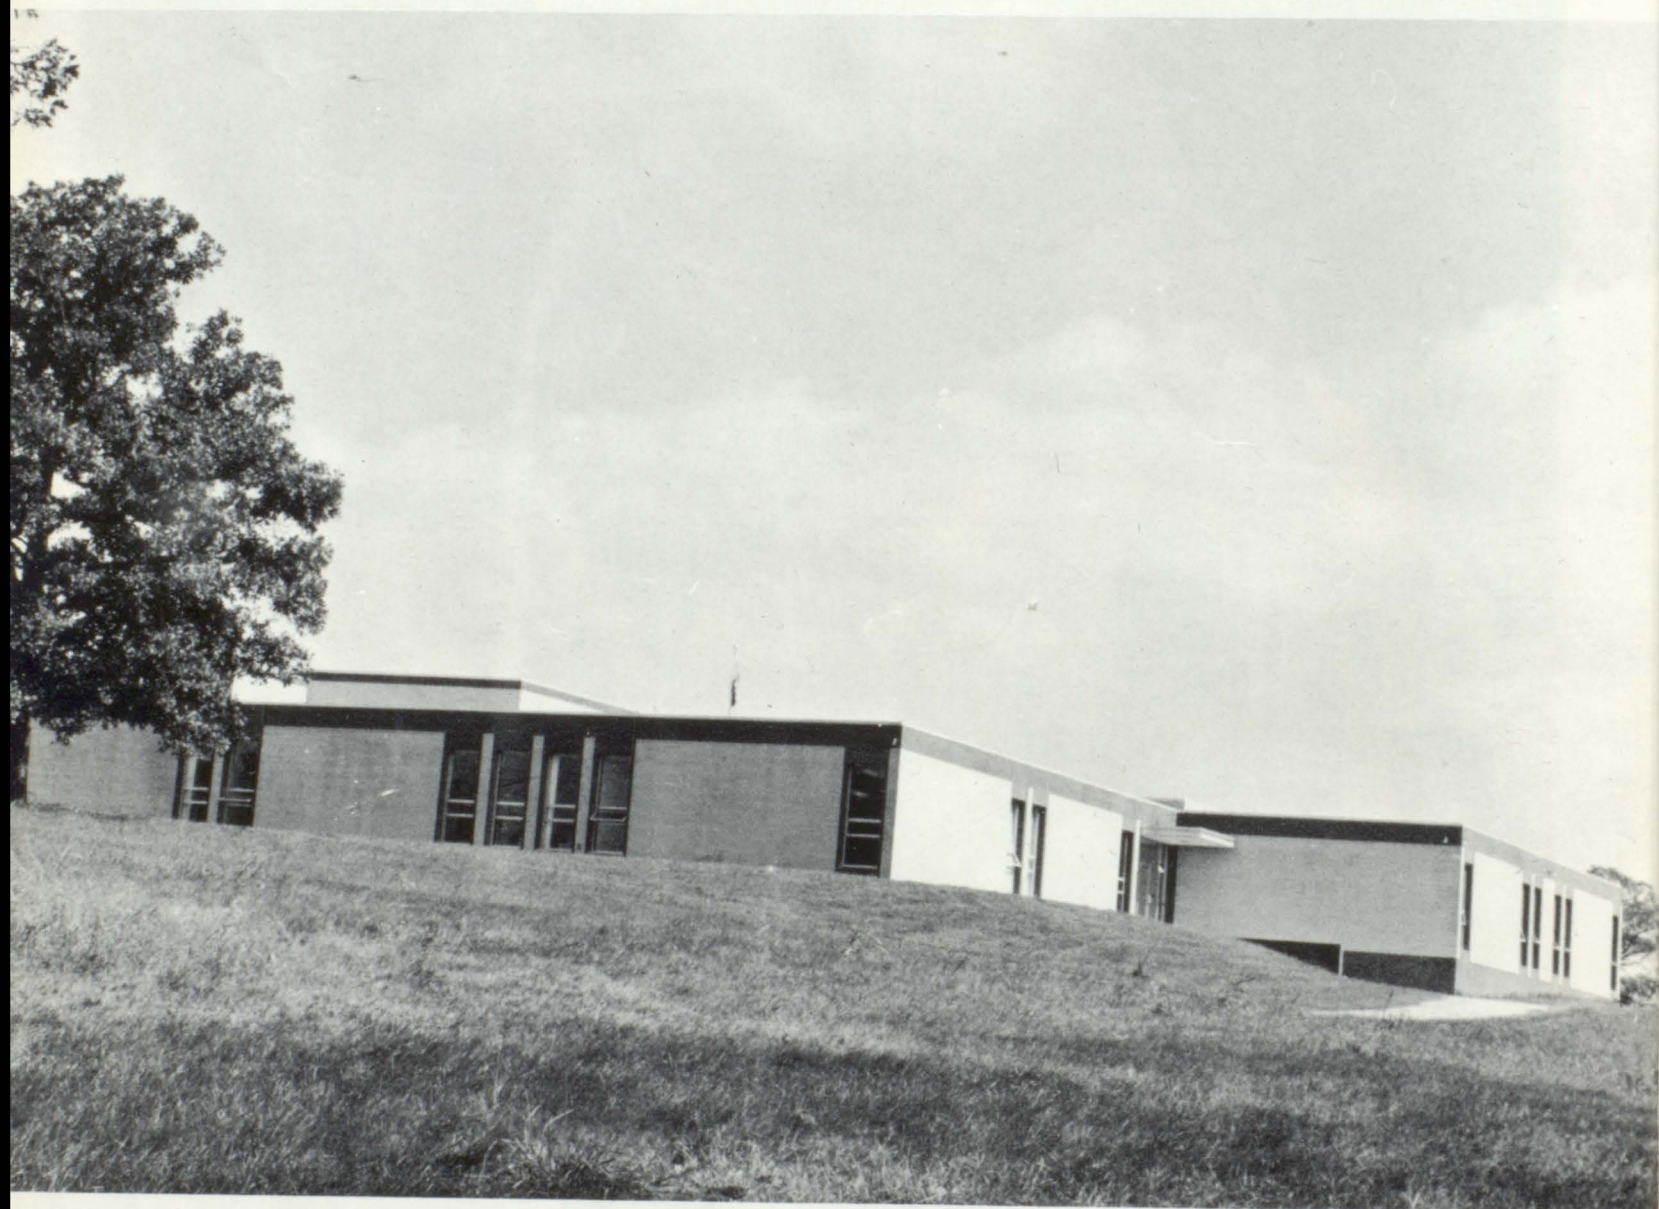

The Faces of fun we see are happy ones, filled with action, suspense, laughter. Our memories of the hours we spend in fun will perhaps be our favorites.

The Faces of enlightenment, continual processes of growth. . . produce ever-changing Faces for the individual. The bewildered look of a freshman is changed, through the years, to the confident look of a senior.

The Faces of achievement are created by the fulfillment of goals, both large and small. To each of us, achievement assumes a different Face. Achievement may be a diploma, a crown, a football letter, an assignment well-done.

We, of the Totem Pole staff, feel that by focusing on the Faces of individuals and the Faces of high school life, we can most completely cover our subject. . . THE FACE OF BONNER SPRINGS HIGH SCHOOL. We, therefore, present the '68 Totem Pole. . . A Focus on Faces.

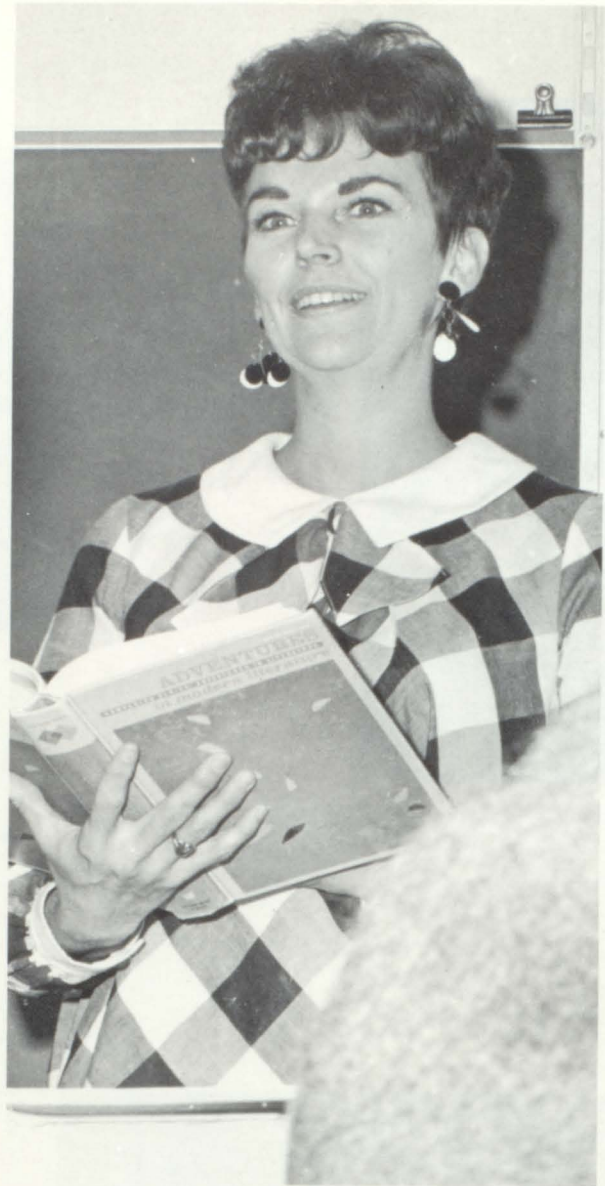

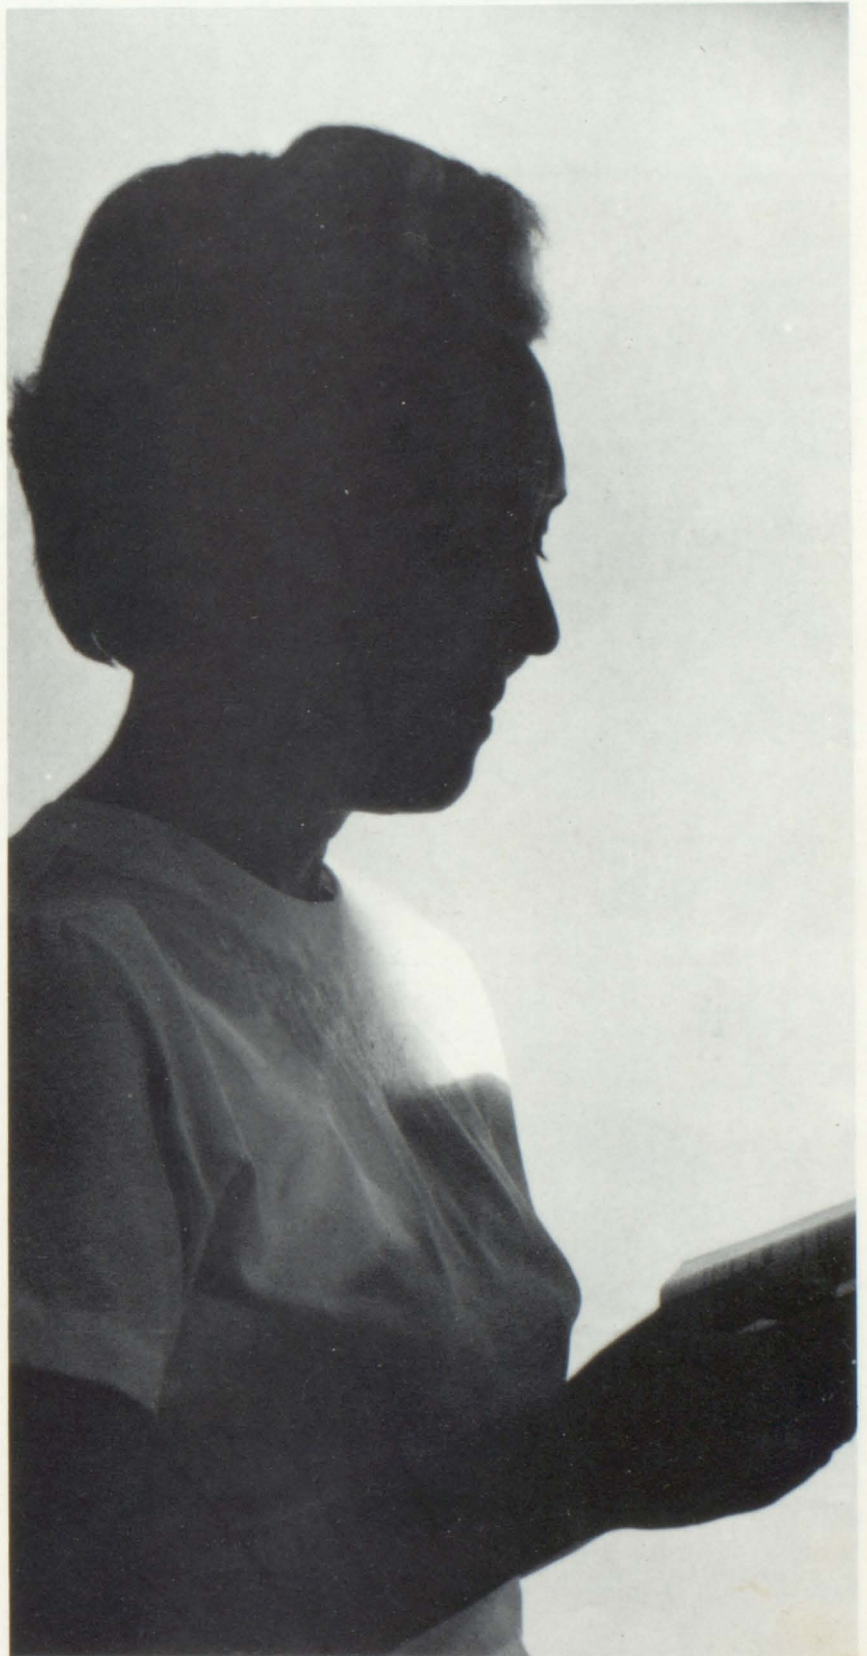

The Faces of BHS

FACES OF KNOWLEDGE. . .

As we benefit from the knowledge of others, they benefit by giving of their knowledge. Knowledge for its own sake is useless. But knowledge, working, growing, developing, can provide a foundation for the ultimate goal . . . wisdom.

The Faces of Knowledge in our school are many. We rely on them daily to supply us with the benefit of their learning, their experiences.

BHS Personnel Keeps Things Running Smoothly

Mr. Don Stokesbury keeps BHS operating smoothly and efficiently, yet always has time to help anyone who needs assistance.

"Will this phone ever stop ringing?" sighs Mrs. Mildred Bundy.

Dividing her time between guidance and the main office, Mrs. Marianne Allen, secretary, keeps smiling.

School board members are: Dr. Carrall Glendening, assistant supt.; Mr. Lindy Trent, Mr. Darrell Donahue, Mr. Kenneth Tewell, superintendent; Mr. William D. Grinstead and Mr. Rex Heffley.

Board of Education Works Diligently for Improvements

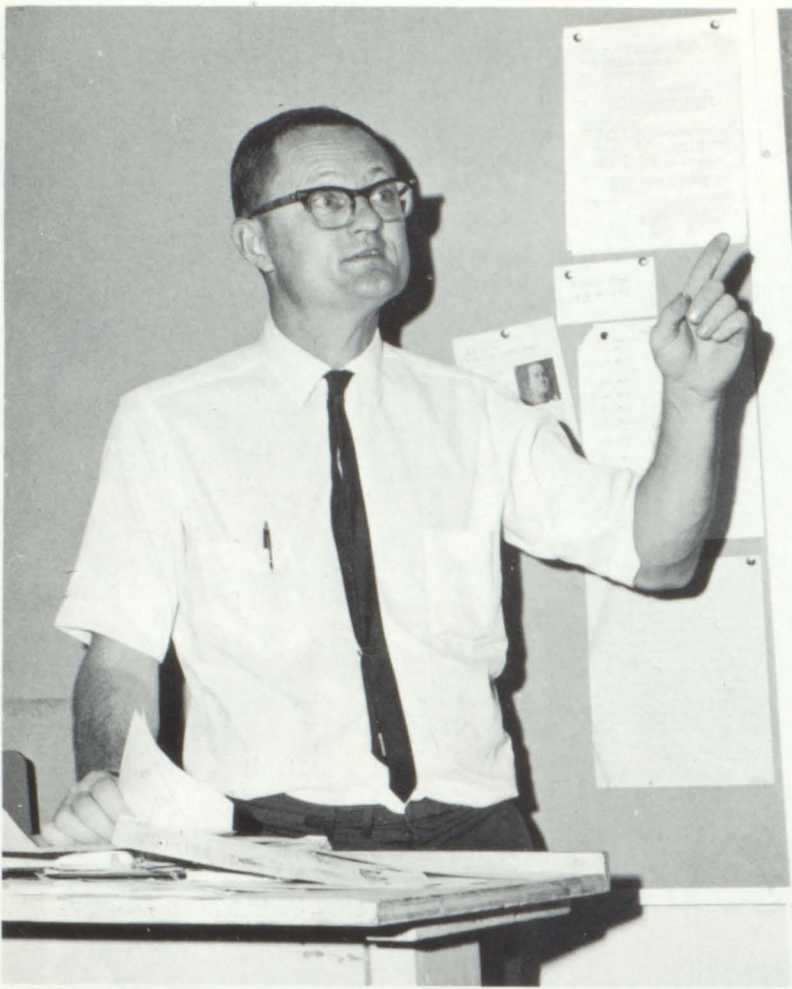

The Board of Education represents an unbelievable number of man-hours spent in cooperation with Mr. Kenneth Tewell, superintendent, to improve the school system. Time given without pay, interest given generously, these Bonner Springs Citizens accept an important responsibility. . . the responsibility of creating the best school system with the best policies for citizens. . .and maybe future board members.

As Vice-Principal William White handles discipline problems and attendance.

Creative Ideas Flourish in English Classes

"What significance did Peter Rabbit have in the story?" challenges Mr. Mike Bell, to his brilliant junior English class.

"Publications! Publications! Ugh!" wails Mrs. Angela Wind, trying not to panic.

Mrs. Doris Stith and Mrs. Arroline Zumbrunn discuss plans for the English department. Mrs. Stith teaches English IV and Latin. Mrs. Zumbrunn is in charge of remedial reading.

Miss Christine Tweddle, starts typing the first page of her fifty-four page "pop" test in English.

What did Mrs. Sydney Dunn just tell her first hour Practical English Class?

Coaching debate, sponsoring Thespians, and teaching Freshman English, keeps Mrs. Ellie Green busy.

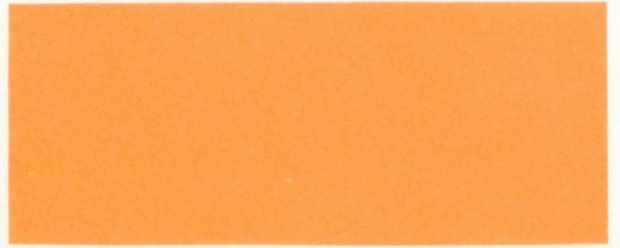

Mrs. Shirley Anderson, a newcomer to B.H.S., devotes her spare time to grading English themes.

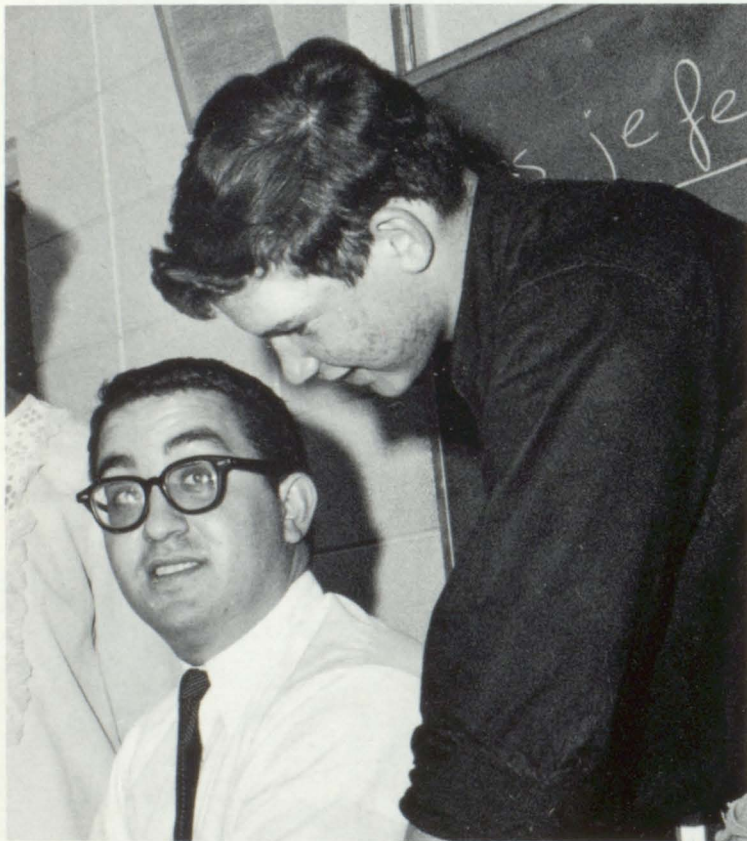

Mrs. Marsha Boal gives an example of a humorous impromptu speech.

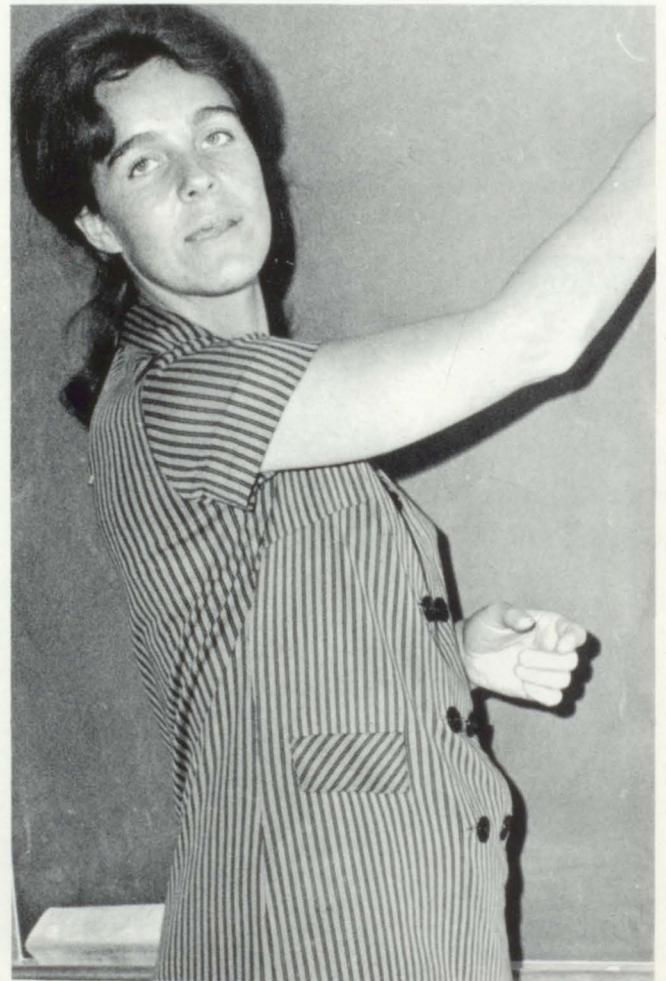

Foreign Languages Cultivate a Fourth Dimension in Communication

"Is this kid for real?" wonders Mr. John Nobile, while grading one of his student's Spanish papers.

Richard Lingo challenges Mr. Nobile's knowledge by asking: "Which comes first, the chicken or the egg?"

Mrs. Gisele Cockburn, new French teacher from Britain, makes a point clear to her French III students.

"Some kids got it and some kids don't," thinks Mr. Larry Lutte.

"You honestly sang that note right," mutters Mr. Michael Landon.

Fine Arts Develop Special Talents

"This is a picture; P-I-T-C-T-U-R-E," explains Mrs. Terry Rooks to her art class.

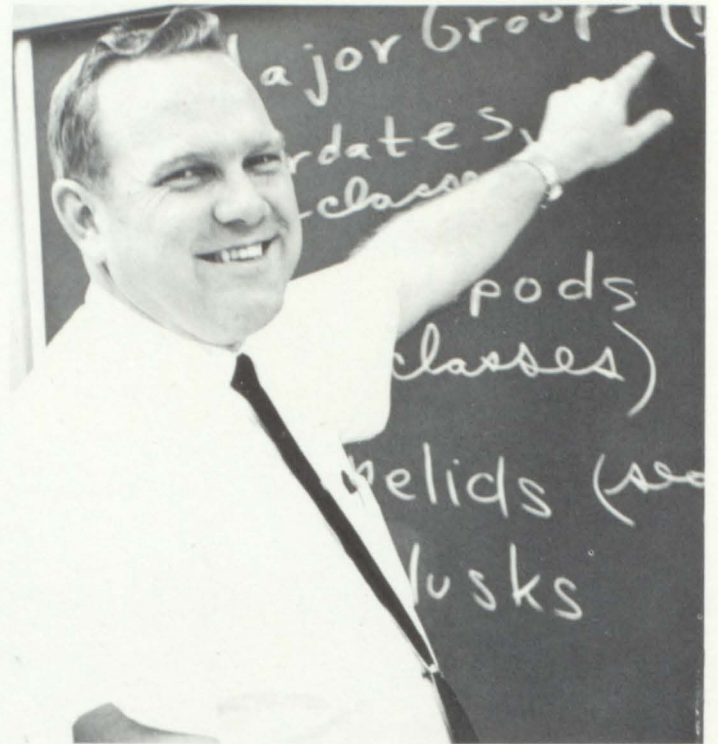

"You blinked I won," explains Mrs. Mary Knowles triumphantly.

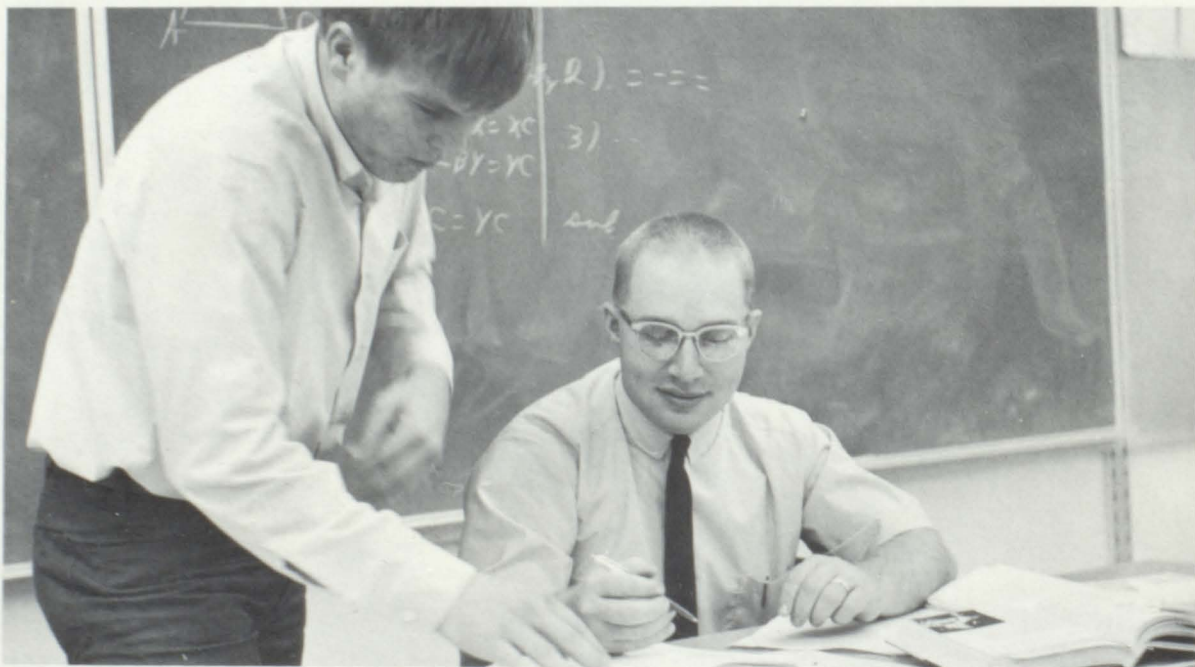

Math and Science Courses Develop Minds

"Want a taste?" inquires Mr. Edward Judd, biology teacher.

"You could understand it better if I wrote it in purple chalk," teases Mr. Richard Nelson.

"Ha, Ha, 3 x's in a row. I win," smirks Mr. Roy Rodgers.

"How about a quick game of 8-ball?" challenges Mr. Kenneth Russell.

"Do you mean to say that the commutative principle is a means of transportation?" laughs Mrs. Martha Bricker in one of her Algebra I classes.

"The two problems I'm going to assign shouldn't take more than six hrs. to finish," explains Mrs. Muriel Jared.

Mrs. Jared's Algebra II class takes time out to watch Mrs. Jared do a handstand.

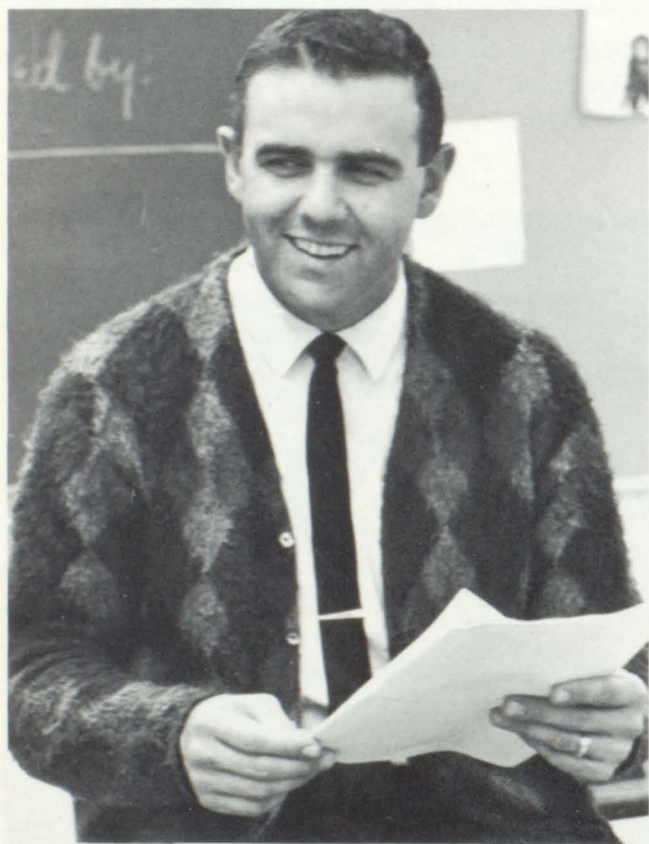

Special Science Offers College Preparation

"Is he ever going to stop lecturing?" wonders a class of American history students.

"Four brownie points for anyone who can answer this question," quizzes Mrs. Betty Gibson.

"It was Christopher Columbus who sailed the ocean in 1492, not George Washington," smiles Mr. Ray Cox.

"No-Freddie Smutz wasn't my grandfather," laughs Mr. Joe Leiber to his Constitution class.

Business Dept. Trains Students for Future Jobs

"Sure was fun taking it apart, now I wish I knew how to put it together," comments Mr. Ted Stephens, typing teacher.

"Wonder if that IBM typewriter could electrocute someone?" wonders Jim Corns as he looks out across his typing class.

Mrs. Lyle Middaugh, teacher of secretarial training, also sponsors FBLA.

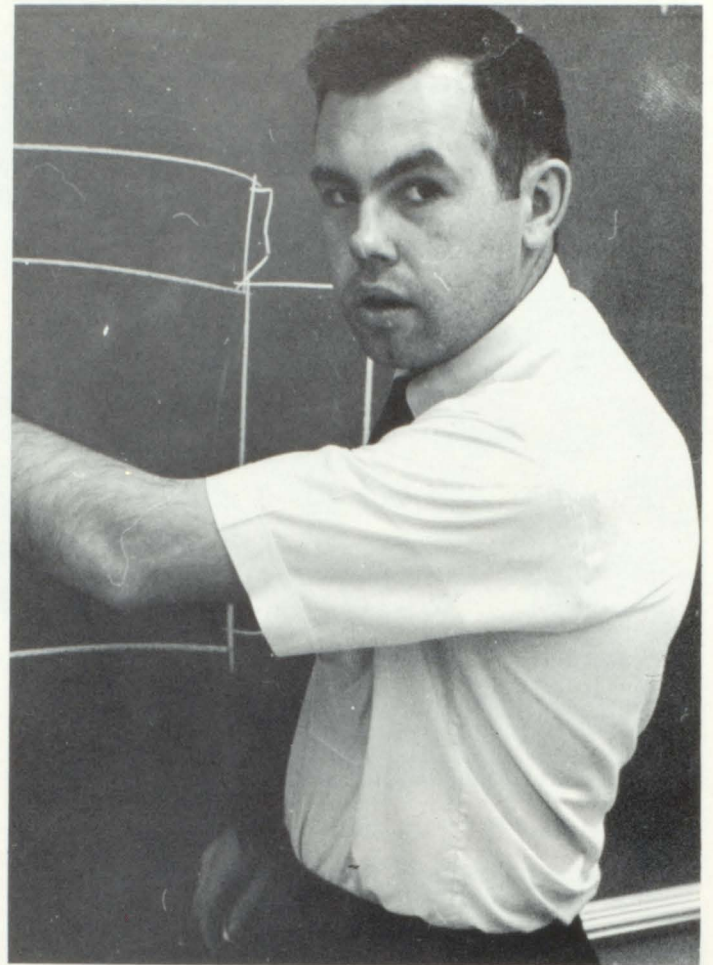

"Me a male secretary?" wonders a Typing I student.

The Craftsmen of the Future

"Who says Betty Crocker makes a better batter?" demonstrates Mrs. Jeanine Stephenson, home ec. teacher.

"Nobody seems to realize the effort it took to draw this," complains Mr. Leland Finley.

Mrs. Martha Littooy laughs when she discovers a student trying to read a pattern upside down.

"I've been in Home Ec. three years and still can't work this machine," contemplates Sharon Schrimsher.

"Let's see fellas, that carburator is..uh..missing!" hypothesizes Mr. William Vitt, to his auto mechanics class.

"I'll trade you my electric saw for this comic book," bargains Mr. Hervey Fox.

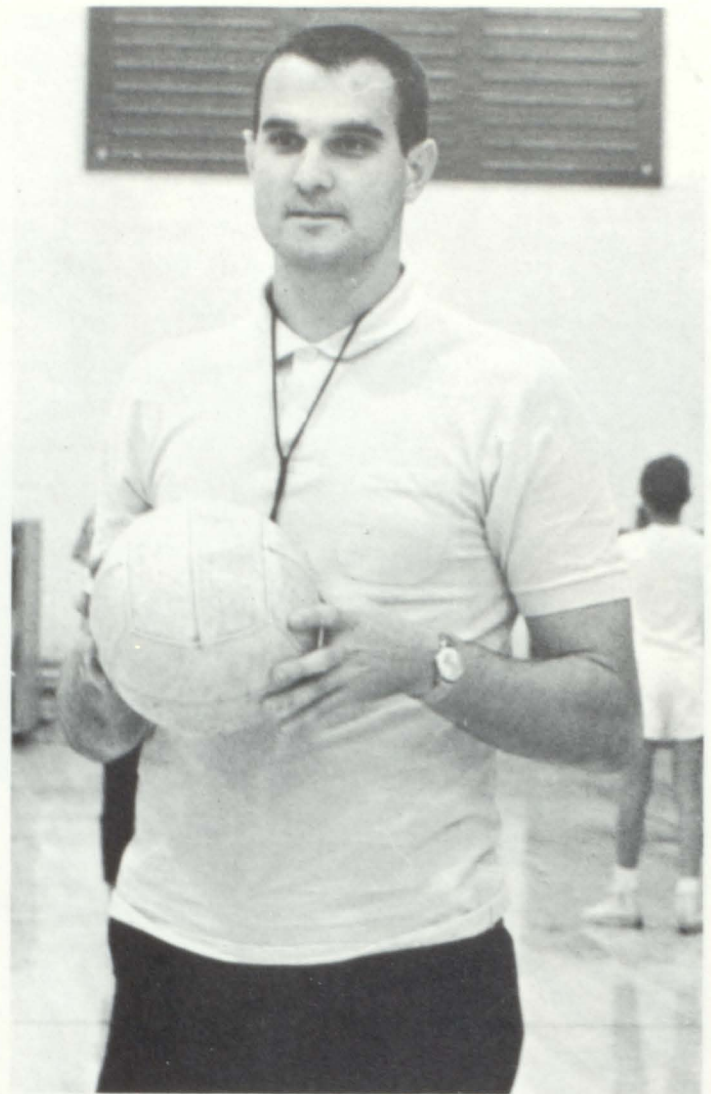

"I did not say rack'em up!" exclaims Mr. Richard Burns.

Gym Class Provides a Change of Pace in the Day

"I do so have dimples, see!" demonstrates Mrs. Freda Reynolds, to an unbelieving student.

"If you are standing 15 ft. to the left of the basket and if you are 6'5" tall, all you have to do is toss gently and you can't miss," instructs Mr. Jeff Simons.

"Who's wearing toenail polish?" questions the P.E. boys.

Office help, Evelyn Parks, Joann Lenahan, Darla Coon, Mary Pollock, and Claudia Gish.

"An apple a day keeps the teacher away," says Bert Chance, Dewayne Kerby, and George Bellem.

The Essential People Who Function "Behind the Scenes"

"Ya--You do look kinda sick," observes Mrs. Peggy Spillman.

Mrs. Beulah Brown, the new guidance counselor this year, extends a hand to anyone in need.

"Come with me to the guidance office, we will solve many problems together," scoffs Mr. Arden McLaughlin.

"I'm not either writing a love note, I'm writing my Christmas list to Santa Claus," giggles Mrs. Mary Ann Allen.

Guidance Gives Aid to Students

Library help, Reba Hilton, Mary Ann Baker, Georgette Betancourt, Bert Starkey, Jackie Peters, John Walters, Barbara Brown, Sammie Hurt.

Library Offers a Quiet Research Area

"Why Mrs. Carbery, what are you doing down there!" chuckles Mrs. Elsie Hughes.

"Let's see now, I'm sure I put my comic book some where in this file," searches Mrs. Betty Carbery.

FACES OF PARTICIPATION. . .

Participation in activities offers a source of growth and development. A person is identified with the activities in which he participates. His reasons for participating effect the kind of satisfaction he receives from participating.

At Bonner, participation in activities is a means of expressing enthusiasm beyond the classroom. It is also the avenue for honoring individuals whose activities excel. But mostly...
...activities are fun.

Homecoming Brings Work, Fun, and Competition

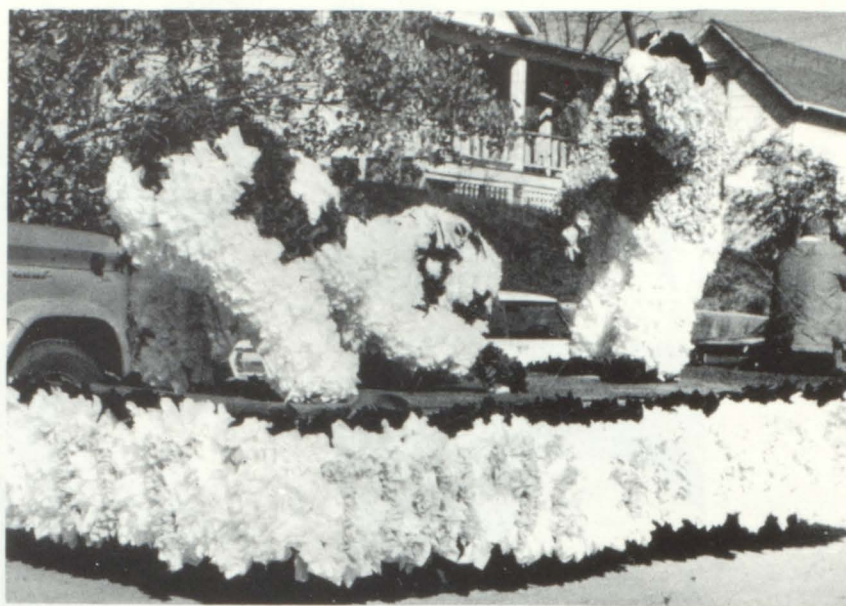

Homecoming brings the classes together in an intense effort to build a winning float. The nights spent in barns or garages building a float bring the class members together for the fun that goes with working toward a common goal.

Then comes the parade—an afternoon when the students proudly march through town displaying the results of their efforts.

Next comes the game—the fans eagerly awaiting the Braves, and supporting them to the last minute.

Half-time—the band performs with spirited routines. The excitement reaches a new pitch with the crowning of the Queen.

And at last—the Homecoming Dance. This is the first big dance of the school year where the happy faces, the beautiful dresses bring the fun of the two day celebration to its climax.

Sophomores take pride in their first place float.

Carol Jones, Senior Candidate, smiles anxiously to the crowd before the crowning.

Tradition still holds as seniors hitch a ride on the Senior Class float, after the parade.

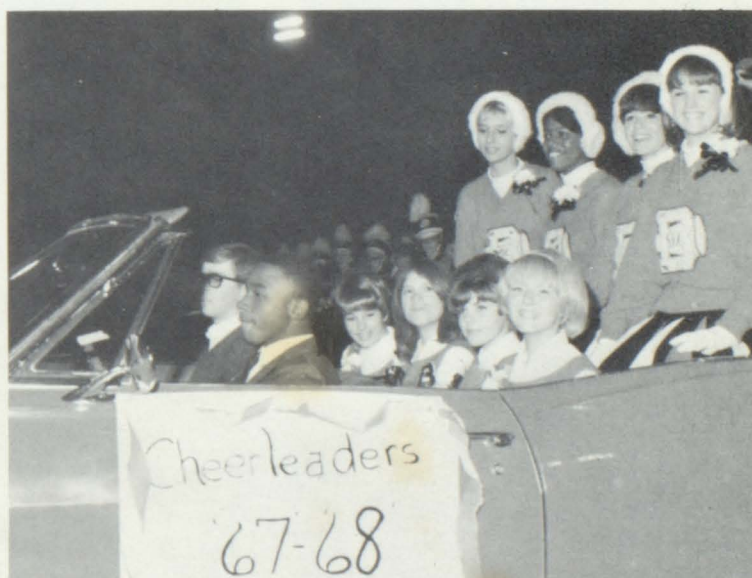

Homecoming Royalty: Carol Jones, Debbie Wasson, Dolores Schroeder, Patty Bricker, Debbie Freund, and Lynn Cooper.

"Who did you say is Homecoming Queen?" Mr. Mac teases.

"Look at that good looking boy, Kenny!" jests Jerri Ballew.

Cheerleaders are introduced during the half-time ceremonies.

The Day of Fun and Laughs: Dress Down Day

"Now I ask you, shouldn't something be done about the dress code?"

"I'm really sorry, Kirk, but my mother won't let me date until I'm 40."

"Come now, flattery will get you nowhere!"

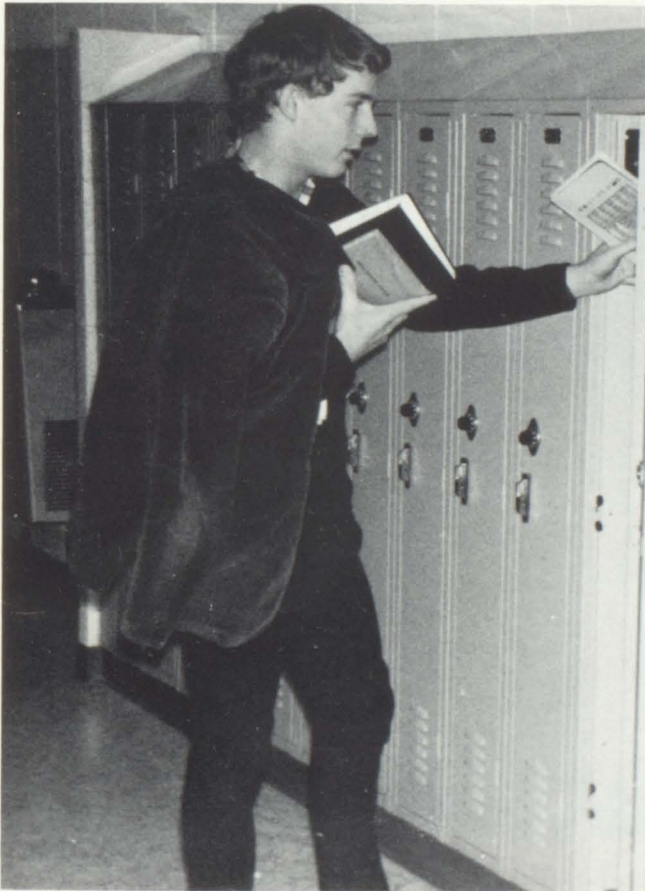

Don talks over a few important matters with Mr. White before class.

Second Australian Student to Bonner

"Do they have these in Australia?" asks Mr. McLaughlin.

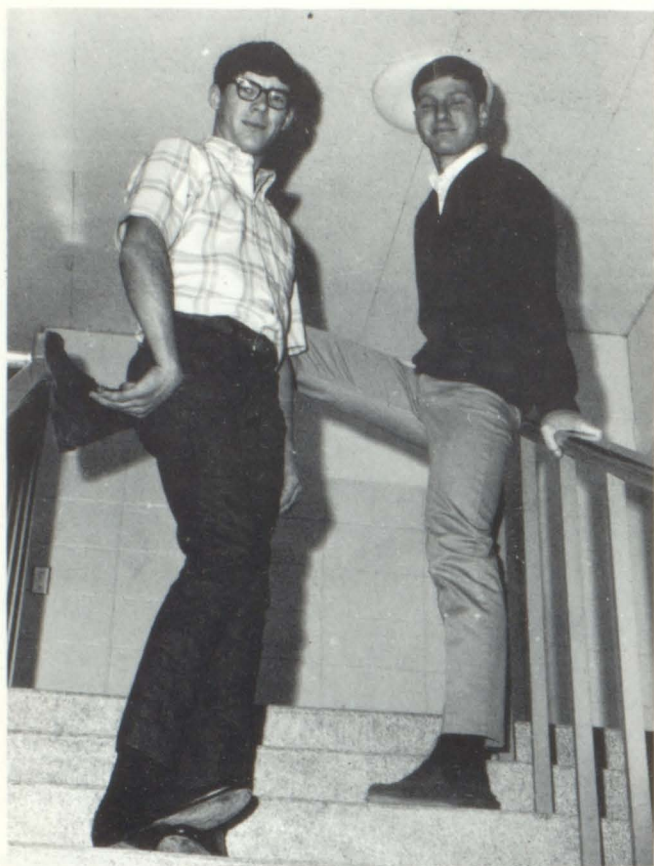

Don is ready to leave school after a long day.

Donald Whiting, foreign exchange student from Mildura, Victoria, Australia, became interested in the exchange program through an advertisement in a local newspaper in Australia. To qualify, he had to be in the top third of his class. Other qualifications were to be between the ages of 15 and 19, and have several references.

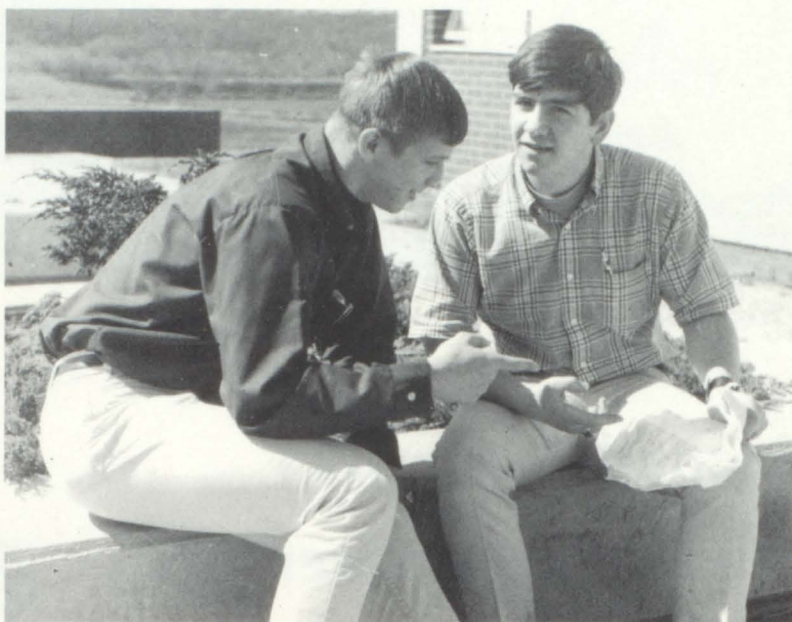

When asked about his first impression of America, he replied that he "noticed the accents and that there were bigger cars here."

As part of the exchange program, Don will live with local families during the school year.

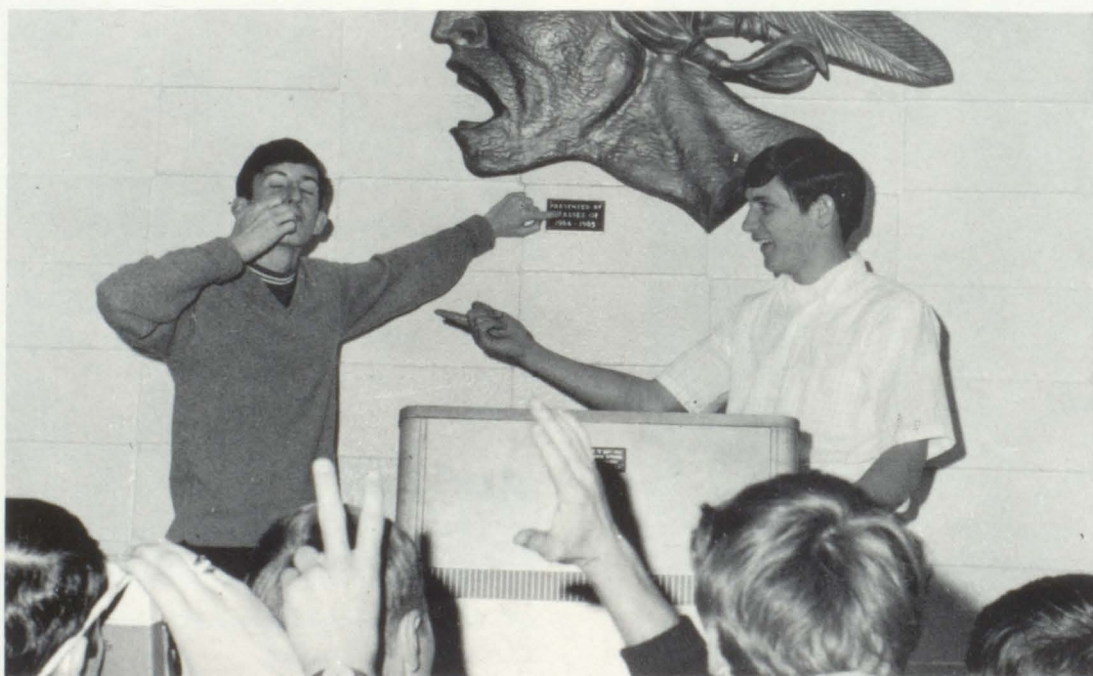

Injun Joe Candidates Campaign for Their Election

Lloyd Burcham, manager, teaches Chuck Bowers how to walk before his public.

Jack Mellott, Injun Joe candidate, discusses big plans with his manager, John Becker.

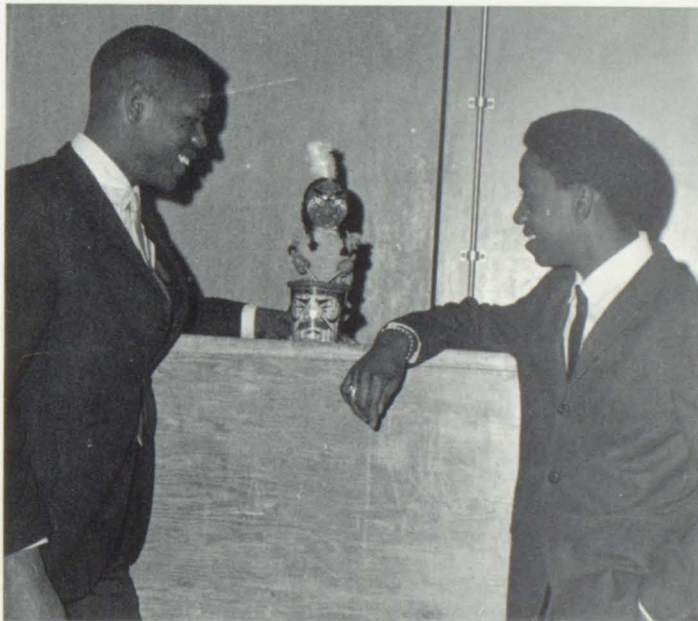

The crowd raves as their candidate, Gregg Ottinger, throws a kiss. Gregg's manager is Tom Lilley.

Howard Littlejohn, candidate, and manager, Michael McNealy, relax after a rousing campaign rally.

"I'll meet you at Mitz' in half an hour."

"You're kidding! This looks more like a peacock than an Injun Joe doll," exclaims Steve Pembleton, 1968 Injun Joe.

Steve Pembleton returns to the scene of the Injun Joe Dance to "haunt" his contenders for the title.

Honor Students Receive Recognition for Achievements

Every year students look forward to the announcement of the new members of National Honor Society.

Twenty-two students have been chosen for the honor this year. The students were selected by the teachers on the basis of school service, character, and leadership.

A new honor has been initiated this year. Students which are in the upper 10% of the class and obtain a grade average of 3.5 or higher qualify for the honor.

National Honor Society members are (sitting): Jenny Pettis, Dan Clark, Howard Littlejohn, Michael McNealy. 1st row: Nancy Falk, Cathy Pavicich, Jean Ann Swafford, Kathy Young, Sharon

New Honor is Initiated This Year

FACES OF COMPETITION. . .

Competition is the catalyst in our society. We compete for jobs, grades, affection. Competition is an incentive...a reason for excelling. Competition is sports.

As BHS competes in sports, the benefits of that competition are many and varied. They can be seen in a winning quarterback, a hoarse cheerleader, a proud parent. The success of our sports program can not be measured by wins and losses, but by the growth and insight gained through healthy competition and by the lessons in loyalty instilled in our student body.

Freshman football—the training period when boys play preparatory to becoming Varsity football heroes, was a real standout this year. With boys like Ward, Waters, McGraw, Wright, Oliver, McConico, Mills, Glendening, Waggoner and many others, Mr. Lieber and Mr. Rodgers had their hands full. Their eagerness to play, their speed of learning and their physical abilities gave them a season of 8 wins and 1 loss and a real excitement about the future of football at Bonner.

Their fans were eagerly watching the football stars of the future perform excellent football.

The freshman basketballers were: 1st row: M. Mitchell, M. Allen, C. Ward, Coach Joe Lieber. 2nd row: C. Millsap, D. Drennon, O. Paxton, M. McGraw. Top row: J. Mills, R. Waters, D. Wright, L. McDowell.

Freshman basketball like freshman football was a serious thing. The boys (12 in all) worked hard, responded well to coaching and came up with 7 wins and 5 losses. The prospects for the future look good when these 12 men work out in the gym and show their speed and skill. Everyone will be waiting and watching them as they move into the sophomore group and then under Coach Simons for a pennant.

The starting five freshmen were C. Ward, D. Wright, J. Mills, R. Waters, P. McGraw.

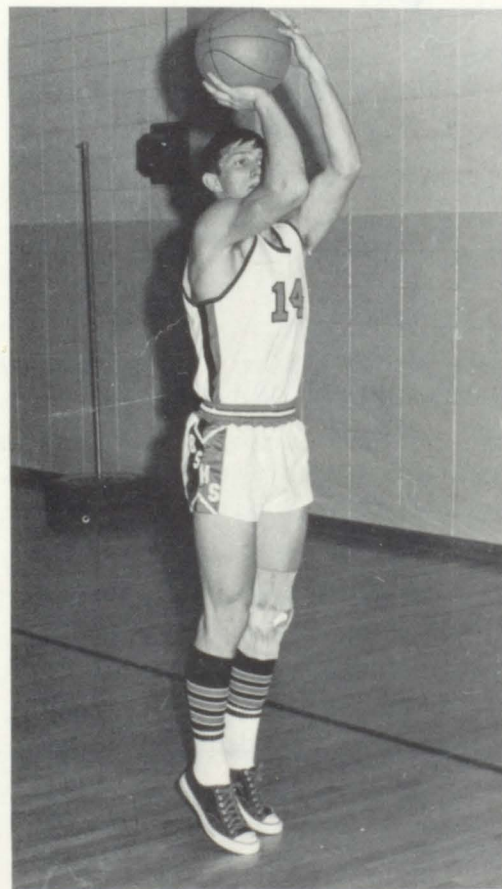

S. Heffley, J. Mellot, W. Botherson, C. Bowers, H. Simpson, were the starting five varsity players with the coach Jeff Simons.

Under the expert coaching of Jeff Simons, Bonner High's Varsity Basketball team provided fans with many thrilling games and a 2nd berth in the Eastern Kansas League this year. Third in Regionals and with top scorer in the League, Jack Mellott, the basketball team was the reason for many nights of full-house and standing-room-only in the gym. Two of the high scorers of the starting five will return next year to bring to Bonner the EKL title.

Bonner Braves Go Undeclared

The 1967-68 wrestling Squad had a successful and exciting season. From their first win against Paola to the regionals, they were a non-stop squad with a go-go student body behind them. Capturing first place in the EKL wasn't enough! Up they went to first in District; up, up, and away to first in Regionals, and four Braves found their way to State to bring back a second and a fourth.

Virgil DeFries, Martin Johnson, Guy Tiner, and Lloyd Ford went to State and it was Lloyd Ford who brought back the second and Guy Tiner who brought back the fourth.

The lettermen this year were: 1st row: L. Cooper, V. DeFries, L. Ford, R. Slickman, J. Dalsing, K. Walton. 2nd row: V. Goodin, D. Gibson, B. Jaynes, G. Tiner, D. Nelson, M. Johnson. 3rd row: F. Linan, K. Miller, D. Falk, W. Dechman, A. Morton, R. White. 4th row: R. Hestand, S. McConico.

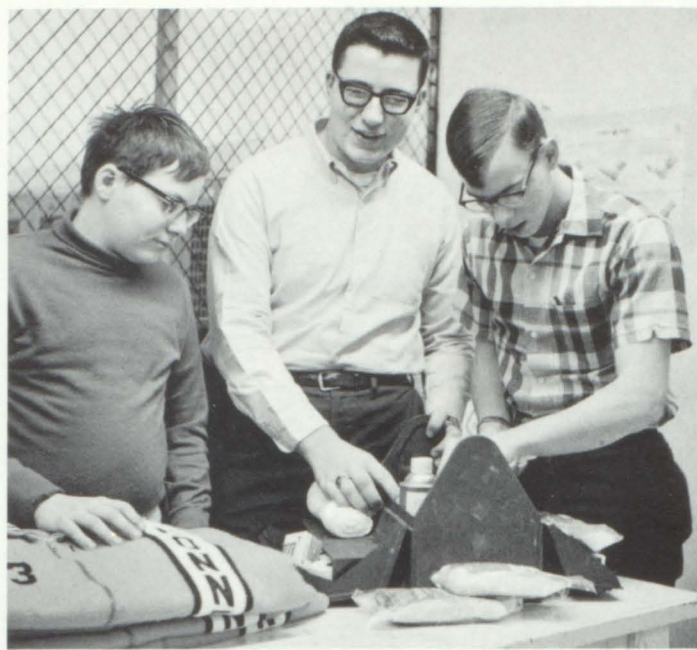

Lloyd Ford pins while on his way to getting second in State.

Guy Tiner does something he got quite used to—(WINNING). He was able to get fourth at State.

The EKL Championship Team was composed of: L. Cooper, V. DeFries, L. Ford, R. Slickelman, A. Morton, K. Miller, M. Johnson, D. Nelson, G. Tiner, B. Jaynes, L. McConico, V. Goodin.

The managers worked hard trying to keep the wrestlers in shape to wrestle.

FACES OF ASSOCIATION. . .

Association is a combination of efforts, made toward a common goal. It is a bond among those who share a belief, an interest, a goal. It is one person's enthusiasm...fortified, and then multiplied a thousand times. It is involvement.

We associate ourselves, and then serve the the association. Leaders emerge, goals are set, and we become involved. We not only serve our own interests, but we serve the school, the community, and mankind.

"I don't use Ban deoderant and I'm still president of Student Council.

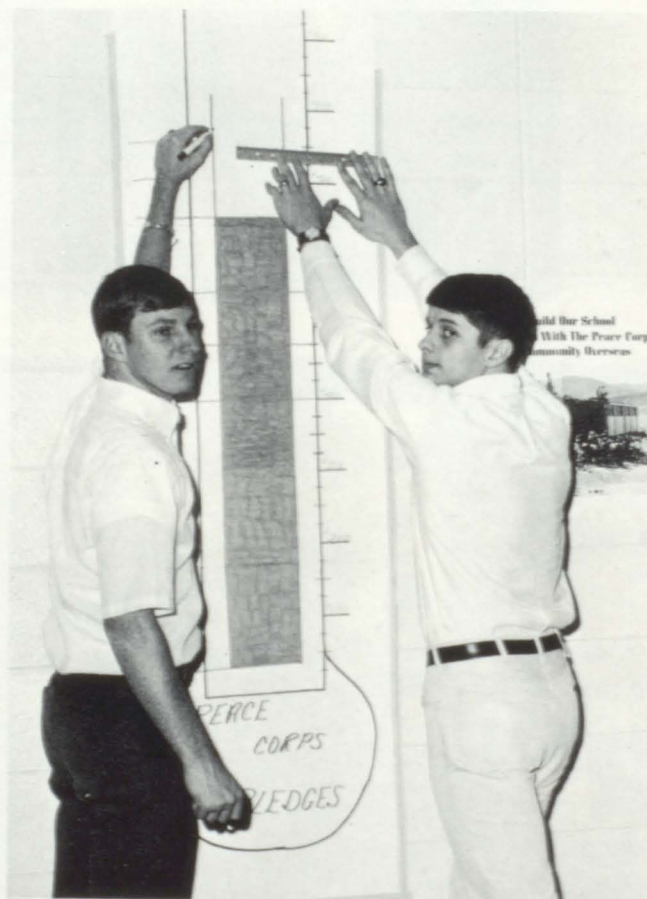

Stu-Co Sponsors Foreign School

This year Stu-Co, under the leadership of sponsor, Mr. Joe Leiber and President John Miesse, has introduced many changes. Fruit machines were restored to the cafeteria, and a student suggestion box was installed.

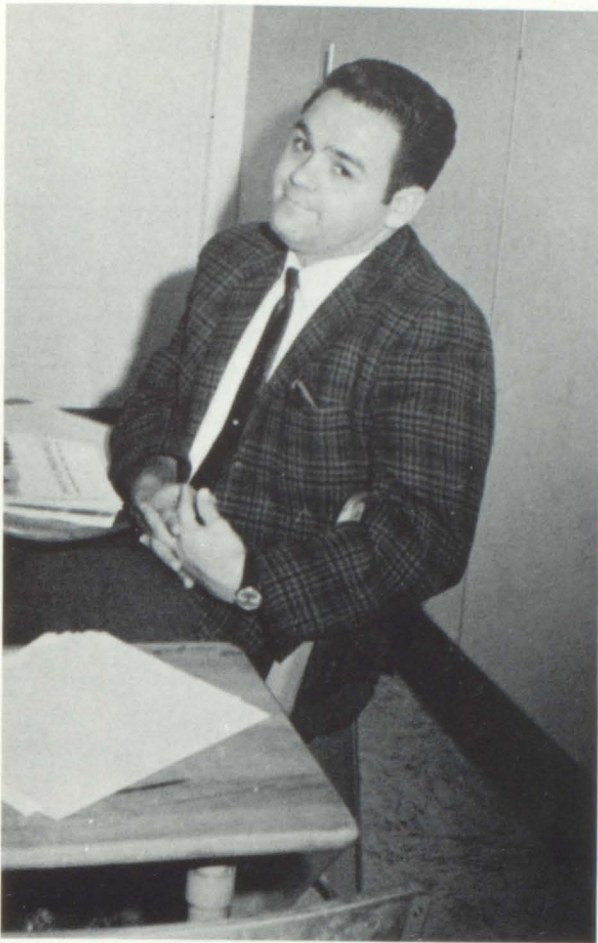

Stu-Co's major project was sponsoring a foreign school abroad. It is to be built with funds contributed by Bonner organizations and named after Bonner Springs, Kansas.

"This treasurer's work is hard stuff! In the safe, out the safe..."

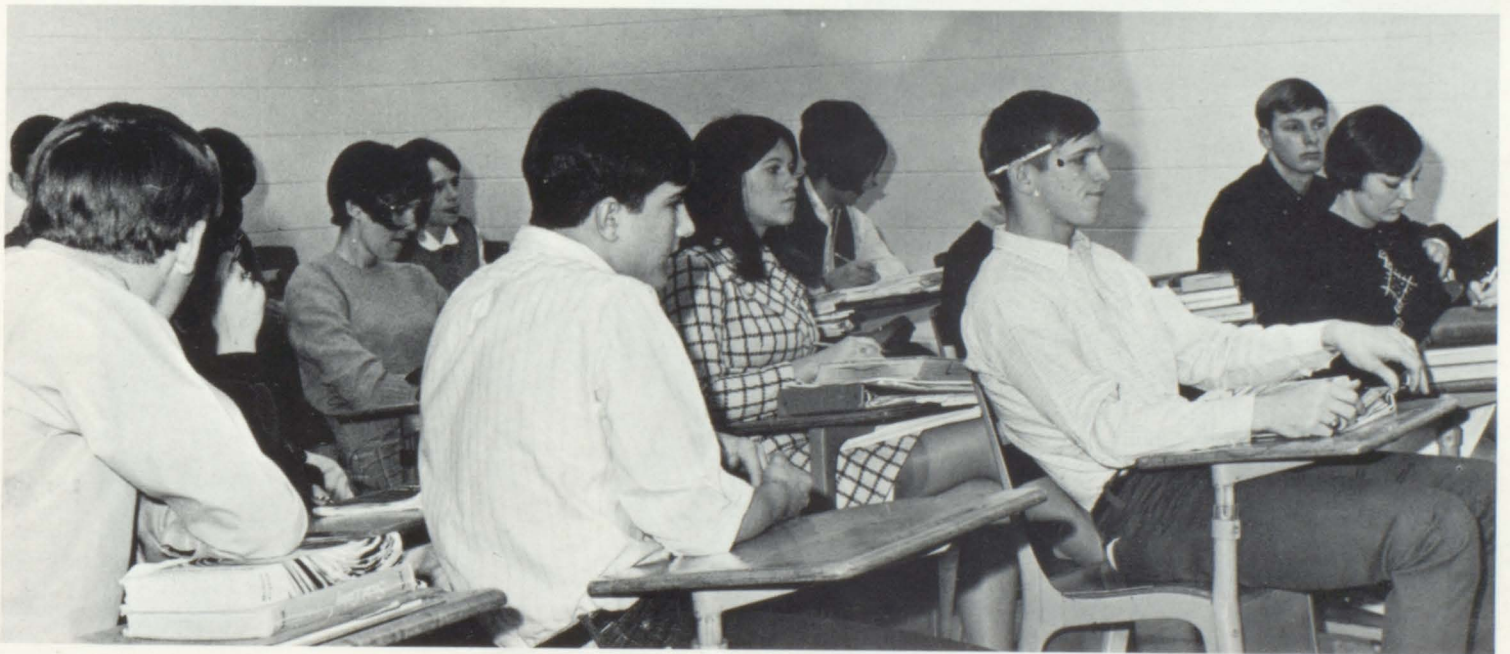

"All right, don't look at the camera! See if we care."

"You gotta be kidding," smirks Mr. Lieber, while observing a Stu-Co suggestion.

"I know they're read aloud...that's the whole idea."

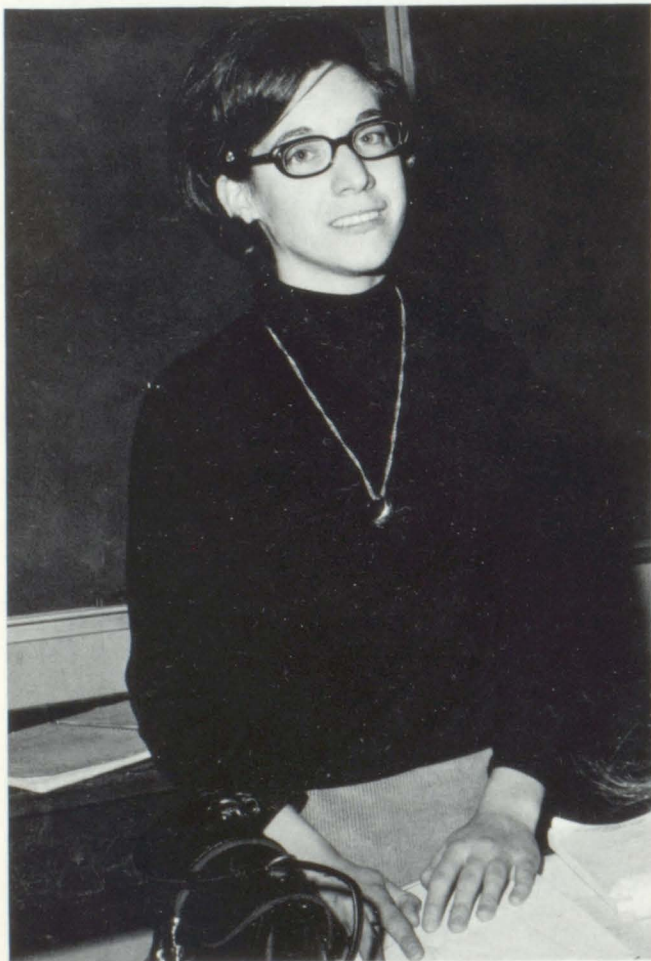

Student Council meetings are getting more exciting every week!!

Kayettes Believe "Freedom isn't Free."

"All right, girls! One more time! And from the top! Use a little more oomph this time."

"I dreamed I headed a Kayette meeting in my Maiden-form...dentures."

Kayettes, inspired by their motto—"Freedom isn't free"—have worked this year to earn their freedom. They started off by painting bleachers at Lion's park. Other activities included the annual Holly Drive for Cerebral Palsy, having booths in the French Carnival, sacking candy for the Jaycees.

A highlight on the Kayette calendar was a visit from Miss Wanda Kay Vinson, state director of Kayettes. She spoke to the membership and the executive board. Her topic was "Don't stand still."

"Grow up, Darla!"

Kayette Board members meet to talk with Miss Vinson, state Kayette director.

"Sacking candy can be fun!"

Kayettes take time out to listen attentively to Kayette director.

"Being Kayette sponsor keeps me on my feet alot," smiles Mrs. Bricker.

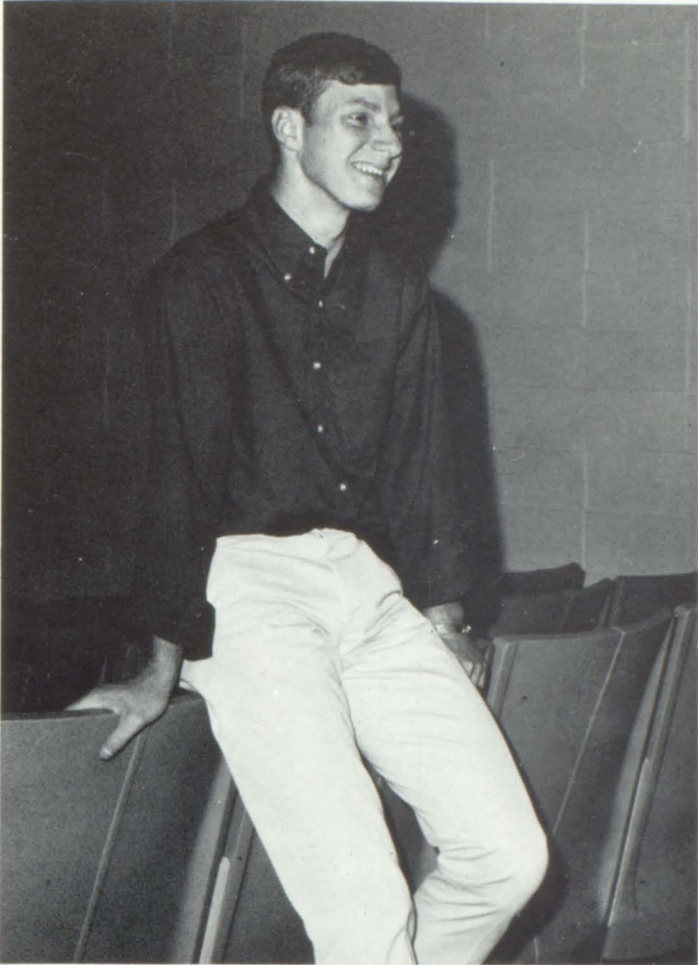

"Two plus three equals five," explains Miss Vinson.

"Kayette Board meetings aren't as much fun as they look!"

Kays Build Character Thru Service

Chuck Bowers, Kays president, smiles after the decision was made to have a hosiery drive.

Kays, the male counterpart of Kayettes, is in its fourth year and going strong. With Chuck Bowers as President, and Mr. Rodgers, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Finley as sponsors, the Kays have grown to a strong service group and have successfully bid to host the Kay-Kayette Conference for the state at Bonner in the fall of 1968.

Mr. Rodgers relaxes while trying to digest his delicious lunch.

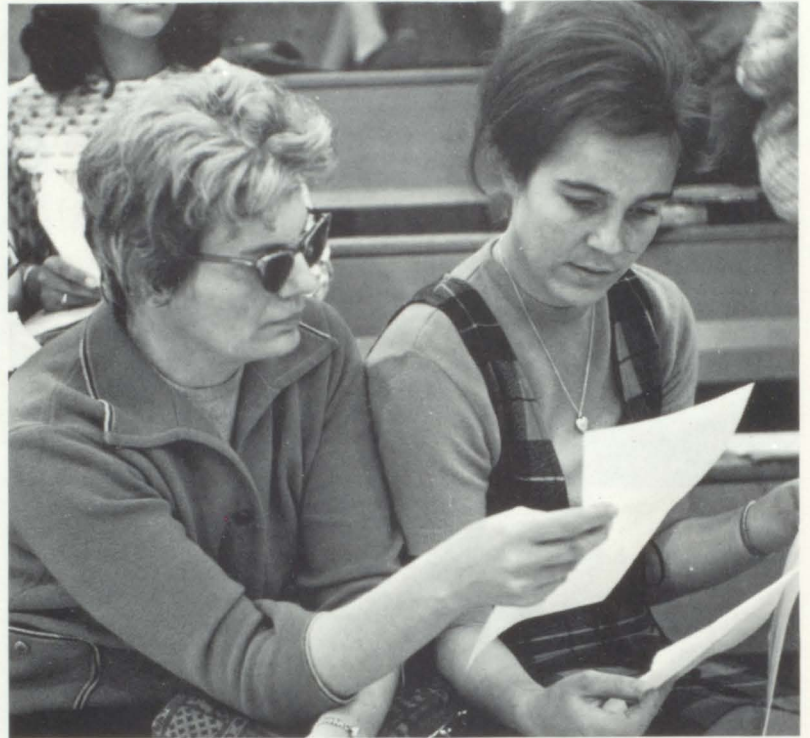

Kays meet to discuss the plans for their spring house cleaning.

Norma Hillard, President; Barbara Pinkepank, Vice Pres; Jonetta Stransky, Treasurer; Debbie Arensman, Secretary.

Spirited Faces of the Loyal Pep Club

What is Pep Club?? It is the school spirit banded together by loyalty and enthusiasm. Who is Pep Club? For the first time in our history, Pep Club is the combination of boy and girl students who want to be together and cheer together. Where is Pep Club? Pep Club is everywhere: it is in the bleachers yelling its lungs out, it is in the halls stimulating school spirit, it is in the hearts of all the members.

Pep Club is Loyalty

Bonners' Best - - - B-Club

B-Club is Honor Athletes

B-Club is a select membership of boys who have achieved in the sports program. Their achievement, whether in football, basketball, wrestling, track, golf, cross-country, or "management," entitles them to wear a jacket and letter. B-Club members, or lettermen, are proud of their identity, and the school is proud of their collective achievement.

Jerry Mellott, president, discusses his many problems with Mr. Simons.

Officers: Kenny Miller, Wade Brotherson, Jerry Mellott, Virgil DeFries.

B-Club experiences another vivacious meeting.

Thespians Enjoy Year of Activity

To bring drama to the attention of the student body, the Thespians meet and plan ways to involve us in the play productions.

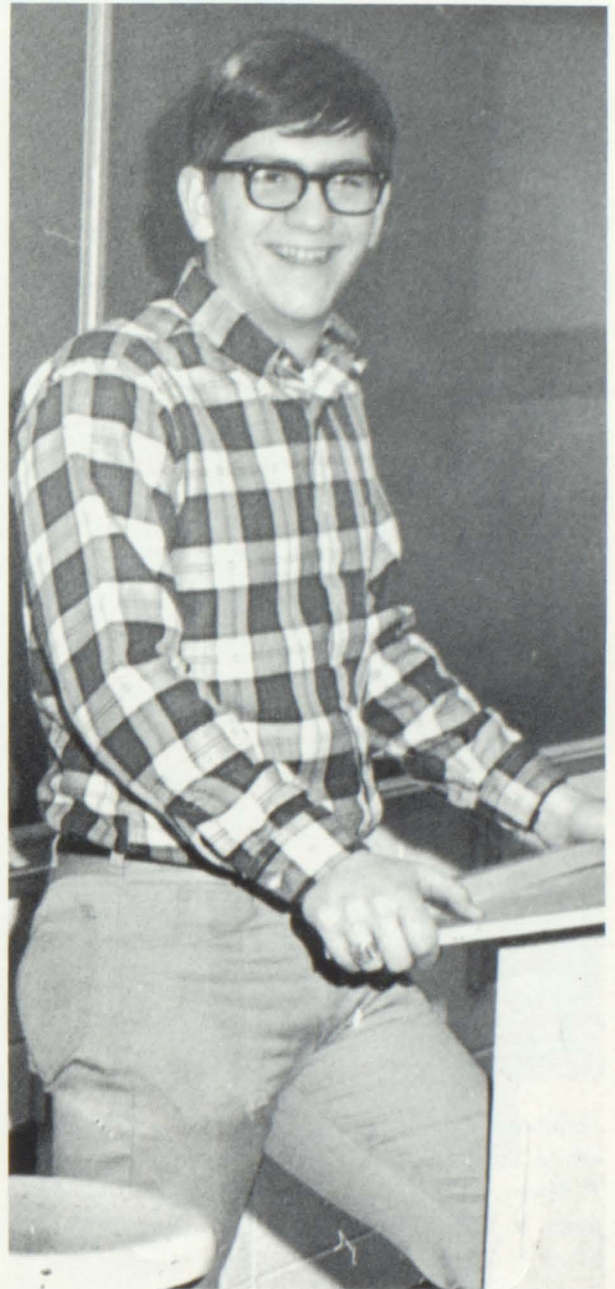

Thespians members and sponsor display jubilation and trophies from Leavenworth speech festival.

Thespian officers John Becker, president; Michael McNealy, treasurer; Jenny Pettis, vice-president; Mimi Carbery, point director, take time out from a game of "Red Rover" to pose for a picture.

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall, who is the most beautiful of them all?" coos Janice Castling.

Muncie orator stuns Bonner.

Mr. Lutte demonstrates the watusi while his band plays.

Musician and Non-Musicians Make up a Band

Teresa Allen, LaVera White, banner carriers, and Barbara Honeywell, flag carrier, accent the marching band.

Mike McNealy proudly leads the band onto the football field.

Pep Band helps arouse school spirit by playing at games and pep assemblies.

Vickie Wall, Reta Pierce, Carol Jones the head majorette, and Mary Ann Eikermann work on a routine for the half time at football games.

Nancy Falk and Barbara Pinkepank, the band flag twirlers, add their flag routines to halftimes.

"Popcorn! Peanuts! Cokes!"

JCL Takes State for Third Year

The Junior Classical League, made up of members of Latin classes, is one of Bonner High School's proudest clubs. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Doris Stith, and with her inspiration, this group went to Hays, Kansas in February to participate in the Junior Classical League Convention. They brought back a trophy which they retired after sweeping the convention with numerous wins in both the academic and olympic contest.

"Friends, Teachers, and Enemies, lend me your ears."

"All together now! Sing along with Stith."

"Oh Randy! That tickles!"

"Ally, Ally outs in free. . ."

"Ugh! Pass it, don't ram it!"

"Last one in is a Pollock!"

"Why can't we have real champagne at the French Carnival?"

French Club Sponsors "La Cave Noire"

"Voici les jeunes filles et les garçons fran-caises!" The French Club gives French students the opportunity to join together and converse in French...to participate with a French flavor.
The French Carnival, their big event of the year, is an event that the entire community looks forward to. This year, two students had the opportunity to spend six weeks in France during summer, and contributed much to the French Club.

French Club officers are Jana Reardon, vice-president; Arthur Craig, representative; Mary Honeywell, president; Wendy Lange, treasurer; Jan Goeking, secretary.

"That's not a tack, it's a little man trying to jump off the tower," explains Mrs. Cockburn, sponsor of French Club.

Homemakers Learn Useful Skills

The domestic side of living is given importance and fun in F.H.A. The homemaking skills are taught and performed in laboratories. Dress designing, dressmaking, good grooming, child care, budgeting, meal planning, and food preparation are among the many skills taught.

Helping girls to learn to serve family and community is another of the goals of F.H.A. This year's F.H.A. and home economics students have a long list of projects which they performed this year. They include making doll dresses for Head Start, redecorating the teachers lounge, making costumes for "Carnival," and collecting food for needy families.

F.H.A. Members relax while listening to their president, Kathy Young.

New Class.New Learnings

My manicurist always uses palmolive dish soap.

"Hey, Mr. Bell your pants are almost through being pressed."

Gail Hollenbeck laughs as Edith Duvall and Nancy Falk compare to see which pictures are the funniest.

Graphic Arts, introduced to the high school curriculum this year, has added a new dimension to the industrial arts and publications departments. Students now learn all of the intricacies of printing and publishing. The class produces all of the programs for athletic functions, and publishes the Pow Wow. It develops, enlarges, and prints the necessary photographs for both publications. Learning these new skills, the students become more proficient in a craft which they may use later in life, for enjoyment or as a career.

Greg Dunston points out to Larry Tate and Niels Mortensen that this is a camera.

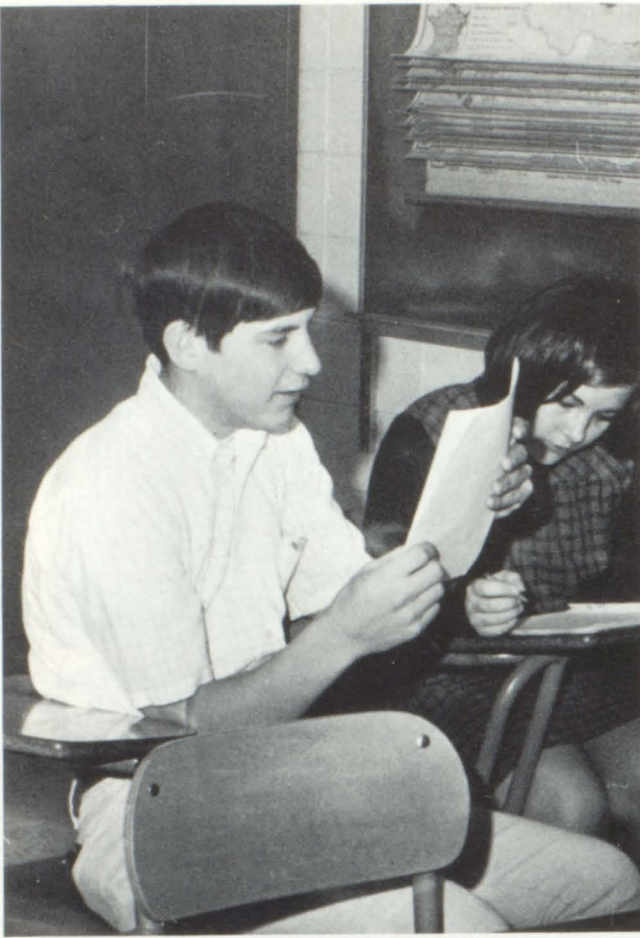

Mr. Bell can even make negatives with his eyes closed.

Monty Drennon, Lloyd Burcham, Greg Dunston, Niels Mortensen and Larry Tate make minor adjustments on cameras.

Staff Reports News

The Pow Wow staff, a group of students who enjoy writing and layout activities, write the school newspaper twice a month. Their tasks include finding the news, writing it up and laying out the pages for publishing by the Graphic Arts class. The deadlines are frequent, the schedule is never definite, the stories, pictures and layouts have to please everyone. This is a large order, but it is more often fulfilled than not. Bonner Springs High School is one of the few high schools in the state in which the student newspaper is entirely student produced—from getting the news, to the running of the press.

"Go to where? . . . Oh! . . . school!"

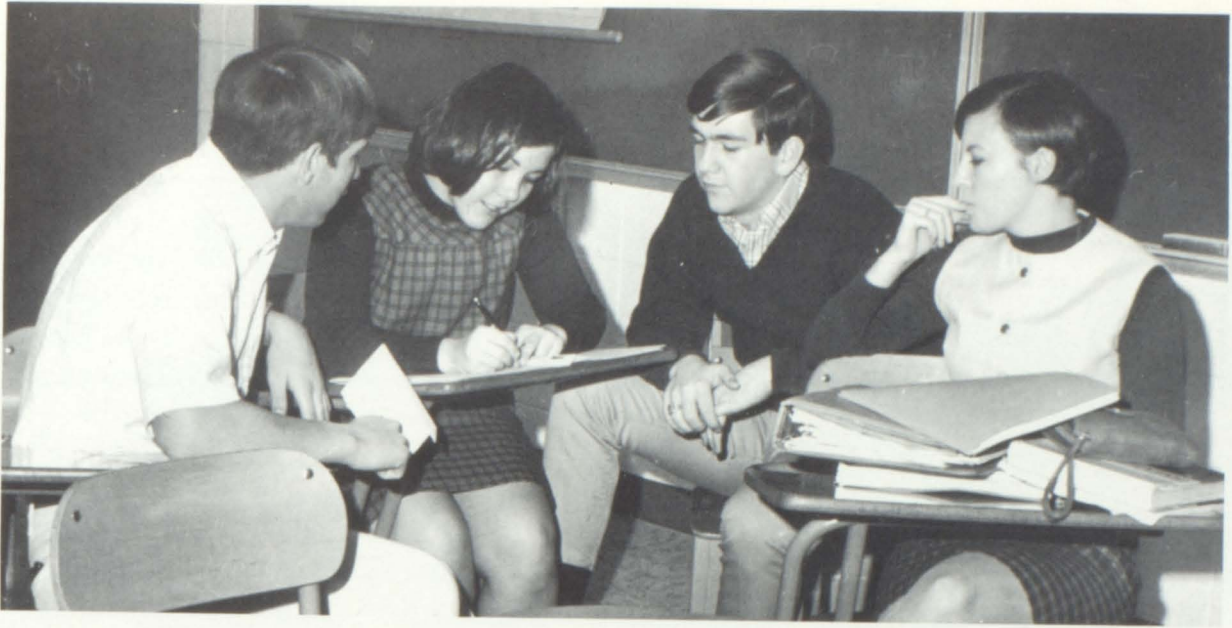

"Tell him once in the morning and his breath will feel fresher for hours!"

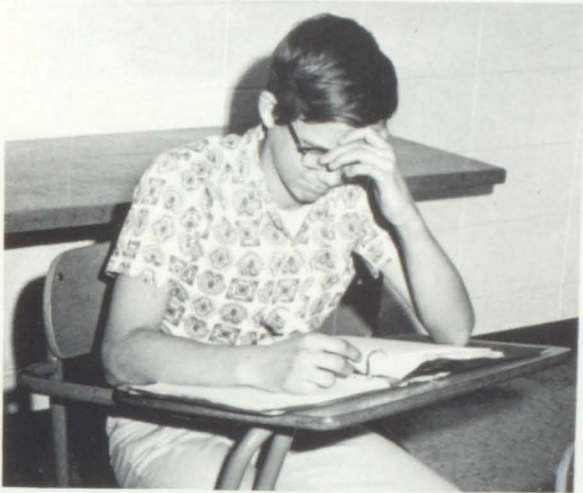

"Oh, this darn typewriter! The Y is broken and it's always skipping periods!"

"Elementary my dears! It would help if I had a pencil!"

"Bonner—B-o-n-n-e-r"

"Stan-the-Man"

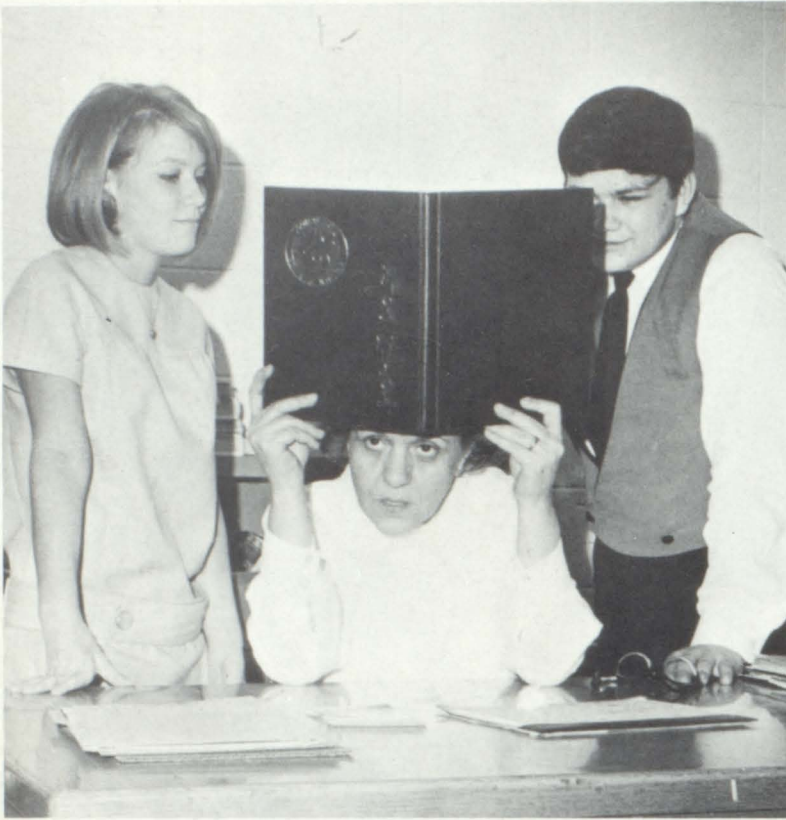

"And every time you press on one, it shows up on the paper."

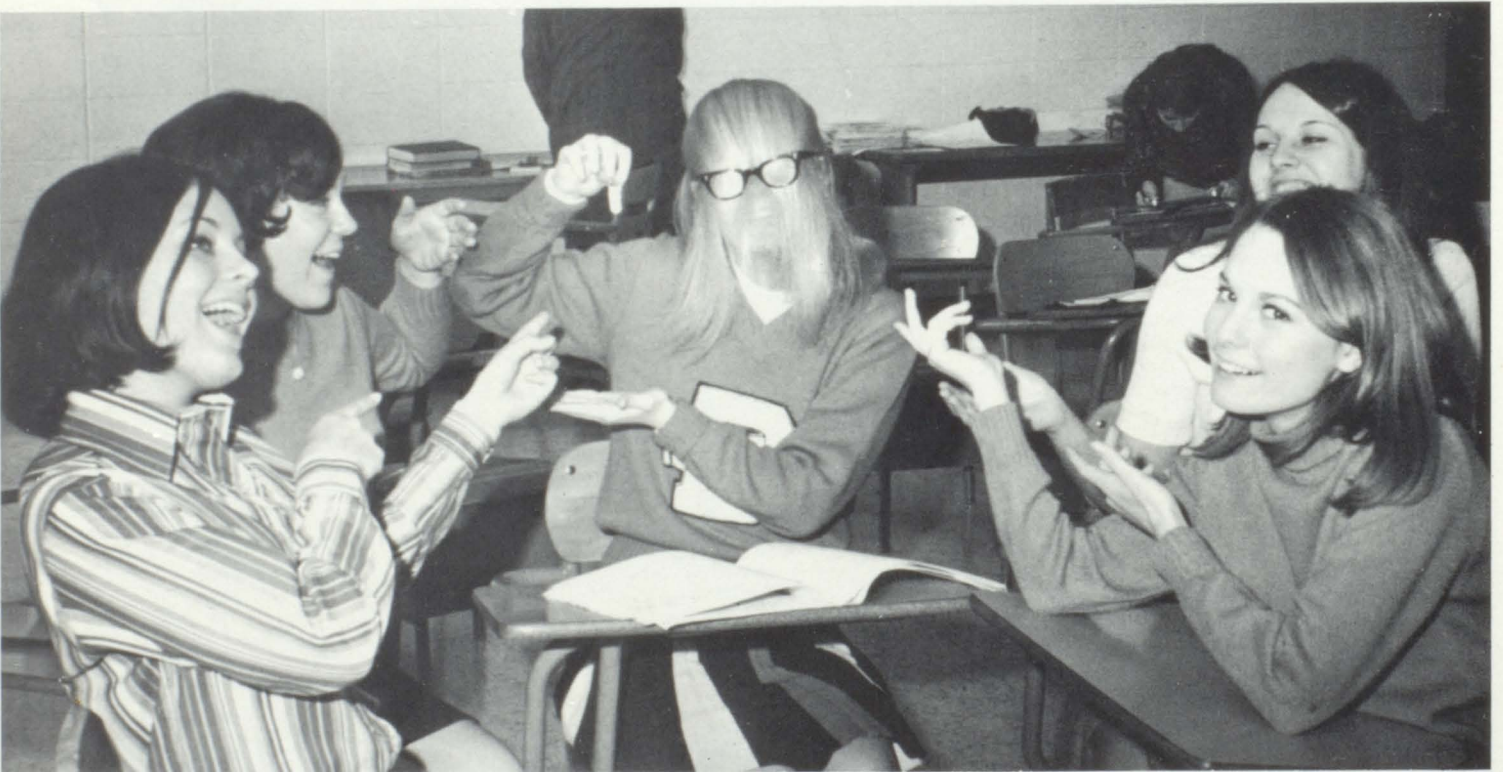

"Da-da-dum-de-la-de-da—and that's how you should run the Pow Wow!" advises Mary Ann Baker to the indignant staff.

Student Staff Creates Memories

The Totem Pole, the high school yearbook, is a permanent record of the student body and its activities. To be a permanent record is a responsibility—serious, yet fun—expensive, yet worth the expense. With these things in mind, a group of interested students go about the task of collecting in photographs and in writing, faces and activities which will bring back memories and stimulate smiles a few years hence. With a minimum of supervision and instruction and a maximum of school spirit, the Totem Pole staff tries to give the student body a book of memories pleasant to look at now and nostalgic to view five years from now.

"O.K. You kids quit throwing those rubber cement balls," demands Mrs. Wind, the yearbook advisor.

"See what can happen to a girl when she does not take care of herself," laughs some of the staff.

Sharon Powell (editor) knights her jesters.

"I've been framed," exclaims Lynn Ring.

"You would think I was a drafting student."

"Three heads are better than one."

"Did you say that or was it the typewriter?"

FACES OF THE INDIVIDUAL. . . .

Individuality is the characteristic of a person that indicates originality, non-conformity, diversity. It is the inner quality of one-ness that makes each person special in his own way. Each individual seeks his own goal. And when the individual's goals are fulfilled, the mass is fulfilled.

We believe that the BHS Individual seeks a better-than-average goal, and has a better-than-average chance to pursue and fulfill it.

Frosh Hope to Achieve...

Leading the way for higher goals are freshmen officers Randy Hestand, president; Mary Ann Eikerman, vice-president; Joyce Swafford, secretary; Beverly Brown, treasurer.

Acknowledgments

This book is the product of many headaches, the sweat of many brows, the nightmare of many nights. But finally, we hope it will be the smile on many faces.

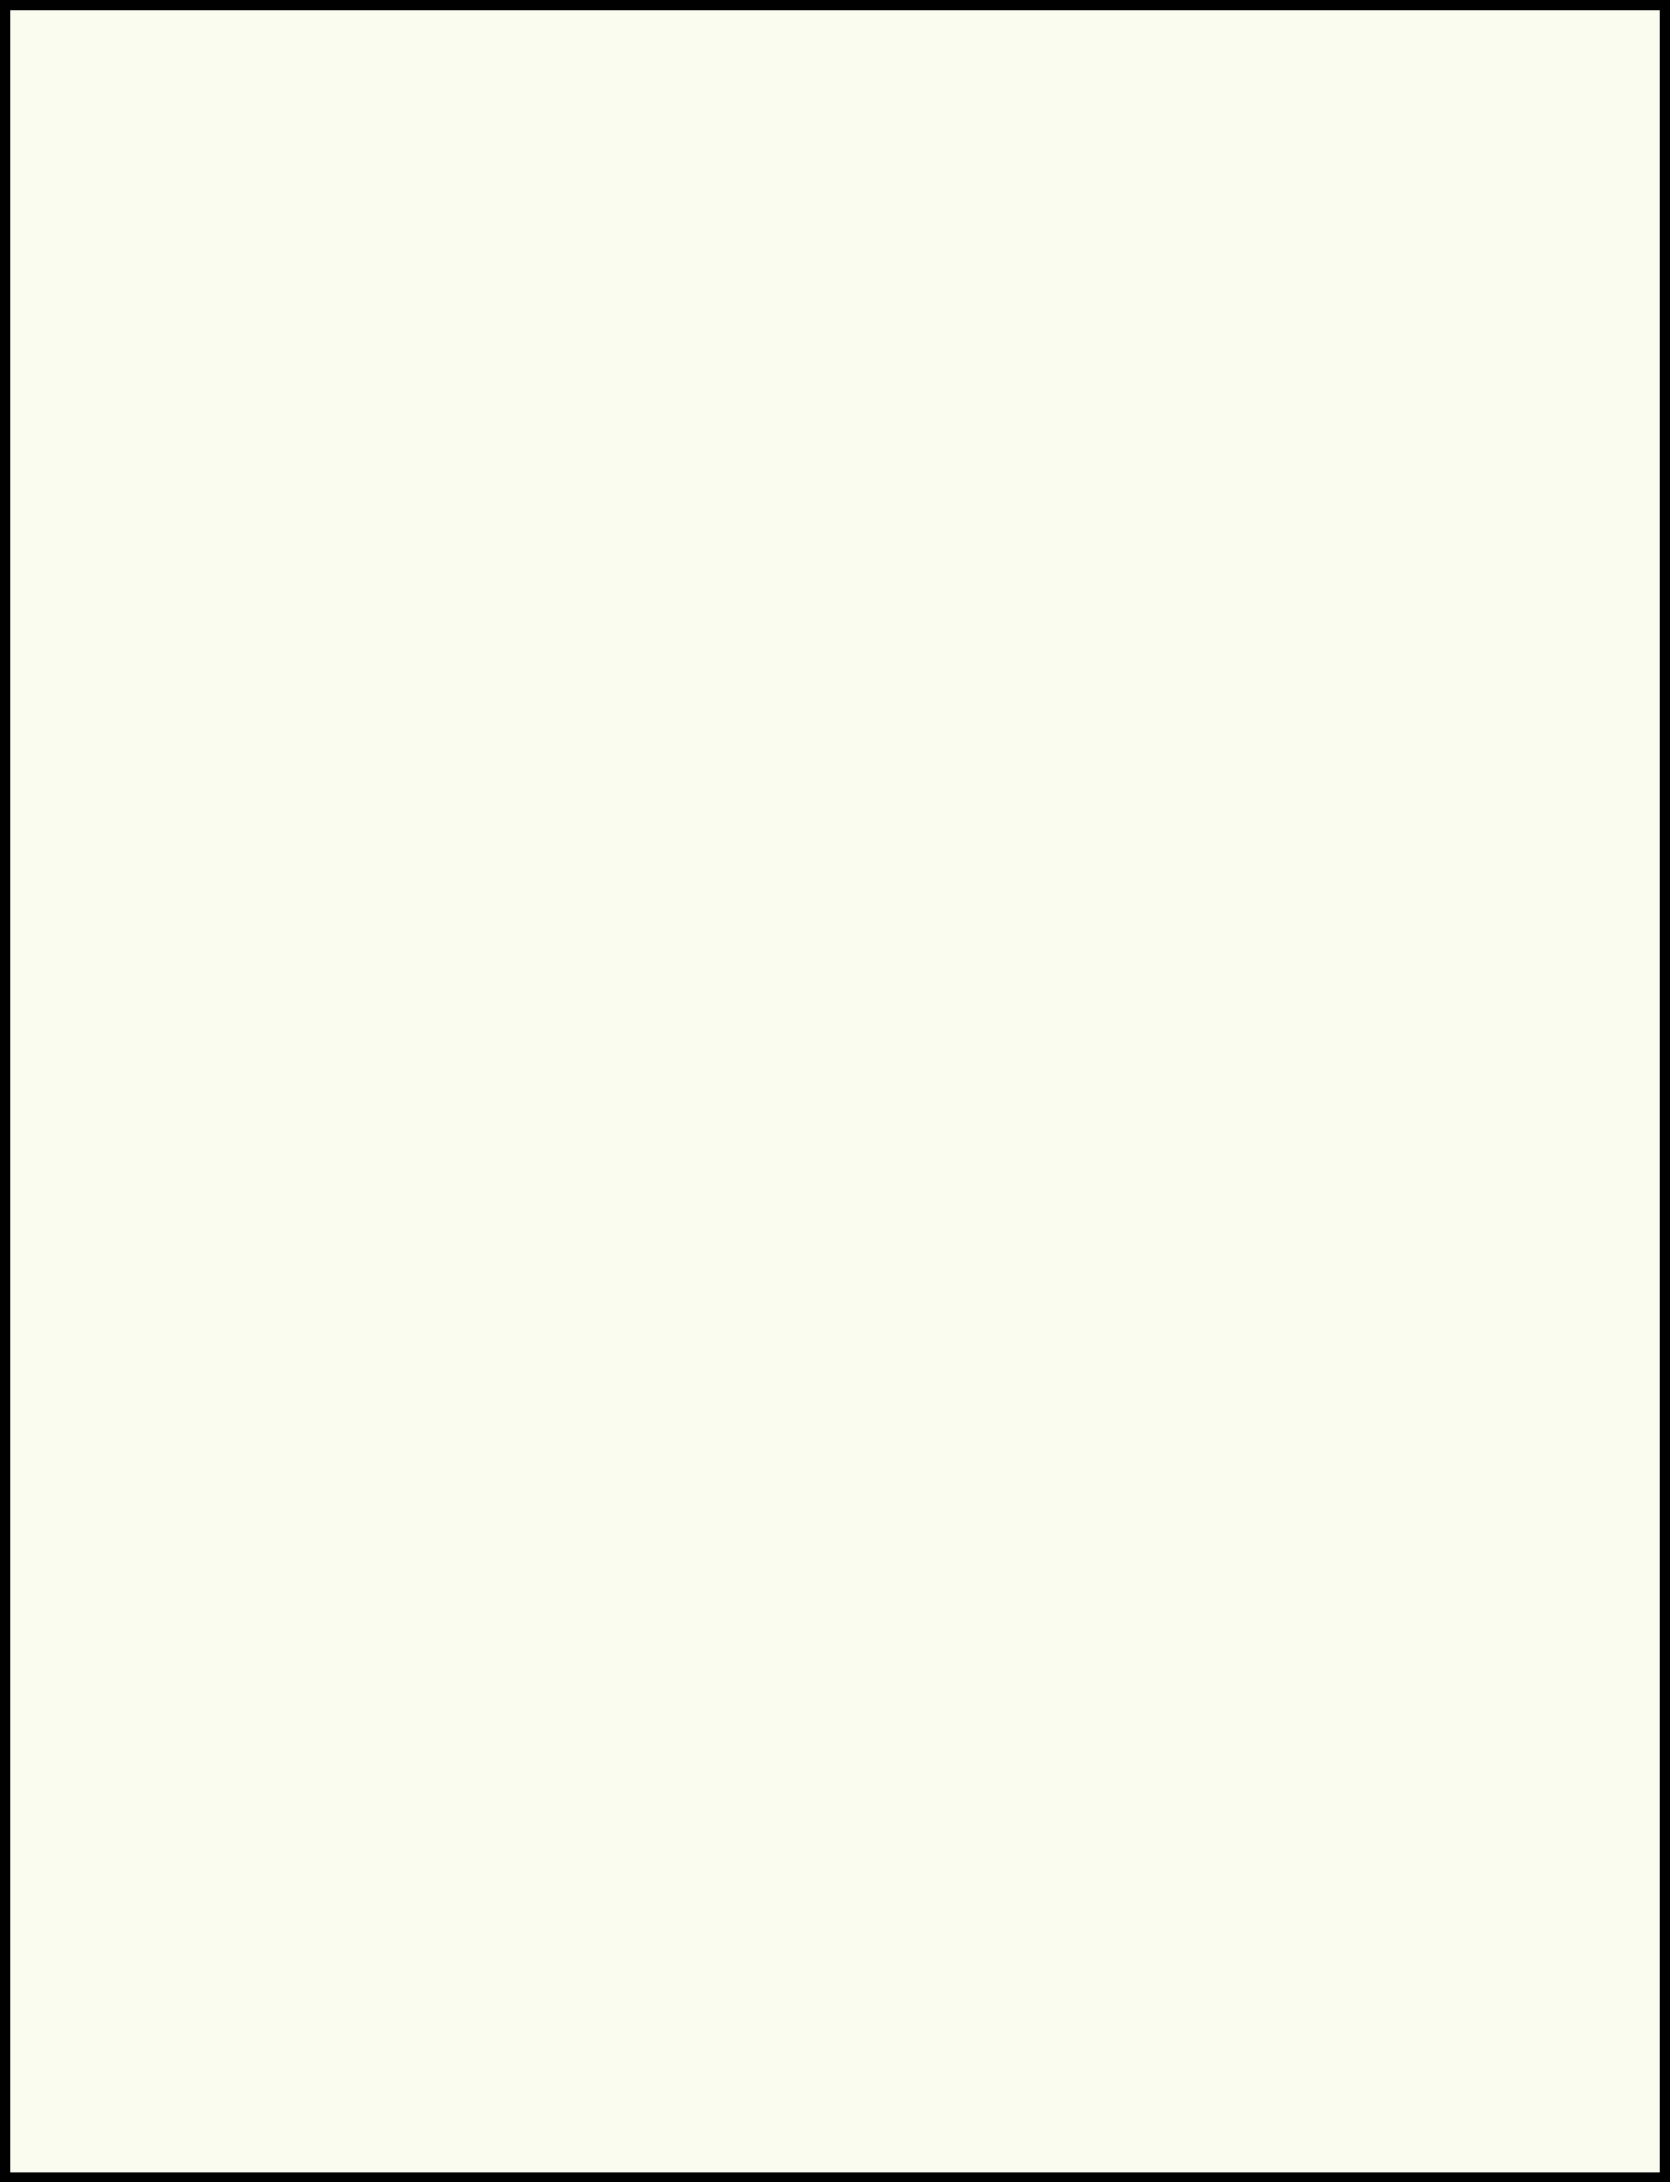

The TP staff, listed below, are the artists. They planned the pictures and drew the layouts. But special thanks goes to many others without whose cooperation the book couldn't have been possible. I would like to thank our advisor, Mrs. Angela Wind, who endured our "experiences in procrastination;" Mr. Smith and his company, Artmaster Yearbooks, Inc., for their professional assistance; our advertisers, for their financial support.

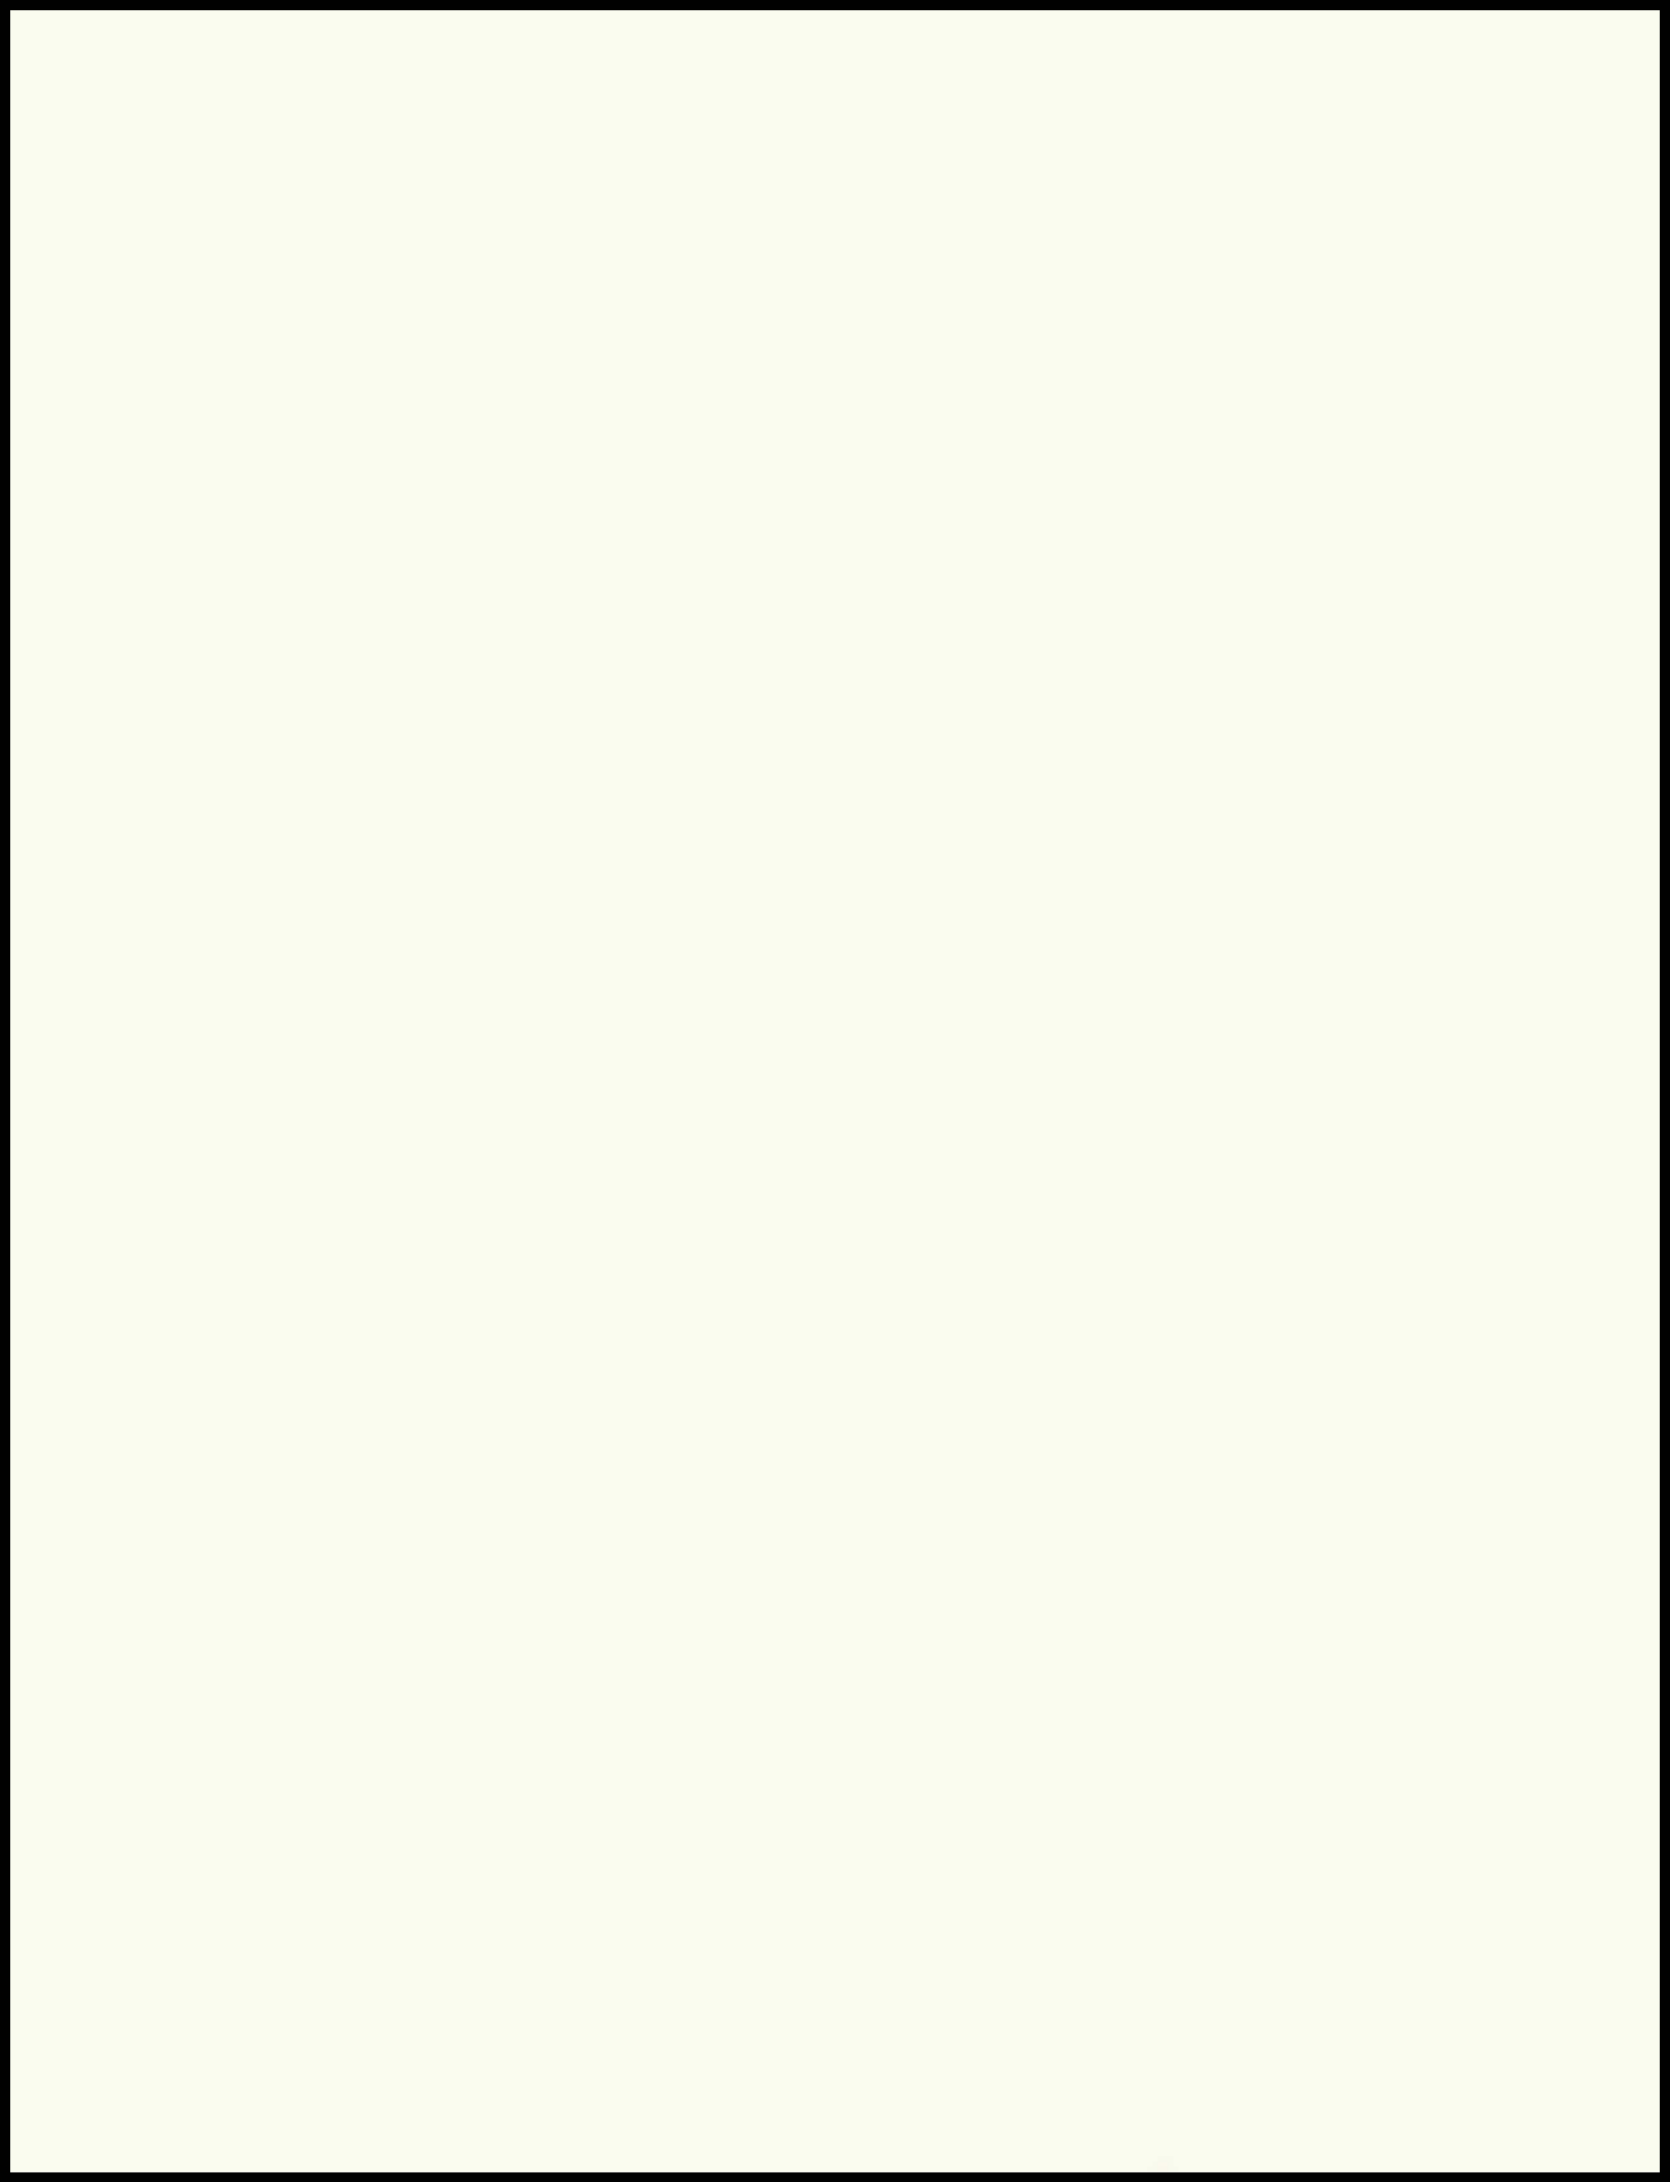

Thank you
