A Brave New Image

Four years ago the doors of a new school building opened to a class of eager freshmen. Those freshmen have become seniors and in these four years, they have created a BRAVE NEW IMAGE. . . a quest inspired by a new building with better facilities, school pride and a dream. . .

BRAVE because it has been an heroic and unified effort

NEW because it was untried and different from the past

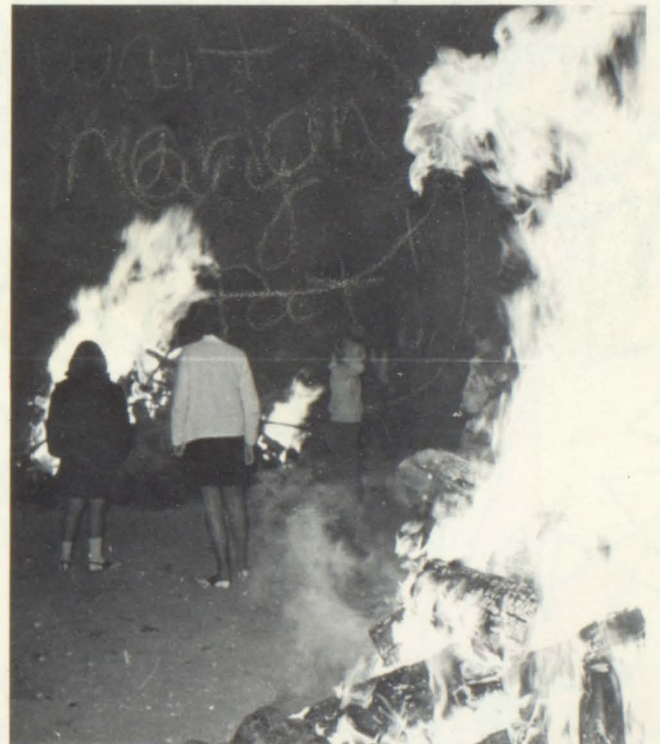

IMAGE because it reflected the beautiful structure in which it was born.

The BRAVE NEW IMAGE is a genuine interest in education, conduct and responsibility—a commitment to unity, participation, achievement and fun—lots of fun!

The BRAVE NEW IMAGE we have achieved is a tribute to the community for the effort they made to provide us with the setting and facilities which inspired us. The accomplishments we made are all we can give and we hope that they show our appreciation.

We of the TOTEM POLE staff and the class of '69 present a record of our accomplishments and the NEW IMAGE OF THE BRAVES.

In the warm September sun

Under the warm September sun,
Bonner Springs High School students gather to greet each other in their happy friendly manner.

FACULTY

A faculty stimulates. It excites interest and curiosity in a receptive class. This is part of the BRAVE NEW IMAGE; a give and take between student and teacher—a partnership in learning. A teacher probes; students respond and are propelled to a higher level of knowledge and achievement.

Stimulation and motivation of the student means that the teacher is turning a young adult into a productive and creative citizen—our country's most important natural resource. Cooperation is the key to our BRAVE NEW IMAGE.

Mr. Don Stokesbury, Bonner's principal, seems to be giving very pleasant instructions to Rex Millsap.

Mr. Ray Cox, Bonner's new vice-principal, wearily takes a two-second break before the next task begins.

"Do people read the notices or steal the thumbtacks?" wonders Mrs. Mildred Bundy, Bonner's efficient secretary and Girl Friday.

"No, this isn't the Hall of Fame, it's the Bonner Springs High School," answers Mrs. Mary Ann Allen.

Mr. Kenneth Tewell, District Superintendent, discusses what the additional facilities will mean to the school with the Board of Education after a tour of the high school. Board members are

Mr. Wayne Phillips, Mr. Darryl Donahue, Mr. Rex Heffley, Mr. Dal Grinstead, Mr. Homer Miesse, and Mr. Lindy Trent.

Board Succeeds

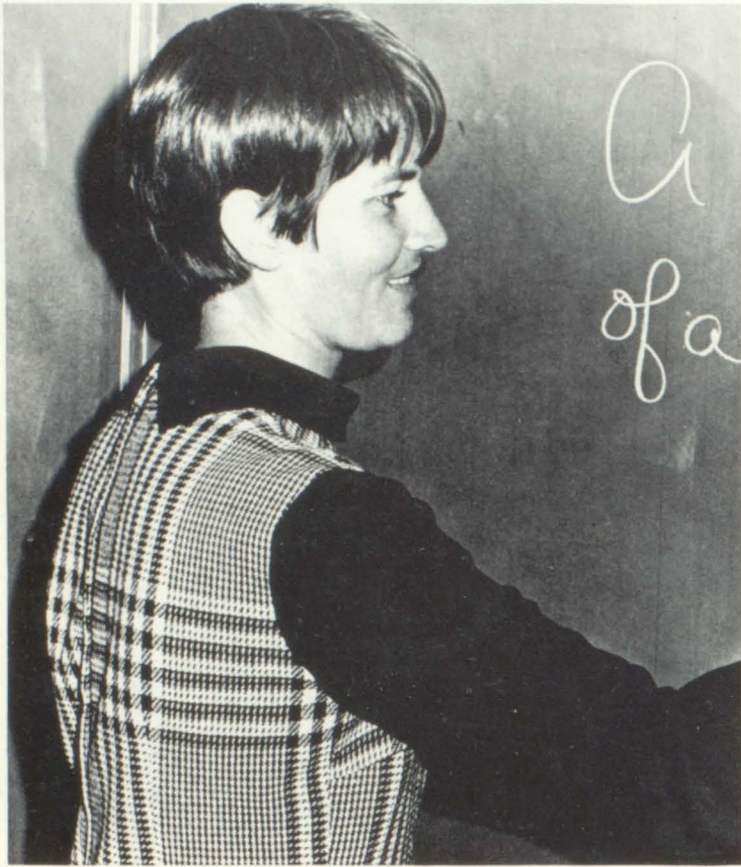

The Board of Education is a group of citizens who are interested in the progress of the educational facilities of the community. Our Board of Education was far-sighted when they planned ahead to supply the district with a new high school.

This year a bond election took place which gave approval to the remainder of their plans—a stadium, a quarter-mile track, practice fields and facilities for physical education which include softball diamonds, a soccer field and tennis courts. When these facilities are finished, Bonner Springs High School will be a complete unit, comparable to any high school in the state of Kansas.

Eager faces and refreshed teachers make enrollment a quick, uncomplicated task, even though Bonner High has its largest enrollment.

Reading Maketh A Full Man;

A junior English class is completely absorbed, writing all they know on a test.

Conference A Ready Man;

Mrs. Doris Stith is 1968's Master Teacher.

This is a freshman class—learning to study and learning to learn.

"Now how can I work wall-washing into an English assignment?" wonders Mr. Mike Bell.

Mrs. Angela Wind thinks about whether the students will understand the lesson after the 30th explanation.

And Writing An Exact Man.

Mr. Robert Parsons pauses in amazement after he hears a student answer.

Mrs. Sydney Dunn relaxes in the lounge after a hard day work.

Mrs. Arroline Zumbrunn, head of the English department, seems pleased as she goes over test scores of the new students.

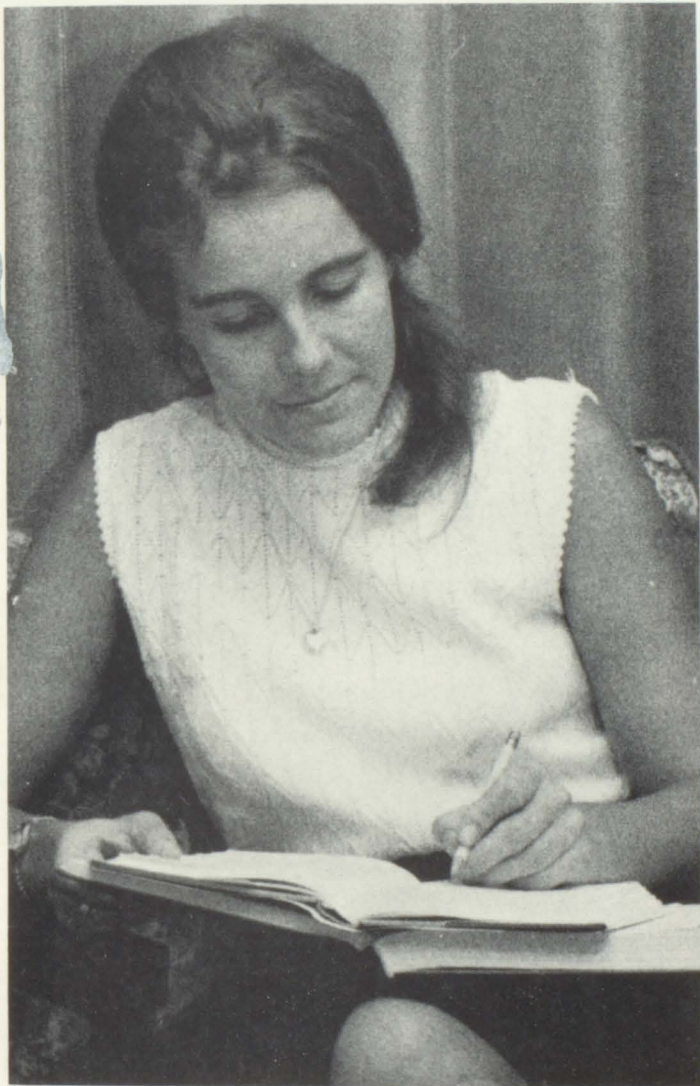

Mrs. Ellie Lasater seems to be enjoying her week of hall duty in the English department corridor.

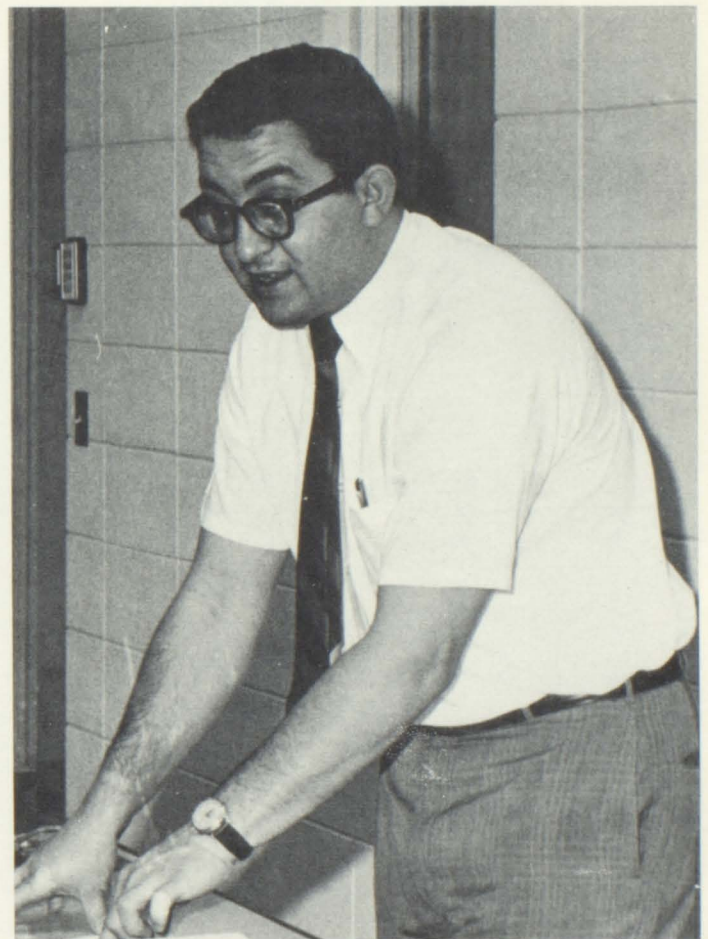

"With this button, I could blow up this whole class room," ponders Tony (Walter Mitty) Stubbs.

Foreign Language Department Transports Students To New Lands via Languages

Mrs. Gisele Cockburn writes out an assignment for her French classes in English, maybe?

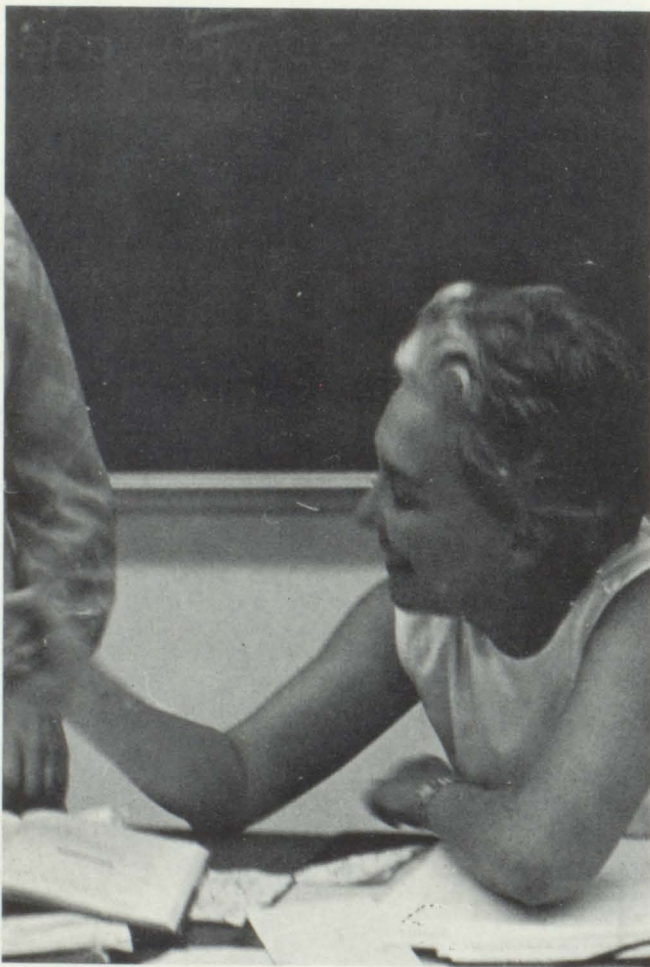

Mr. John Nobile, Spanish instructor, alerts his whole class by pushing the wrong button on the console.

Math Extends Knowledge And Understanding To Help Students Deal With The Machine Age

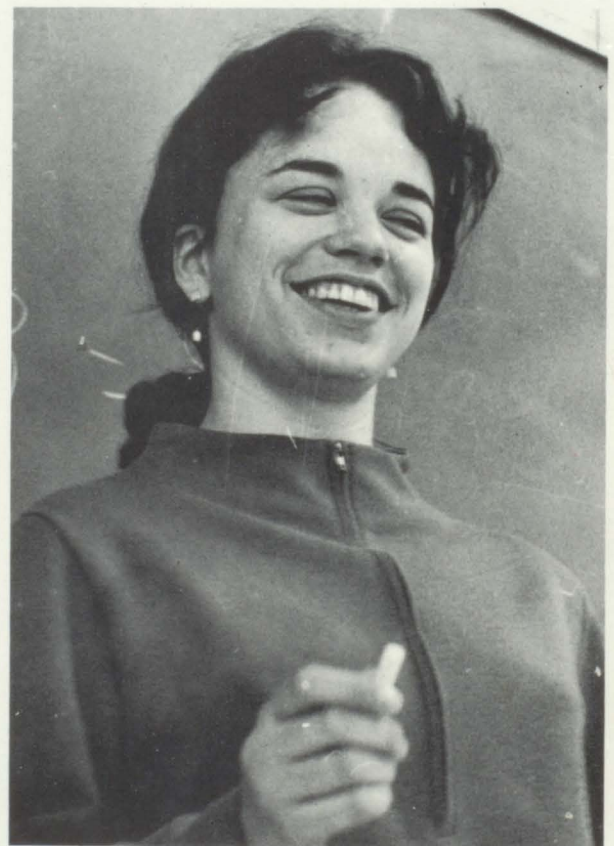

Mathematics has become one of the most advanced subjects in the curriculum. It exposes the student to new dimensions in reasoning and accuracy. The math department includes 5 basic courses which, along with excellent instructors, prepare students for arithmetic adventures.

Mrs. Jared shows an Algebra I student the error of his ways.

Mrs. Muriel Jared, Math instructor, is always ready to lend her students help and encouragement as they travel through an equation.

"Yes, the plus sign does tell us to add," explains Mrs. Diane Johnson.

Science Links Man And Nature Through Understanding

Mr. Dennis Wilson examines a fish tank, one of the many instruments used in the instruction of Biology.

The world of microscopic organisms is one of the many areas of science explored by Mr. Richard Nelson.

Mr. Frederick McBurney points out the magnitude of the "snow flying down south," a phenomena.

Mr. Kenneth Russell divides his time between teaching Physical Education, sponsoring Stu-Co, coaching and instructing in Biology.

Music And Art - The Components Of Fine Arts

"I think the nose would look better between the eyes," agrees Miss Karen Barnes, new Art instructor.

Mrs. Mary Knowles, Crafts instructor, exhibits her Mona Lisa smile.

Mr. Larry Lutte has accomplished many feats in the two years he has been band director.

Always with ready smiles and jokes, Michael Lansdon directs the golden voices of Bonner High.

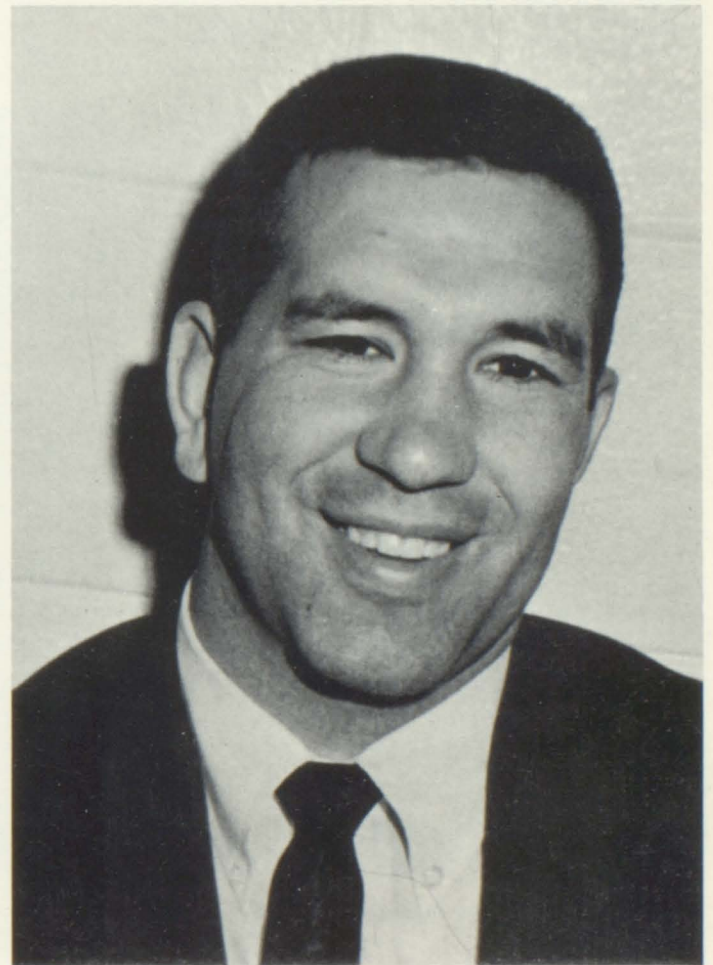

Presidential Election Raises Controversy In Social Science Classes

Mr. Douglas Collins, social studies teacher, catches a few winks during a class discussion.

Studying test answers, Mr. Joe Beck wonders if American History will ever make sense to Juniors—or anyone!

Mr. Phillip Young, the real Brave, teaches Social Sciences as well as coaching a first rate football team.

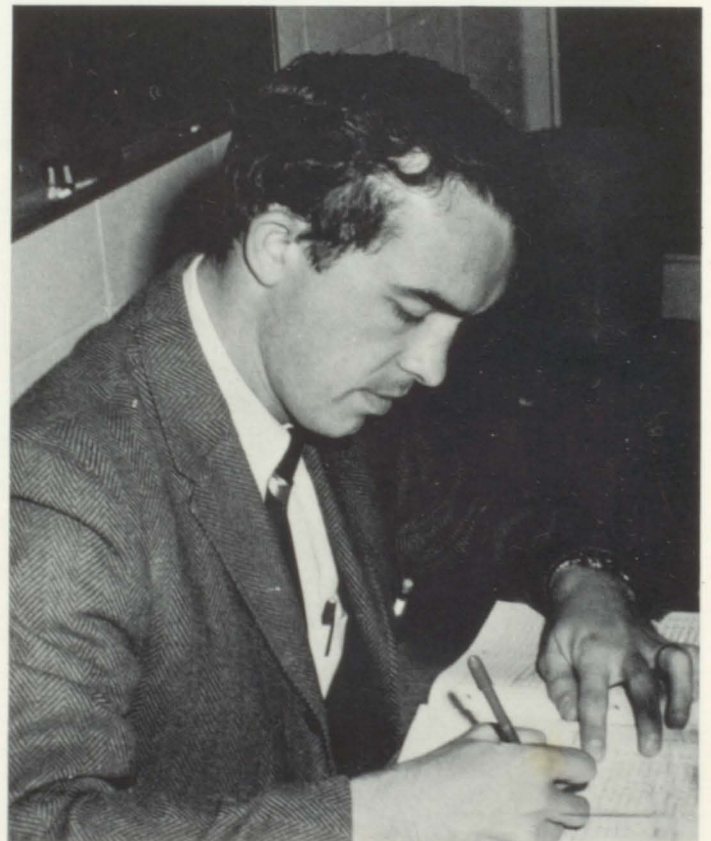

Mrs. Lylse Middaugh catches up on some work while a copy of her purse is being made.

Business Education Prepares Students For Mechanized World Of Commercial Opportunity

"Typing is my business," boasts Mr. Ted Stephens.

"Work is a book of facts and figures," ponders Mr. Stanley Harris.

Home Ec Prepares Girls For Careers Or Marriage

"A stitch in time saves a seventh hour," laughs Mrs. Martha Littooy.

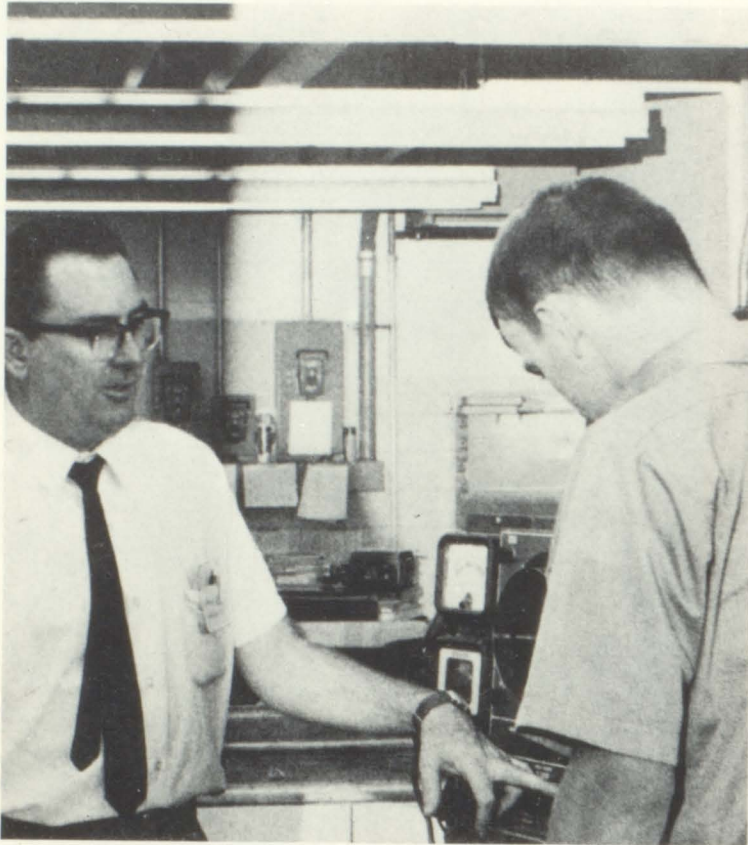

Mrs. Jeanne Stevenson, Home-Economics teacher, plans a meal for her fifth hour class.

Industrial Arts Relate Man With Machine

Mr. William Vitt offers his helpful direction to an onlooking student.

Mr. Richard Burns appears to have the Monday Morning Blahs.

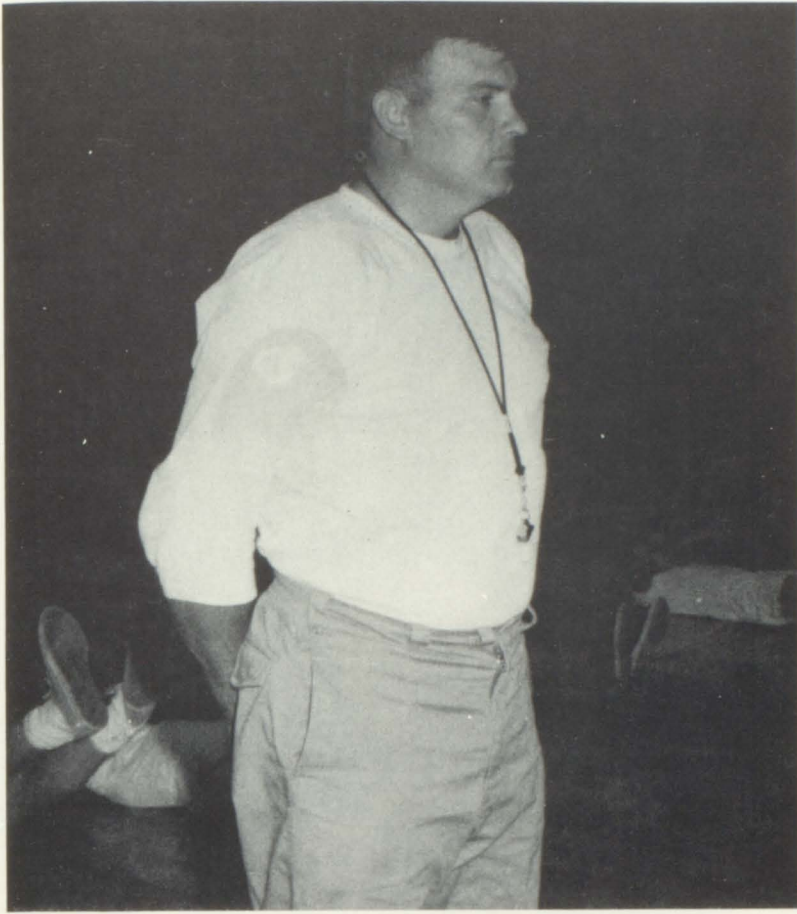

Mr. Hervey Fox cunningly adds a spark to everyday school life.

"We'll outwit this contraption somehow," befuddles these Industrial Arts students.

Physical Education Rounds Out An Individual

Mr. Ed Nealy, head basketball coach, oversees his gym class.

"I've heard of Jumpin' Jack but this is ridiculous," mumbles a P.E. student.

"A happy smile is healthier than any exercise," gleams Mrs. Freda Reynolds.

Library Is Center Of Resource

Mrs. Bette Carbery, assistant in the library, is always ready to help.

Mrs. Elsie Hughes, head librarian, encourages students to use the library to their best advantage.

Library help: Bert Starkey, Jackie Peters, Cheryl Horn, Deborah Moss, Barbara Brown, Pat May, and Keith Zumbrunn.

The Guidance Department—For Help & Encouragement

Mrs. Beulah Brown, counselor, offers her services of "trouble-solving" to all the students.

"Oh, come on, Mr. McLaughlin, it wasn't that funny."

Guidance help: Janet Hopewell, Janice Hepner, Toiyon Leverette, Pat Meier, Christine Sandburg, Cecelia Garrison, Virgil DeFries.

Auxiliary Staff Work Long Hard Hours

Martha Linan, Jackie Peters, Sharon Wiggins, Christine Clark, and Ruth Jones are this year's office help.

Mrs. Spillman and Mr. Cox work together every morning to get the absentee excuses checked.

Mrs. Peggy Spillman, nurse, takes care of all ills.

Cooks: Mrs. J. Shaw, Mrs. A. Nick, Mrs. O. Yunghan, Mrs. E. Hollenbeck, Mrs. V. Kempher, head cook.

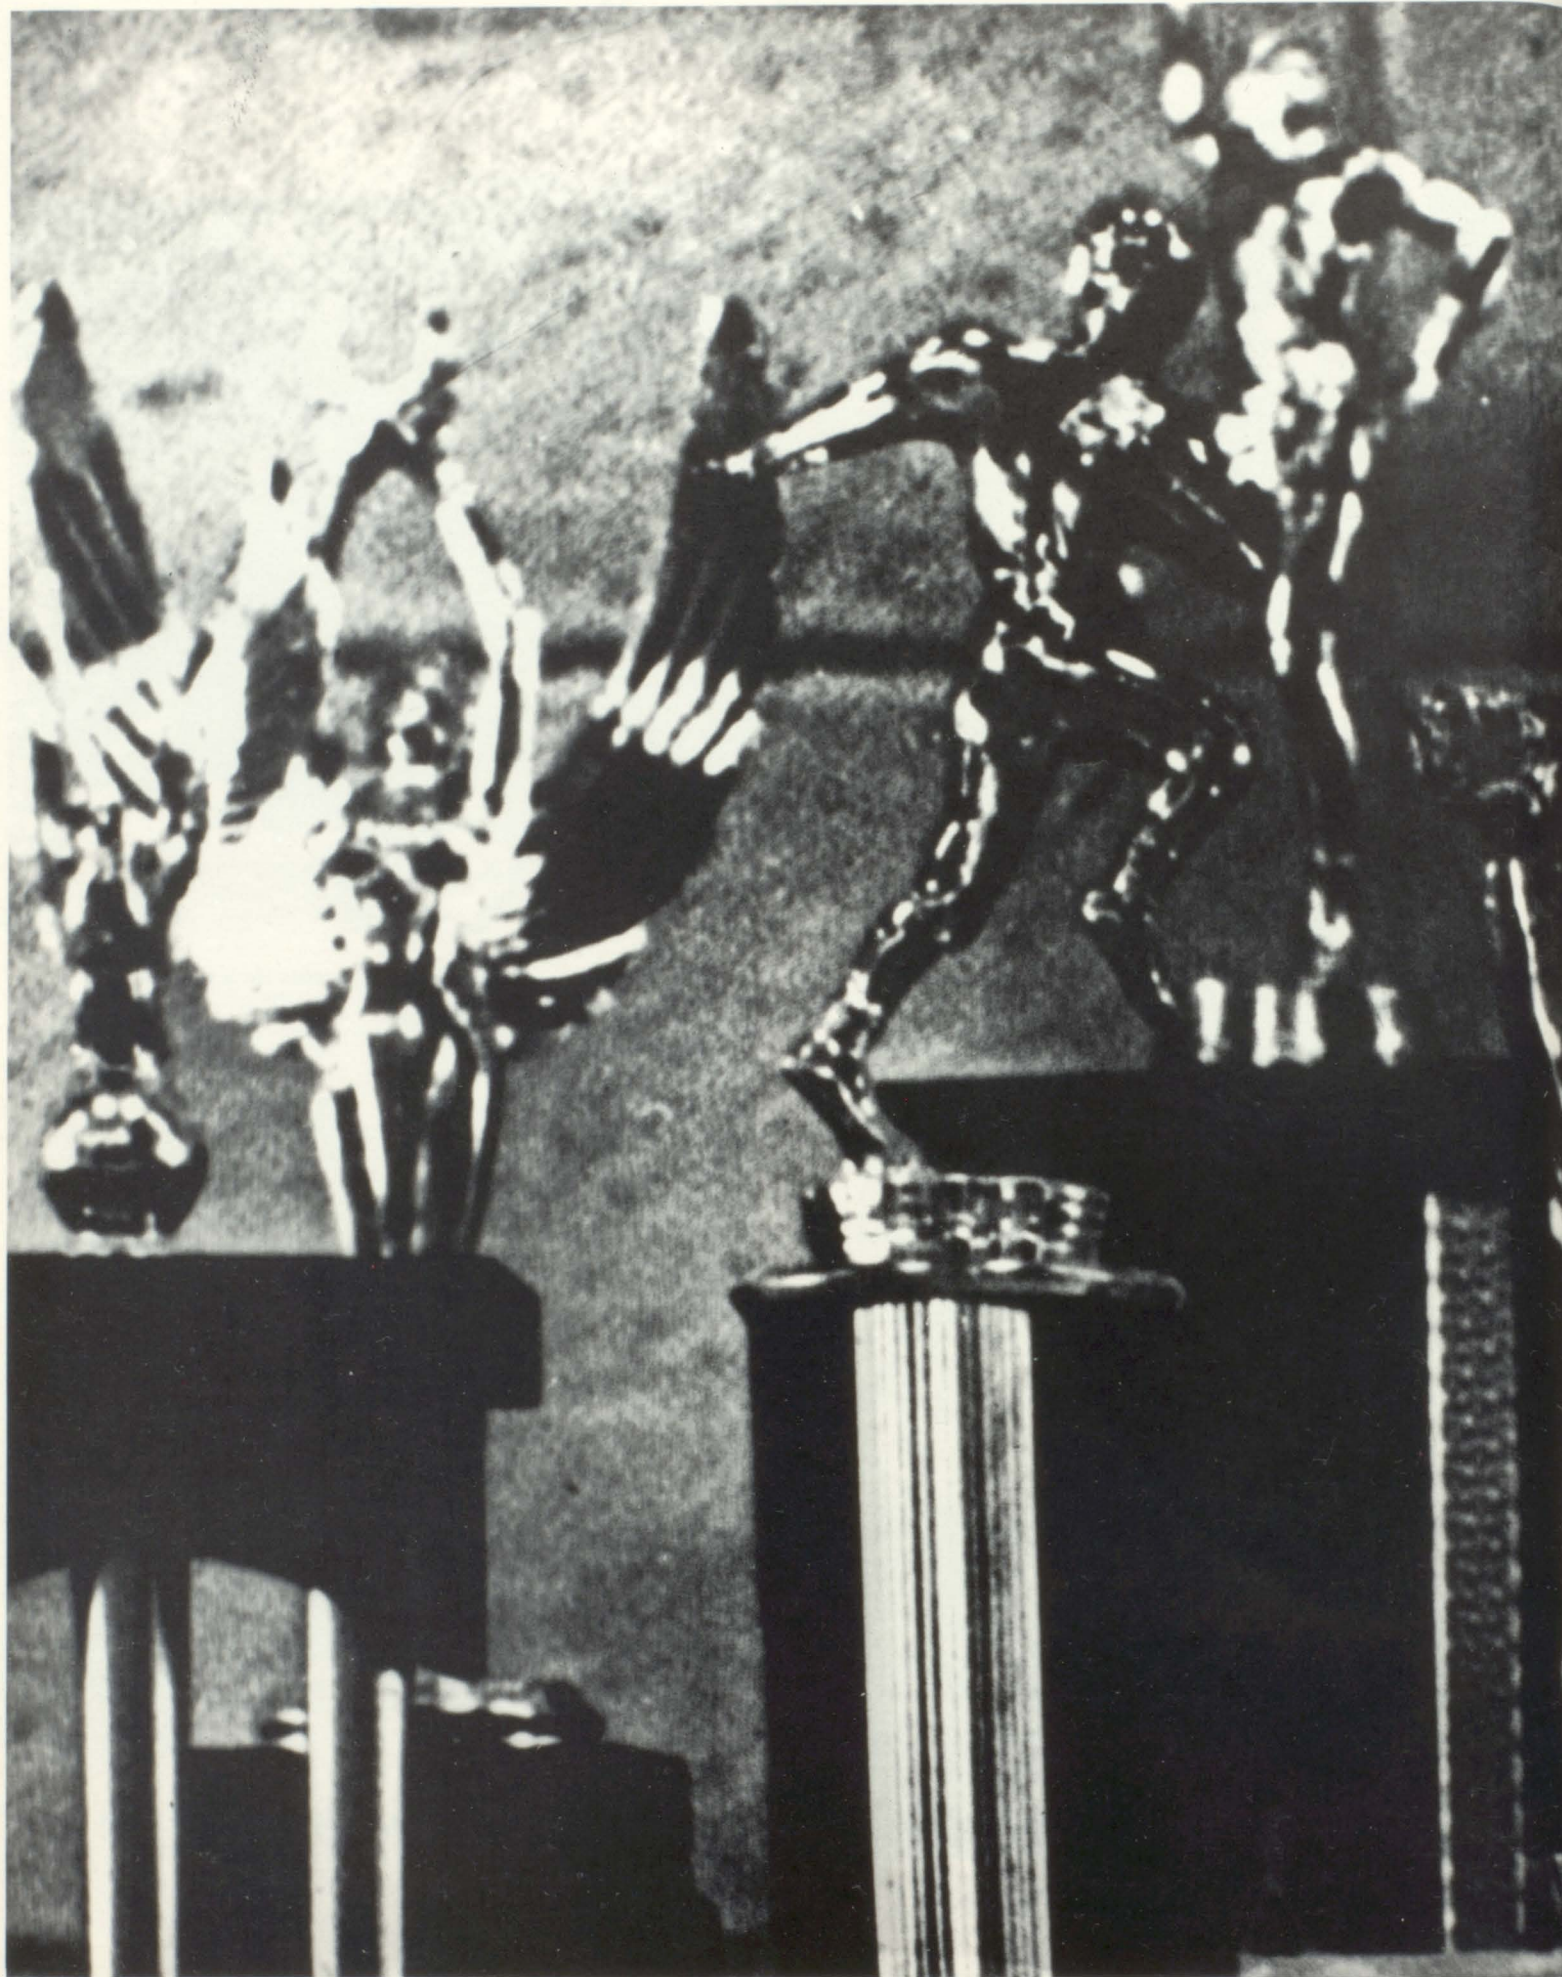

Lunch gives students time to visit.

Archie Sanders, head custodian makes out a supply list in his office.

Custodians: Mr. B. Chance, Mr. D. Kirby, Mr. C. Bellm, Mr. A. Sanders.

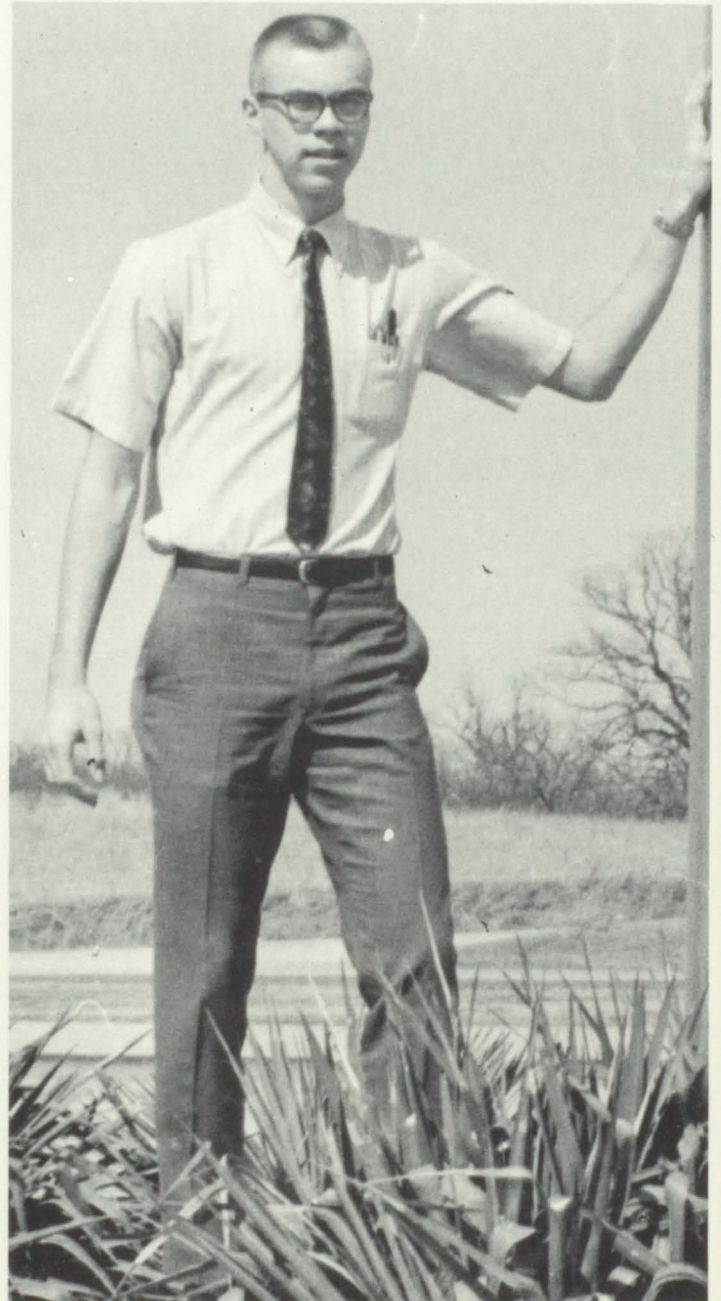

The Brave New Image means change from old to new, from good to better and the Achievements Division of the 1968-69 yearbook is new. A special division is devoted not only to the students who achieve recognition by their superior scholastic and athletic ability, but to the students who have the energy and loyalty to do the many tasks that are behind the scenes. The class of '69 adds the Achievements Division to the Totem Pole. . .The Brave New Image is made up of big and little achievements on the part of everyone.

Outstanding Seniors Recieve Recognition

Marie Miller earns Valedictorian with a perfect 4.0 grade average.

The two top scholastic honors a student can achieve are the valedictorian and the salutatorian. Not only have Marie and Wade earned these scholastic honors, but they have achieved in all areas. The standards they have set are goals for future students to achieve.

Wade Brotherson is the class salutatorian with an outstanding grade average of 3.83.

Students Receive Recognition

Four years of study, work and interest culminate in being chosen for the highest award of all—being selected for National Honor Society. The seniors who made National Honor Society are: Top row: Steve Heffley, Keith McGovern, Clifford Eveland, David

Nelson, John Metzler, Wade Brotherson, Joe Grinstead, Chris Shaad, Dwight Smith. Second row: Larry Cooper, Mimi Carbery, Susan Lilley, Jan Goeking, Marie Miller, Rita Pierce, Mary Honeywell, Cecelia Garrison, Cheryl Kempfer and Linda Finley.

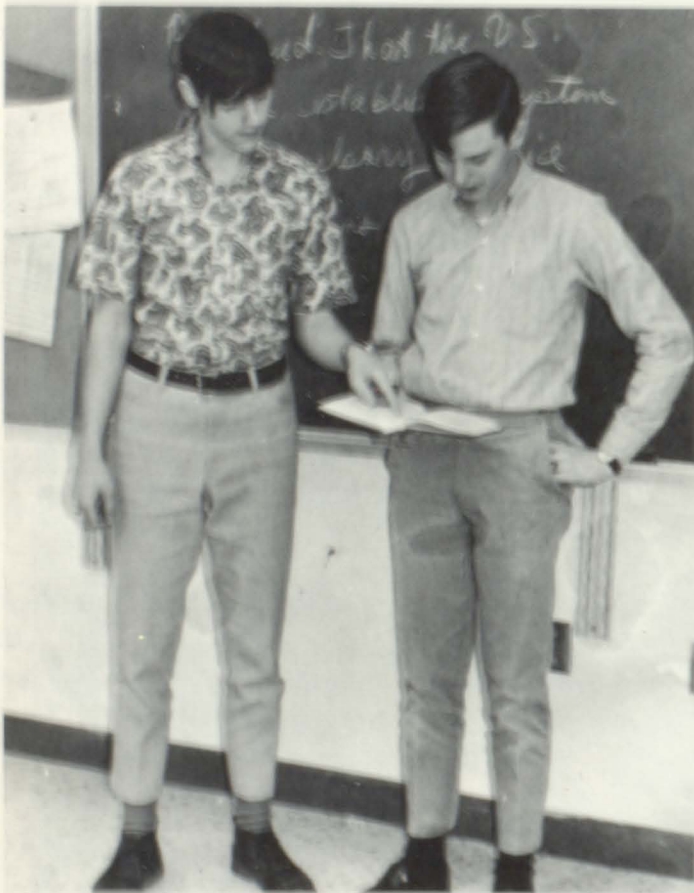

This year's categories participants are: Mike Stubbs, Wade Brotherson, David Nelson, Gary Jennings, Marie Miller, and Brian Boyce.

Speech And Debate Develop Poise

Saturday trips, library passes, after school practices, and constant alertness to new knowledge are just a few of the activities that create the busy schedule of our successful debate and speech teams. Back on Saturday, issuing passes and constant alertness to everything are just a few of the activities that create the busy schedule of our successful debate and speech coach, Mrs. Ellie Lasater. Our team's goal set higher objectives than ever before and achieved heights greater than their hopes.

Mrs. Ellie Lasater explains the speech festivals' makeup to Del Coleman, a four-year participant.

Bonner's prize debaters, Brian Boyce and Neils Mortensen, check some information to make their case infallible.

Having a fast-paced lineup of contests, the Braves' forensic representatives take time to catch their breath.

Bonner Students Achieve

High Honor Students are those students who have maintained a 3.5 grade average throughout their high school career. This achievement and the achievement of earning membership into the National Business Honor Society are important to the Bonner Students and they direct their efforts toward these achievements.

National Business Honor Society Probationary members are Vickie Mason, Kathy Purtee, Chris Spawn, Jocylyn Harrell, Aileen Callahan, Jana Reardon, Wendy Lange.

This year's high honor students are: Marie Miller, Mary Honeywell, Gary Jennings, Cheryl Kempfer, Cecelia Garrison, Dwight Smith, and Wade Brotherson.

Miss Mary Honeywell is Bonner's National Business Honor Society Member.

Students Learn Business From Business

The Secretarial Training Program is an on-the-job curriculum for advanced secretarial training students. Those best qualified are allowed to apply for jobs and to be employed at various Bonner Springs firms who participate in the program. In its fourth year, the vocational course has assisted at least fifty girls in becoming competent office help. This excellent program has gone a long way in helping establish a new student image in the Bonner Springs Community.

"How do you spell Zuchini Squash?" questions Patty Payne while busily at work at the Safeway Cereal Plant.

Mary Honeywell was employed at Commercial State Bank where she put into practical application the many secretarial skills she learned in class training.

Homemaking Chores Become Skills

A group which dutifully serves the school but often goes unrecognized, is the advanced homemaking class. These girls work hard, learning and having fun in the process. This year they were the providers of the delicious cookies at the Pep Club Christmas Dance as well as the sponsors of a Thanksgiving buffet for the Bonner High teachers.

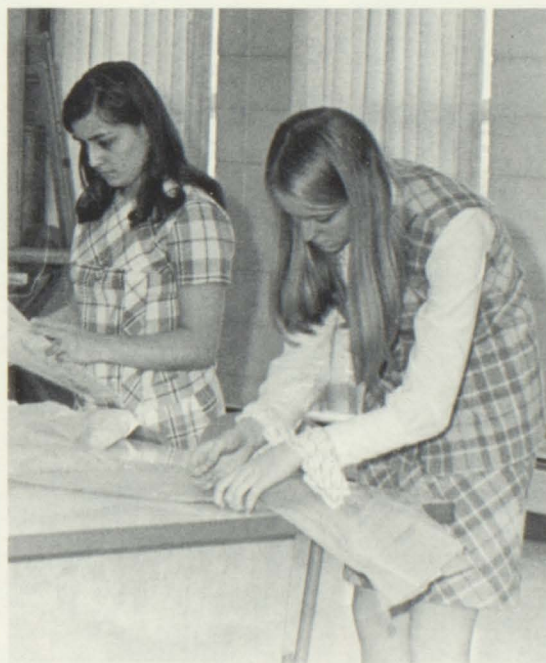

Time, efforts and energies given by the advanced homemakers this year, not only did much to benefit the school, but helped each girl in her pursuit of goals for her future life.

As the senior girl receiving the highest score on the Betty Crocker Homemaking Test, Teresa Bruce was awarded the "Betty Crocker Homemaker of the Year Award" by Mrs. Brown in an award assembly.

"Rats," mutters Jackie Peters, "I've pinned it to my blouse again."

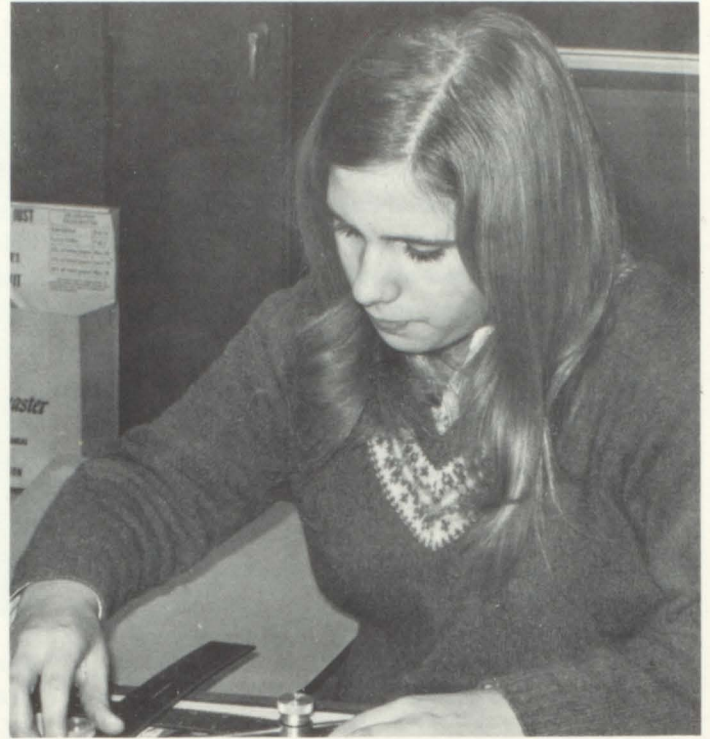

Sharon Schrimmscher helps Cheryl Horn decipher complicated pattern instructions before beginning to sew a dress for her new spring wardrobe.

New Theory In Publications. . .

Jerry Mellott. . .Pow Wow Editor

Susi Lilley. . .Totem Pole Editor

Don't look now class, but your Publications are showing.

. . .Combined Classes

This year, the Publications classes took on new proportions. Both the Pow Wow and Totem Pole Staffs are combined to make one publications class. Both staffs work interchangeably helping each other make layouts and reach deadlines on time. The yearbook this year has twenty more pages, with a two-page color picture. The Pow Wow has produced regular issues with extras and the UGH.

"If so-and-so married so-and-so, would they have so-and-so's?" questions Pam Prier and Mike Bowker.

Jean Pruitt, Nanci Stubblefield, Jon Kinney, and Joyce Pruesner ponder the well-known question—"If so-and-so?"

"Chris, is so-and-so one word or three?" asks Jonetta.

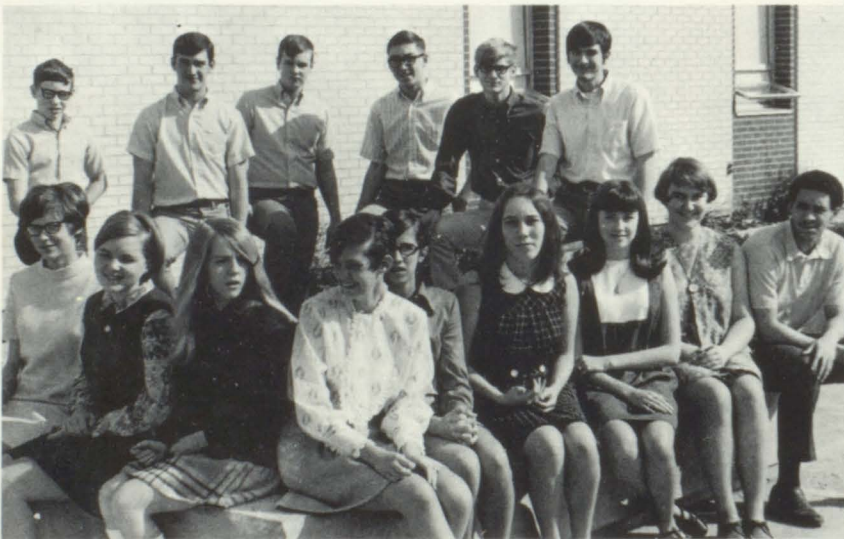

Students Make Special Achievements

Wade Brotherson was chosen to be a Putnam Scholar because of his superior scholarly promise and outstanding personal characteristics. The Henry J. Putnam Memorial Scholarship is the highest scholastic honor which may be given to any entering student at K-State.

Daryl Brown and Susie Lilley have both received regional honors from the Scholastic Art Awards program. Daryl was awarded a gold achievement key for a welded metal sculpture and Susie was given a certificate of merit for a creative photograph.

These sophomores received a certificate of merit for placing at or above the 90th percentile on the NEDT test. From left to right, top row: Chuck Millsap, John Mills, David Herdman, Jay Lee, David Shaad, Robin Bosanko. Bottom row: Jane Horvat, Nancy Rohde, Shari Jennings, Ann Ottinger, Lea Comer, Susan Stevens, Kay Kitzman, Pamela Kempfer, Robert Waters.

Keith McGovern received an academic of scholarship of $775.00 to Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma.

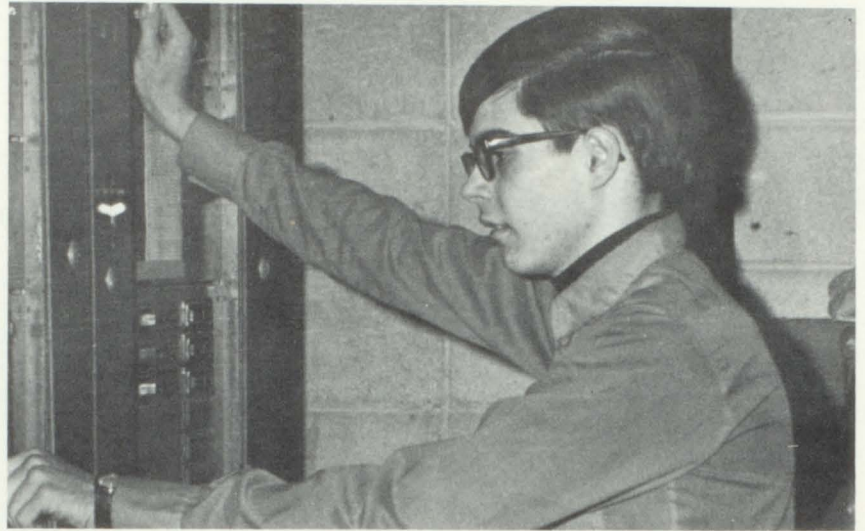

Unsung Heroes. . .

Susi Lilley—poster girl—no recall of Bonner High is complete unless one remembers Susi's lettering style and her thousands of posters advertising student activities.

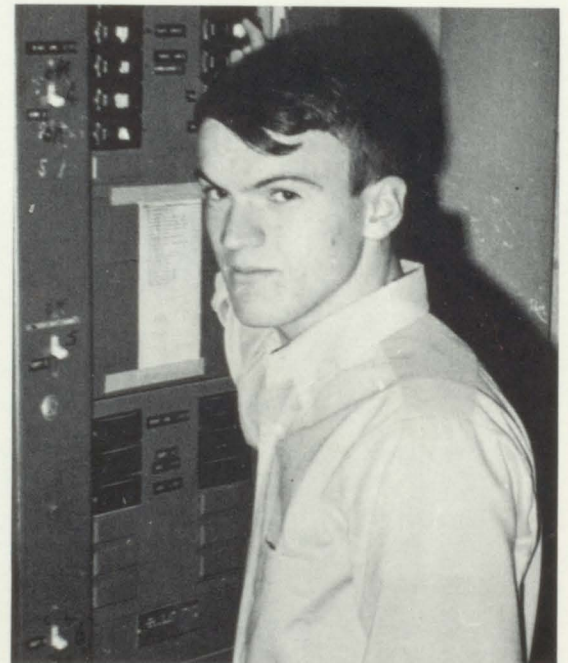

All through a school year, the student body is unaware of the extra jobs done by many students to help in its total operation. Bonner High has a large group of diligent, original, and loyal students who use their energy and loyalty to accomplish these jobs behind the scenes. They have been overlooked too long. Here's to the unsung. . .they have left their mark in their own way—an image of extra work, extra time, given without notice.

A stage manager is an essential part of a school play, as Brent Fleming soon found out where he operated the curtains, built sets and props, and literally "got the show on the road."

Jerry Mellott is one of a group of boys who walk miles each day collecting absentee cards and distributing absentee lists.

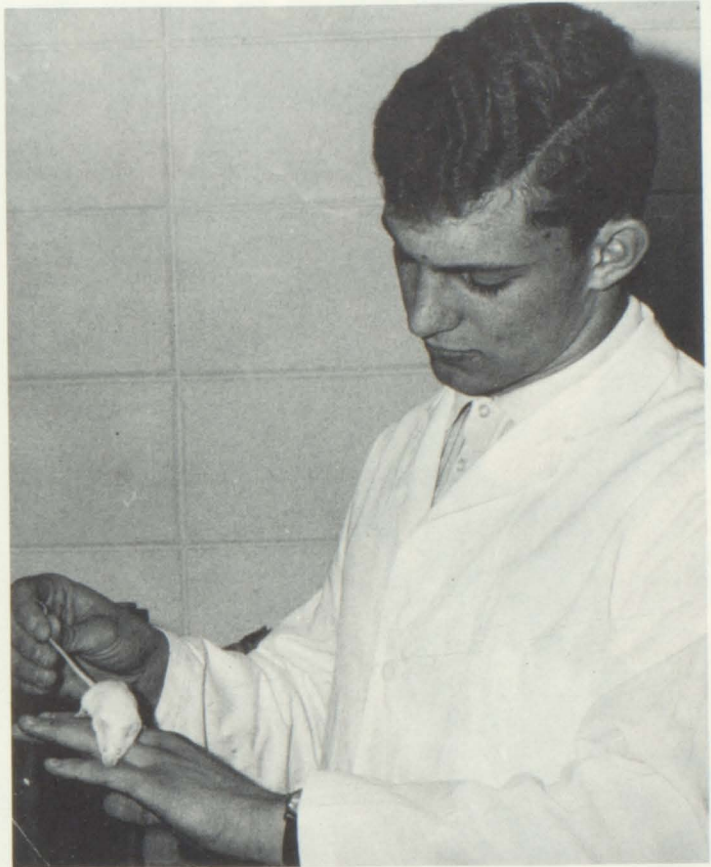

Mastering the lighting board looks like a job that only an experienced electrician can do—but Kirk Scheidt mastered it and was our technician at school assemblies and plays.

...We Distinguish Them

Donnie Lawrence is perpetually busy throughout the year managing the equipment during football, basketball, and track seasons, and marking the field at football games.

As a lab assistant, Steve Elmer is asked to do many jobs which require all of his strength and intelligence. As an example, here Steve displays his skill with white mice.

Phil Calandrino not only runs the printing press with skill, but also takes time to make necessary repairs.

While not working with the printing press, Gail Hollenbeck also takes pictures during games, assemblies, and other school events.

ACTIVITIES

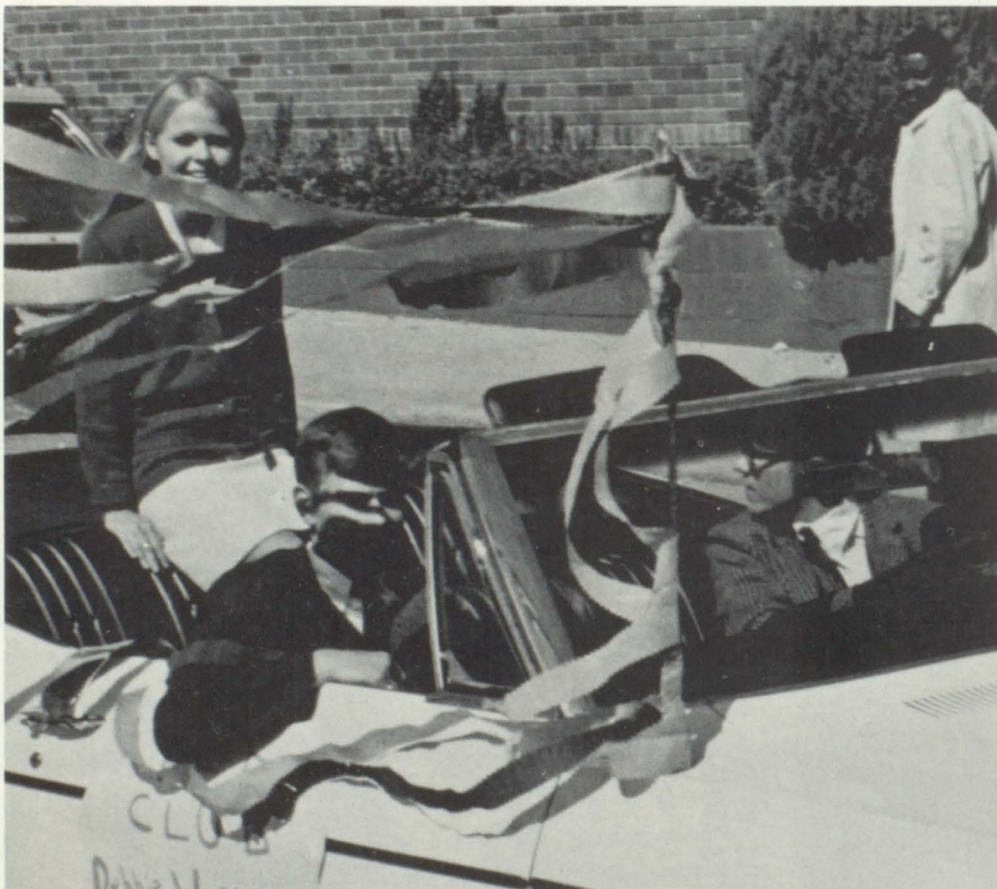

Braves have always liked to have fun—whether it be a campfire or a ceremonial. And the Braves had fun this year. The Homecoming Ceremonial from its preliminary bonfire to its final culmination in a Victory Dance was a sequence of activities no Brave will ever forget. The Christmas Dance with its happy decorations and congenial Christmas spirit continued the list of unforgettable nights. These were followed by equally fun events such as the Injun Joe Dance when the Chief Brave was selected, to the biggest ceremonial of them all—the Prom.

There were also the nights when the Braves came to watch their painted and costumed brothers perform the two successful plays—the fall musical “Once Upon a Mattress” and the spring play “Ten Little Indians”. All of these activities gave the Braves the memories of the image they will always represent.

Homecoming Brings Victory

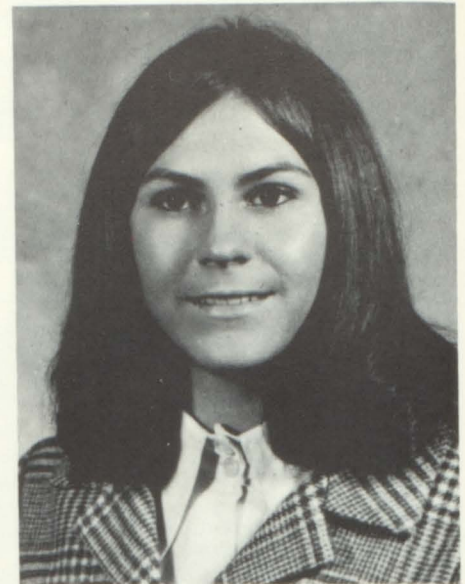

Undaunted by the past, Bonner students threw their whole energies into Homecoming events. The Thursday night bonfire was well attended with singing and cheering and hopes began to grow. Friday afternoon, the parade—its color and its excitement showed that spirit was growing—the winning spirit. The hours of work and fun spent on building floats paid off as the town and all the school children lined the streets of Bonner to catch our winning spirit. The occasion was climaxed by the victory over Rosedale and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Barbara Pinkepank.

Back To Toyland. . .

The highlight of the dance arrives when Jonetta places the crown on Debbie's head.

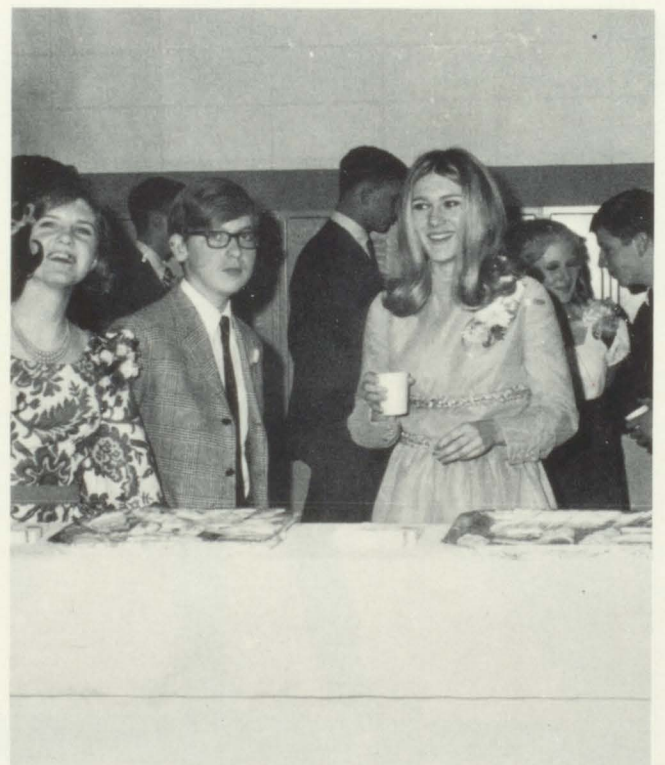

The halls bustle with excitement as the Christmas Dance draws near! The Pep Club meets to elect their candidates for Queen and attendants, while the students anxiously await the outcome.

The traditional Christmas Dance is the second biggest social event in the school year—a dance that is elegant with beautiful formals, happy faces, clever decorations and a good band.

As the couples dance to the sound of the Nickel-Plate Road, excitement sweeps over the crowd when Debbie Freund is crowned 1968-69 Christmas Queen!!

"Is that Santa I see?" asks Mike Slickleman.

"Who spiked the peanutbutter?" jests Joyce.

Drama Students Initiate New Idea

Jess Herdman and Toni Foster are featured as the Chorus and the Property Man in this Chinese Children's Drama, THE STOLEN PRINCE.

Jan Hopewell and Del Coleman eagerly await their entrances as Wing Lee and The Executioner.

"The Stolen Prince" first performance of Childrens Theatre

Under the energetic stimulation of their director, Miss Christine Tweddle, talented Thespians came up with a new idea, to present live-theatre to the elementary school students. In spite of the time and effort involved, the cast (who was their own crew) and the director gave four of the most rewarding performances they ever anticipated giving. Received so enthusiastically, the Children's Drama has become a part of the Brave New Image.

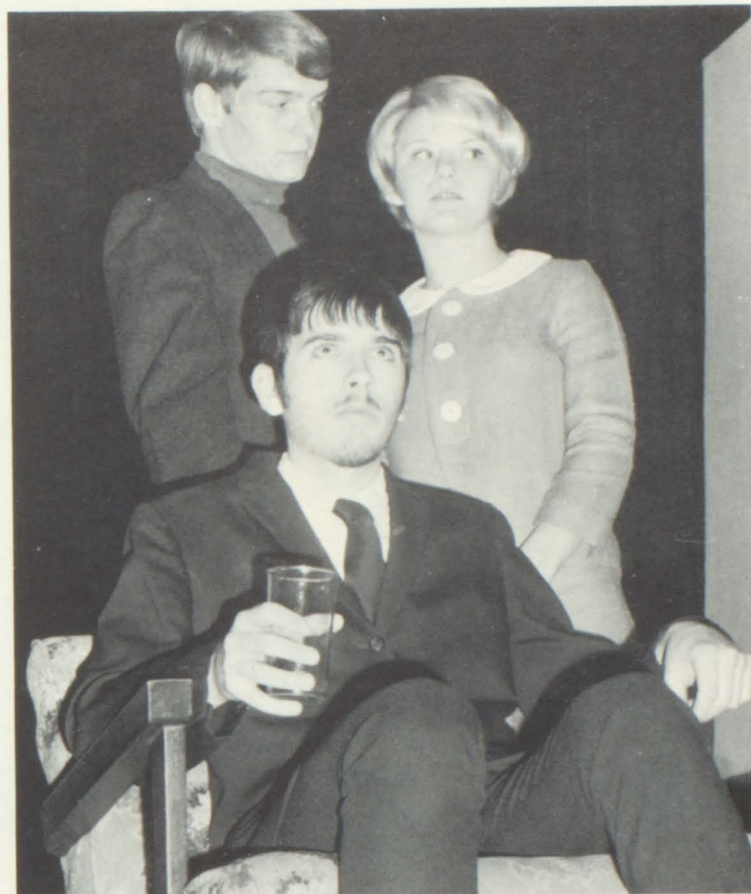

Terry Simmons receives final Oriental touches to her make-up before she appears as the Nurse.

Spring Play. . . Mysterious, Witty, Fun

The selection, practice, and performance of the spring play is always a highlight in the last weeks of school. Ten Little Indians offered the students the opportunity to perform with skill and to entertain their fellow students.

The cast included: Dwight Smith as Rogers; Reta Pearce, Mrs. Rogers; Fred Narracott, John Metzler; Vera Claythorne, Teresa Allen; Philip Lombard, Rick Clark; Anthony Marston, Robert Waters; William Blore, Del Coleman; General Mackenzie, Brian Boyce; Emily Brent, Jan Goeking; Lawrence Wargrave, Rob Bosanko; Dr. Armstrong, Mike Stubbs; Mimi Carbery, Student Director.

"The murderer is one of us!" "Which of us?" Vera, Philip and Wargrave show their anxiety and suspicion in their faces.

"The guests will be here in a few minutes, making that stiff climb an excuse for a drink. . . like some others I know!" Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and Narracott are exasperated at the thought of more guests underfoot.

Dr. Armstrong, Miss Emily Brent, General Mackenzie and Mr. Blore wait and wonder who will be the next victim.

ORGANIZATION

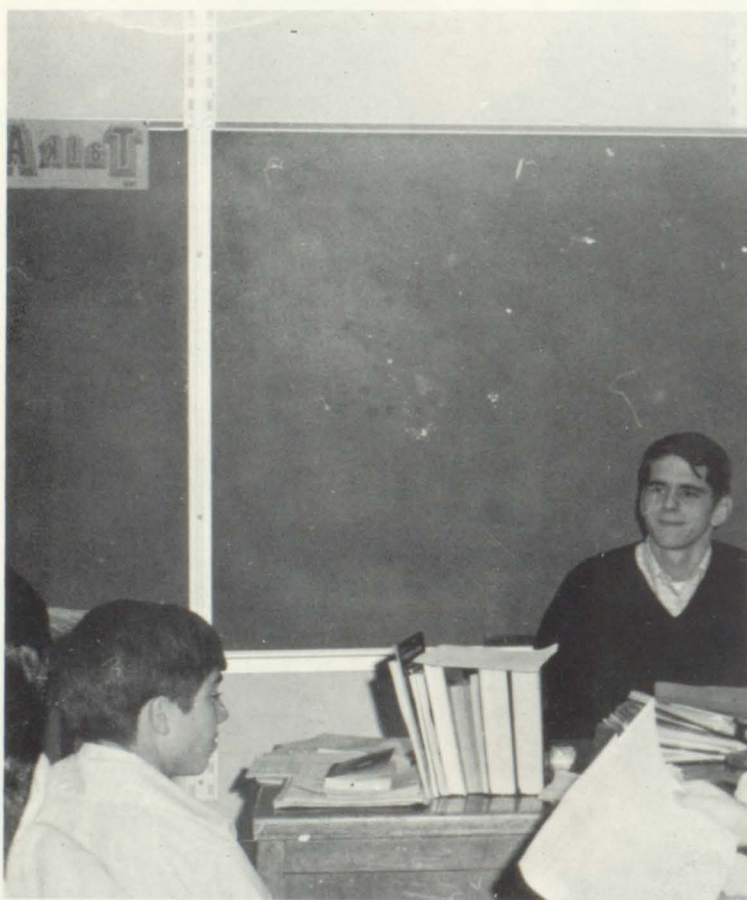

Organizations give the student body the opportunity to show their pride and loyalty to their school. Through organized activities, the Brave New Image came into focus in the successes of J.C.L. at the state convention, the Kay-Kayette Conference which our Kays and Kayettes hosted so courteously and efficiently, the loyalty and enthusiasm of the Pep Club and the expanded activities of the Band and Thespians. These are but a few of the ways that the student body and Bonner High enhanced the Image of the New Braves.

Stu-Co members Randy Hestand, Amy Ottinger, Wade Brotherson, and Debbie Freund during a more humorous moment of a meeting.

Stu-Co Speaks, Acts For Entire Student Body

"What do you mean 20th? It's only our 18th dress code, Randy," replies Steve Heffley.

Stu-Co is an organization of elected members of the student body bonded together to serve as liaison between the student body and administration, under the direction of Steve Heffley, president, Mr. Doug Collins, and Mr. Ken Russell, sponsors. They listen to suggestions, opinions, and ideas, and then try to turn them into realities.

This year Stu-Co sponsored the football victory dance and the sale of Bonner "booster buttons." This is in addition to their annual task of sponsoring the Homecoming Activities.

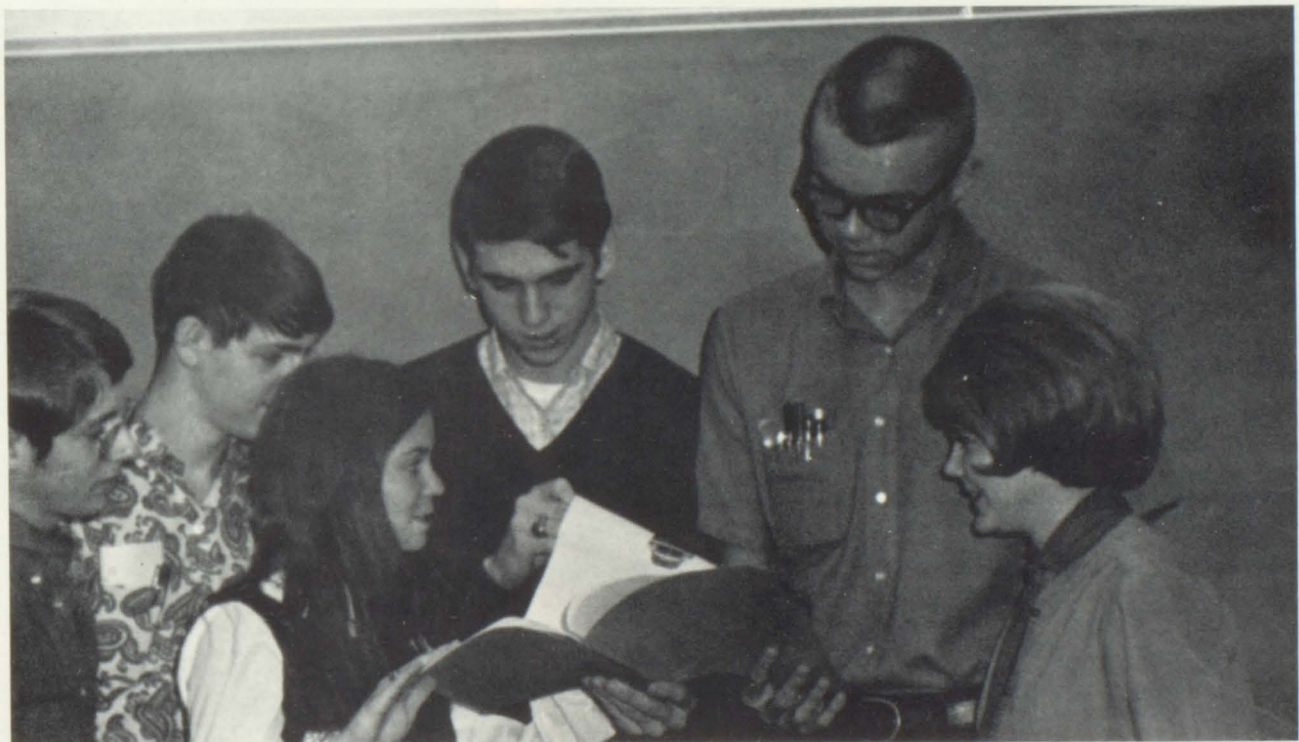

The most important project sponsored by Stu-Co was the School Partnership Program which finances the building of a school in a foreign land. This program, supported by money pledges from all of the school's organizations, reached its goal of $1,000 early this spring.

"I know these meetings are boring, but will you please wake Mr. Collins anyway?" whispers Mr. Russell to president Steve Heffley.

"It's a fold-out of Alfred E. Newman," informs Debbie Bicknell to Debbie Freund while Gary Jennings, Brian Boyce, Steve Heffley and Wade Brotherson gaze over the picture.

FTA Is Established At Bonner

"We are never present with, but always beyond ourselves. Fear, desire, and hope are still pushing us on toward the future."

—Montague

The Future Teachers of America is a new organization this year. The club has obtained its charter and concentrates on the day when each will follow his own future and replace the ignorance in many minds with a knowledge that will destroy hate and prejudice and instill pride and understanding.

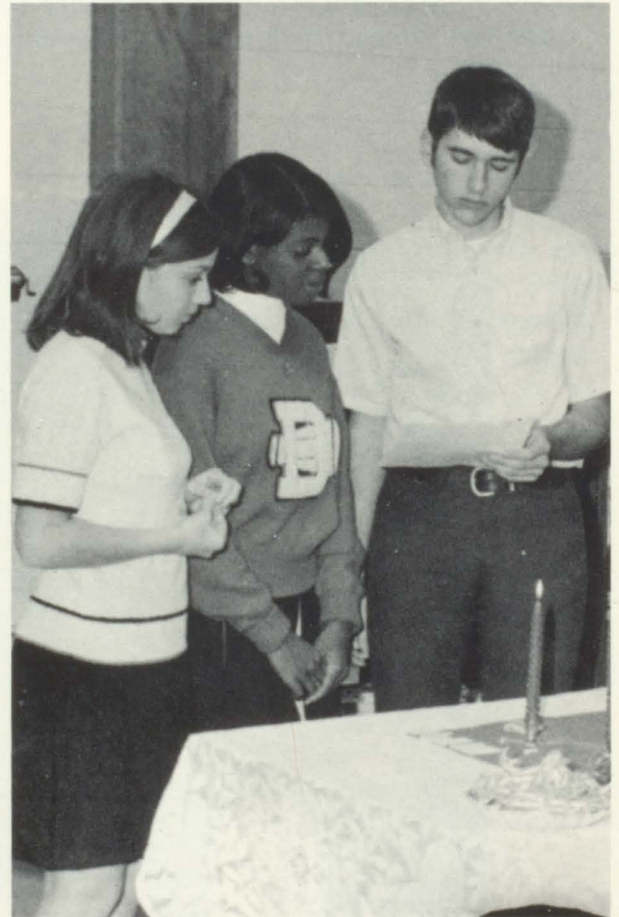

The students are proud of their new organization and hope to uphold the true meaning and purpose of its existence now in its first year of activity and as the years pass.

Amy Ottinger, President, seems to be a good choice in leading the club for its initial year of activity.

Many members actively took part in the ceremonies of their new organization.

Newly elected officers Beverly Brown, Secretary; Cecilia Garrison, Treasurer; and Robin Bosanko, Vice-President, take oaths for their new offices.

Teachers and board members participated in the initiation and charter ceremonies for the new club.

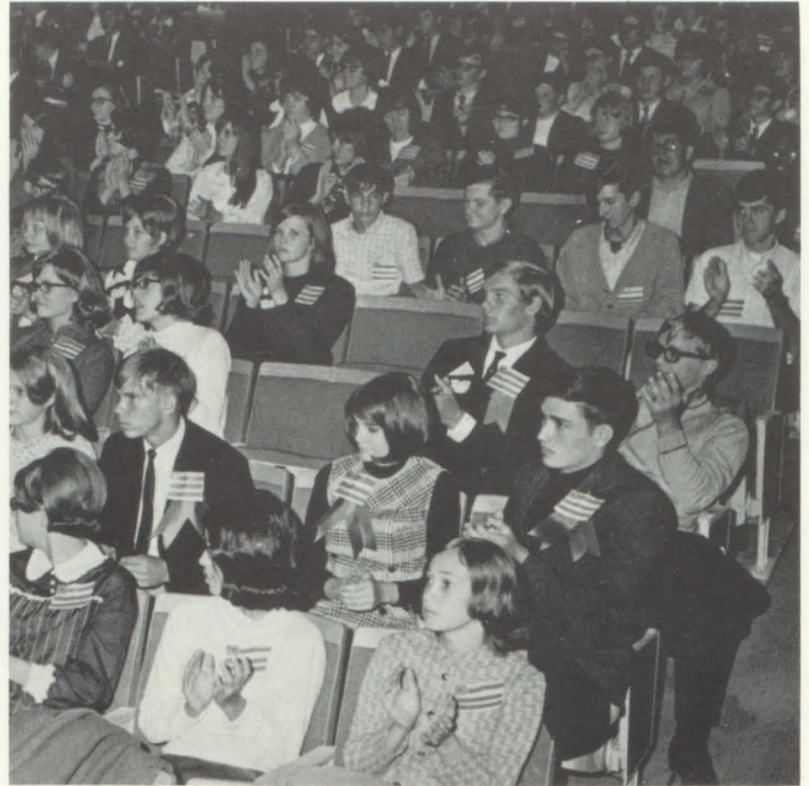

Expression proves proud!

Sponsors Mr. Beck and Mrs. Stith and Principal Mr. Stokesbury and new officers join together in making the club official.

"Who says we haven't got the greatest group in the state?" comments Miss Wanda M. Vinson, Kayette State Advisor at the regional meeting held at Bonner High.

1,2,3,—clap together now! The Kays and Kayettes gather in the school auditorium for a lecture as part of the conference program.

"How come the welcome mats are on the ceiling?" ask intelligent members attending the conference.

'68-'69 Kayettes Fullfill Responsibilities

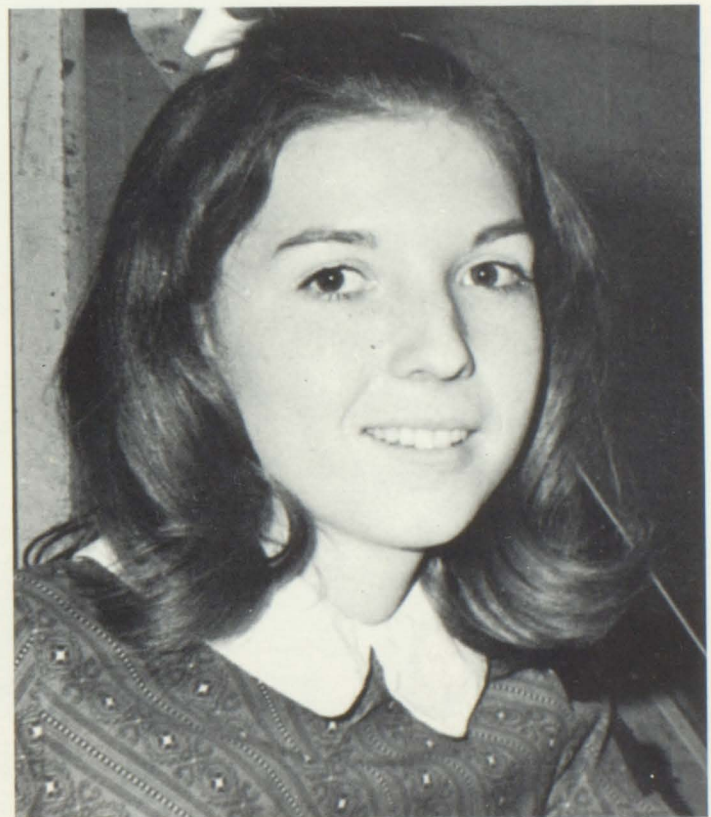

Bonner Springs Kayette Executive Board (seated) are under the direction of Jan Goeking (president) at a club meeting in the high school auditorium.

This year's '68-'69 Kayettes dutifully accepted to serve their community, school, and world.

The largest project of Kayettes this school year was sponsoring Kay-Kayette Conference. The all-day event included a mixer, an opening assembly, lunch, guest speakers for entertainment, and a dinner banquet. The evening ended for the all-state Kay-Kayette members after the awards assembly. The '68-'69 conference was a highlighted success of Kayette progress for the year.

Other projects were; sending canned food to needy families, and the Holly Drive in which profits aided the Cerebral Palsy Fund.

New sponsors for the '68-'69 Kayette year were Mrs. Dunn and Miss Twedle.

Dedicating herself to Kayette tasks is Jan Goeking (senior), president of the club.

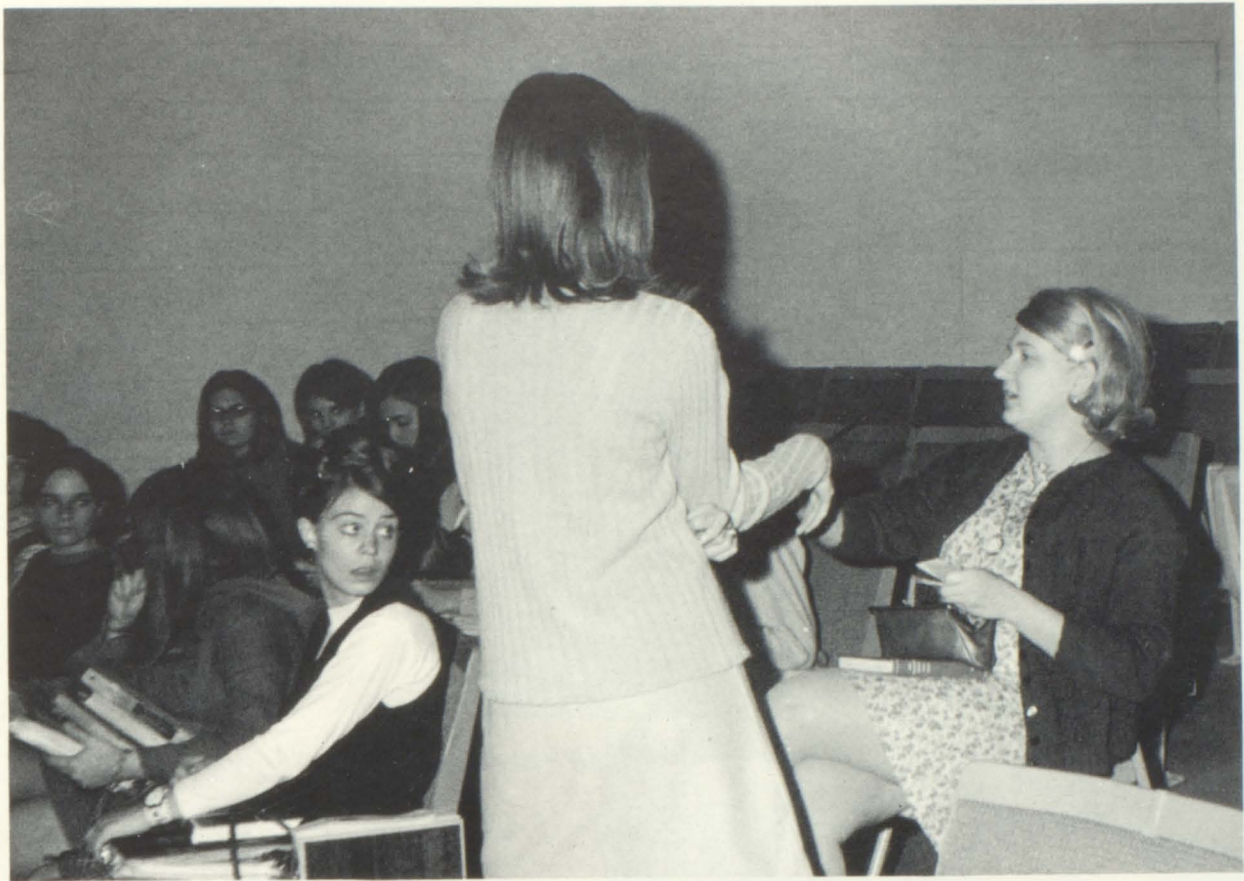

"A funny thing happened to me on the way to school today," comments Nanci Stubblefield in a Kayette blue group discussion.

"The Holly Drive was two months ago," explains Janice Goeking to a confused Kayette member.

Kayette president, Jan Goeking; sponsor, Mrs. Dunn; and board members decide which band will play for the conference mixer.

Sponsor, Miss Tweddle challenges Jan Goeking to a thumb wrestling match while the interested executive members watch.

"Put that back!" exclaims Mary Honeywell to over-eager Kayette members. Registering was one of the many jobs involved in showing hospitality at conference.

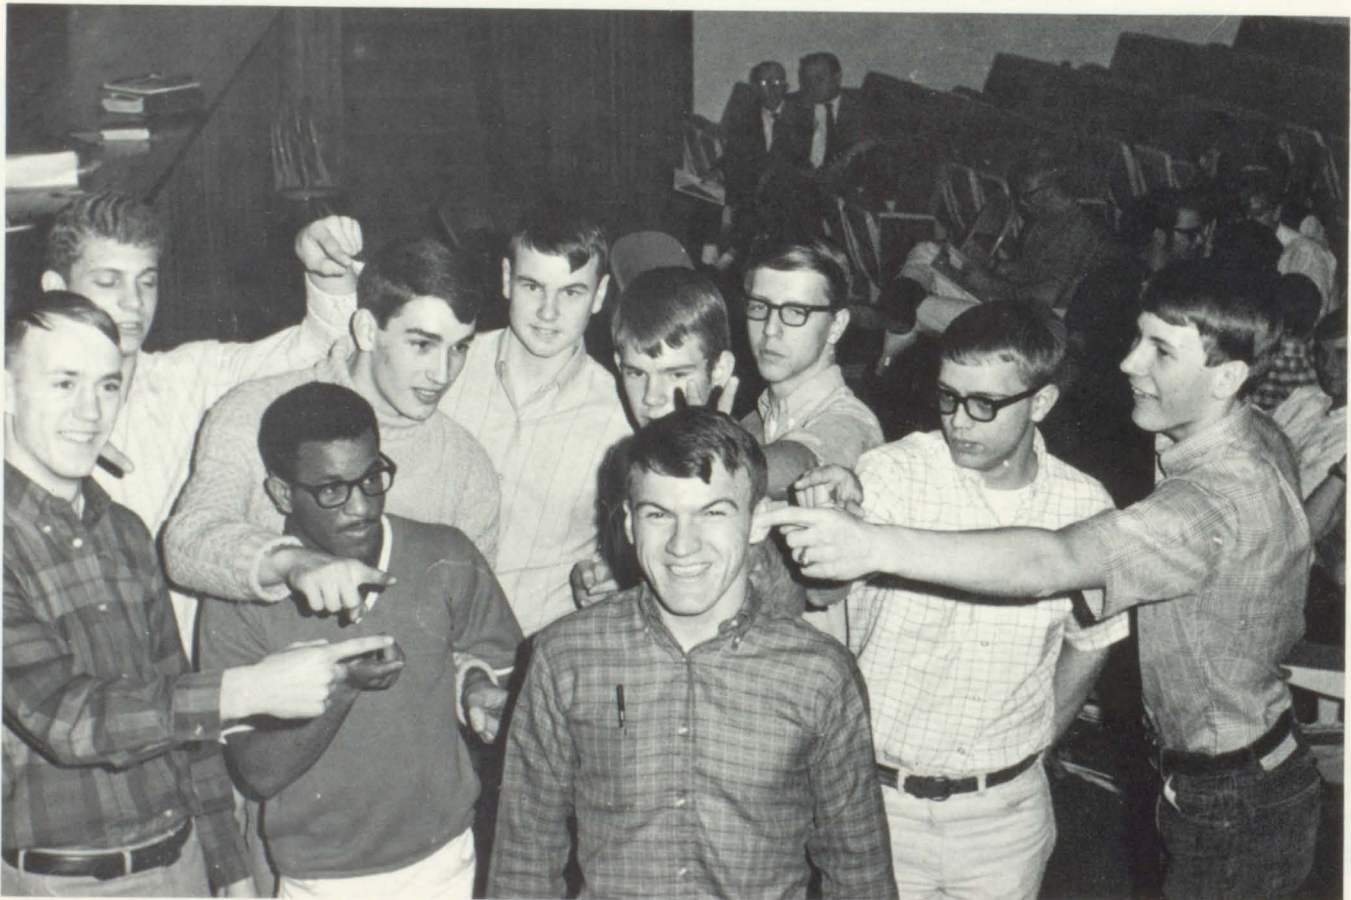

"America needs more young people like you Kays and Kayettes," declares a speaker at Kay-Kayette conference.

Mr. McBurney and Mr. Dick Nelson, Kay's sponsor, look over notes before the beginning of a meeting.

This year, under the leadership of Kirk Scheidt, Kays sponsored the cowboy day and dance and helped in hosting the Kay-Kayette Conference. As a service group, they were on hand when needed to assist organizations which needed them.

Kays Help With Successful Conference

Ward, Larry Tate, Jerry Mellott, and Clifford Eveland all point to the man in charge, president Kirk Scheidt.

FHA Makes Homemaking Exciting

The Future Homemakers of America are taught to perform the many skills which are required in daily life. They are usually the girls who are interested in careers in Nursing, Home Economics, or becoming better housewives.

Their many projects this year included a Thanksgiving Food drive, St. Patrick's Day tray favors, the annual Freshman Tea, and an Easter egg hunt for the deaf.

They add the dainty touches of courtesy and color with their interest and high standards.

FHA executives are: Pauline Constock, Mary Twist, Billie Neal, Nancy Straub, Debbie Moss and Debbie Mellott.

Now really! "Do you think it will be any good?" asks Sandi Dunn.

Pep Club Backs Braves

The loyal leaders of the school's largest club are: Patti Meier, Vice President; Mary Honeywell, Treasurer; Barbara Pinkepanke, President; and Wendy Lange, Secretary.

Pep Club started off the year by inspiring a victorious football season. New policies developed requiring girls to attend games weekly. Hard-working officers were distinguished from other members by wearing new uniforms of white turtleneck sweaters under black wool jumpers.

The Pep Club sponsored Christmas Dance was the highlight of the year. The theme, "Toyland," was displayed with creative decorations and enchanting ornaments.

Members, spirited and dependable, enthusiastic and proud, were united and ready to set forth a brave new image of Bonner Springs High School. The 1968-69 Pep Club honorably proved capable of backing the Braves with their full support.

"Sure you missed the bus!" scowls sponsor, Miss Sheley to a member as Mrs. Hughes, also sponsor, looks on. Mrs. Cockburn the third Pep Club Sponsor is not shown.

Tension mounts as members cheer an exciting, remaining 20 seconds.

Head cheerleader, Mimi Carbery, does her best to instill enthusiasm in the Pep Club.

"Beat the Mustangs!" yell the cheerleaders and Pep Club in unison.

Jana Reardon, Wendy Lange and Linda Blancarte demonstrate the proper way of boarding the Pep Club bus.

Encouraging loyalty, enthusiasm and spirit describes the task a cheerleader accepts. Our cheerleaders performed this task triumphantly throughout the '68-'69 year. During summer cheerleading camp, our outstanding cheerleaders were successful in earning ten blue ribbons, the spirit stick and first place in all competition awards. Their performances at all of our athletic events showed their superior skill and their leadership.

Leading the Braves to victory are: Marie Miller, senior (co-captain), Mimi Carbery, senior (co-captain), Debbie Wasson, senior, Barbara Honeywell, junior, Cecelia Garrison, senior, Dede Freund, junior and alternate Alicia Williams, junior.

JV Cheerleaders—Debbie Johnson, Wendy Honeywell, Toni Foster, Pam Gallagher, Mary Goble, Shari Jennings (head cheerleader) and Patty Bricker.

Toni Foster, Patty Bricker and Mary Goble seriously discuss football strategy.

The varsity cheerleaders stimulate enthusiasm during a pep rally.

Pep Club enthusiasm proves that Bonner spirit conquers all.

Joe Grinstead just can't "Rack 'em up" like Mr. Burns can.

Nancy Herring sets a good example as being the only member wearing her pep club uniform.

Even cheerleaders relax a minute from their spirit-rousing experiences with Bonner's Pep Club.

Faithful members sacrifice Saturday mornings for money-making projects such as collecting newspapers.

Prestige And Ability

The 1968-69 season for B-Club upheld their honor of athletics since generally all the Brave members portrayed the image of champions. This year, coaches Mr. Young, Mr. Nealy, and Mr. Burns sponsored B-Club.

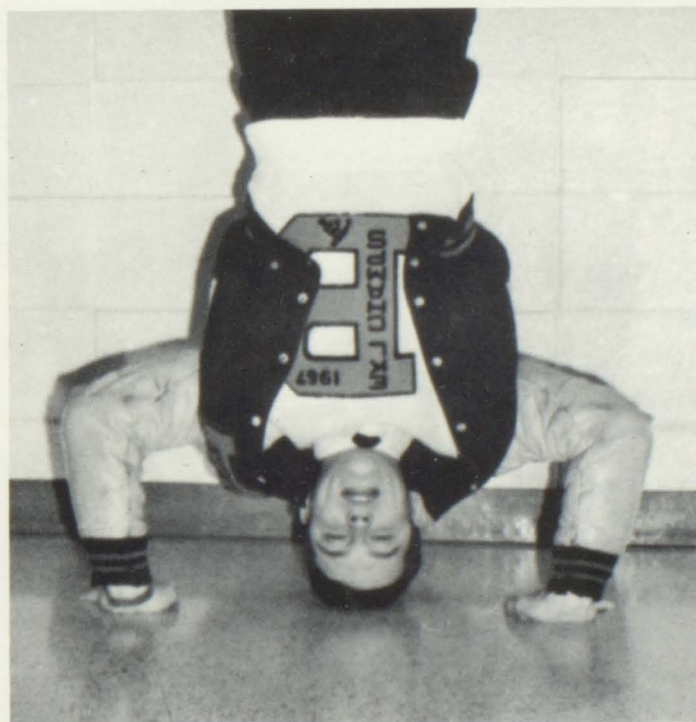

For a money-making project the B-Club had a chili supper prior to the Coaches/K.C. Chiefs basketball game. The annual spring picnic with a moderate initiation of the new lettermen climaxed the year.

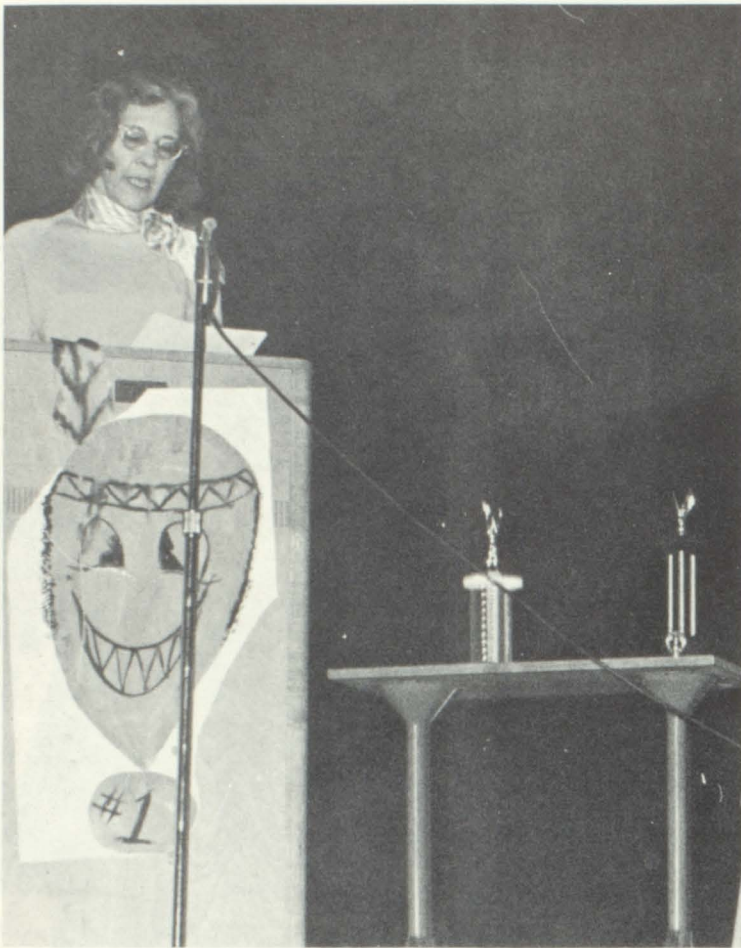

Posing under the mighty Brave mascot are the B-Club officers, Kenny Miller, vice-president; Arthur Craig, president; and Virgil DeFries, secretary-treasurer.

JCL Seizes State Title Again For BSHS

The Junior Classical League, composed of the Latin classes, reveals a pride and versatility among its members. This year Mrs. Doris Stith, Latin teacher and sponsor, initiated the course, Latin III, into the BSHS curriculum in order to cope with the growth in interest in Latin heritage. The exciting but inflationary slave auction, the absurd but witty skits, and spirited Latin songs occupied the successful year. Mrs. Doris Stith provided the winning incentive when the club went to Manhattan, Kansas, in February to participate in the JCL State Convention. They brought back both the academic and olympic first place trophies after dominating the convention for the 4th consecutive year. Consequently, Latin is not dead but alive and living in the active and flourishing Junior Classical League of BSHS.

"Veni, Vidi, Vici," expresses Mrs. Doris Stith's attitude as she shows the student body the triumphant trophies of her "legions."

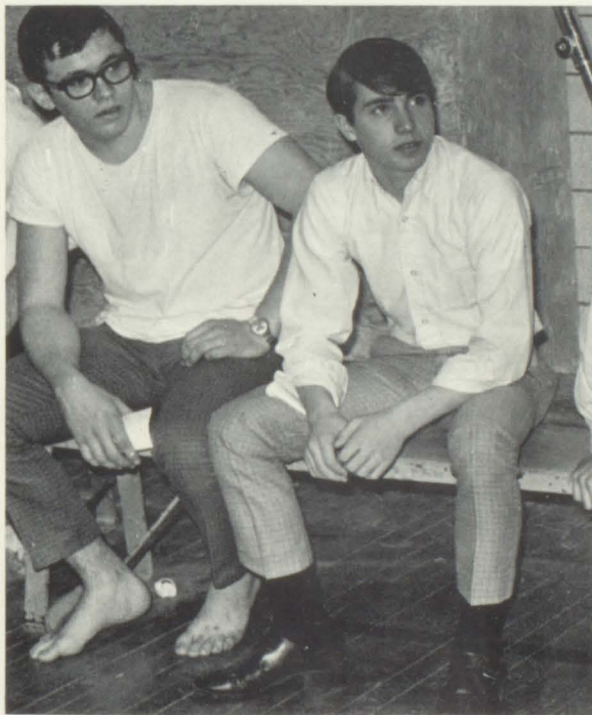

Students amuse themselves by shouting a chorus of the JCL song.

"Could this be the 13th Labor of Hercules?!"

Students settle down to a Fit-for-a-King meal of nectar and ambrosia.

Pat McGraw, JCL president, awaits with Randy to test the strength of his Achilles' heel.

JCLers offered a sidekick for the skilled olympians in the pentathlon.

French Club Plans For Future

The French Club officers for 1968-69 are: Cathy Purtee, treasurer; Mary Honeywell, representative; Debbie Calkins, vice-president; Jean Pruitt, secretary; Jonetta Stransky, president.

French Club seems to have fun posing proudly for the camera.

French Club presents a meeting of educational and social interest to the membership. This change, to a seminar type meeting, is the result of the 1969 graduates and their eager desire to make changes for the better. Honor French, a new group this year, consists of seniors with a B average and four years of French. Again a change for the better by the leadership. The membership in French Club is regular and enthusiastic and their successful French Carnival is a result of this enthusiasm.

Mrs. Cockburn smiles and wonders what to do with French IV. Must she teach them?

Jonetta Stransky, Jan Goeking, Jean Pruitt, Debbie Wasson, and Mary Honeywell are the first five members of Honor French.

Jonetta Stransky, president, and club think of ideas for the French Carnival.

Mrs. Cockburn explains to Cecelia that the ear phone isn't put around the waist, but on the ears.

"69", A Proven Year

This year's Thespians smiling and happy, pose to be an energetic and enthusiastic group of dramatic artists.

Often the look of concern and interest crosses the face of many Thespians such as proven by Cindy Charleston, Doug Clark, and Brian Paxton.

The year of "69" was a proven year of success for the Bonner Thespians troupe. Even though one of the smallest organizations in the school, its size does not indicate its abilities.

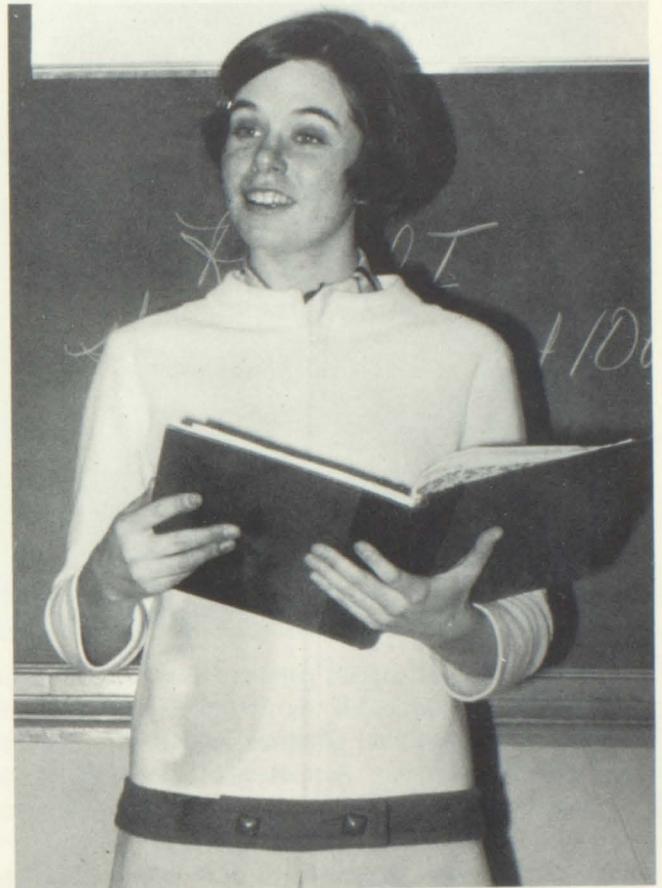

This year's activities included many successful play productions, "Once Upon A Mattress," and the spring dramatic, "Ten Little Indians." A new type of production was produced this year also, a childrens' drama which was "The Stolen Prince". It was rehearsed and brought to magical life at the high school and then toured at the grade schools for the childrens' enjoyment.

Besides play productions, members excelled in speech contest and other various activities. "69" was a proven year of success.

SPORTS

The Brave New Image took on it's most exciting reality in the achievements in sports. Championships and co-championships, trophies and new records were collected by the Bonner Braves with a supporting student body cheering them on. A pace has been set...an indelible image had been designed...a winning future has been initiated.

1968 was the Championship year for Bonner Springs Braves Footballers. Not since 1960 has Bonner claimed any part of a football championship. So, the Braves set out with a new enthusiasm led by coaches Phil Young, Ed Nealey, and Doug Collins, and accomplished their goal. After an opening game, non-league loss to Northeast, the Braves lost only to Turner, with whom they shared the EKL title.

Basketball Co-Championship

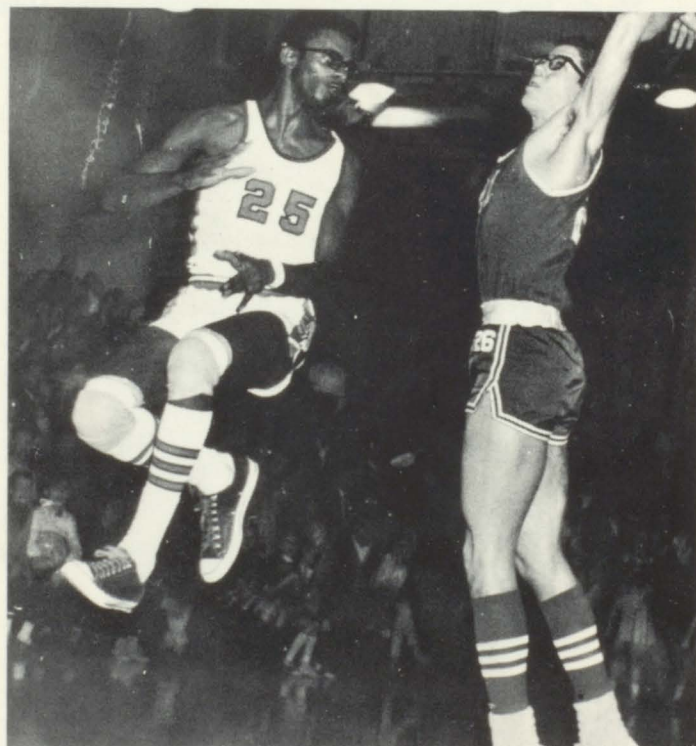

The 1968-69 basketball season turned out to be the most productive season in the school's history: 16-5 overall record, 8-2 league record, EKL co-champs, second place in EKL tournament, and second place in the class 3A regional tournament in Atchison. The season started out inconspicuously enough as the Braves dropped two of their first four games. After the Christmas break, Bonner caught fire and won six games in a row before falling to Ottawa on February 7th. Following the Ottawa loss, they ran over six more opponents in a row before Turner stopped them in the final regular season game. In the regional, the Braves defeated Rosedale in the first round, and Tonganoxie in the semi-finals, before bowing to Atchison (the eventual state champions) in the championship game.

The 1968-69 Bonner Braves wrestling team ended up with a 8-1 record. Their one defeat went to the determined Effingham team.

The grapplers had many highlights as they captured first in the E.K.L. for the third consecutive year. The grapplers also took first at district placing nine into regionals. With going to regionals the Braves were capable of taking first and also placing eight to state. This was more boys going to state than any other team. The boys going to state were; Larry Cooper, Virgil DeFries, Mike Slickelman, Kenny Walton, Kenny Miller, Guy Tiner, Steve Elmer, and Steve McConico.

This year at the state wrestling tournament Bonner took eight boys and was able to take a second and a third place. Taking second was Guy Tiner, who also took first at EKL, District, Regional, and AAU. Taking third at state was Kenny Walton, who defeated his opponent in one of the finest matches at the tournament.

CLASSES

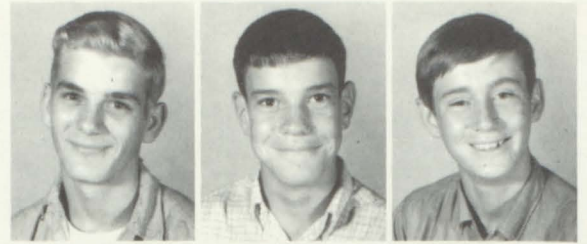

From little Braves to Big Braves, there is the unity of one tribe working toward a common ideal—the Image of the Braves. The freshmen came into the high school reservation eager to be taught the knowledge and skills necessary to be a part of that image. The Sophomores continued their efforts and contributed to the winning Image. The Juniors filled in the necessary places to keep up the traditions of the Braves' Image and the Seniors perpetuated the Image with their efforts and their loyalty. The senior Braves look at the Image not only as a part of their school life but a part of their character and preparation for their future—a continuing Brave. . . always a Brave!

David Jaynes is the chosen culprit from the line-up down at headquarters.

ADVERTISING

Through their constant support and interest, the merchants of the area show that the Braves are one of their favorite groups of people. They give financial support by buying advertising in our yearbook, they give moral support by supporting all of our activities with their attendance and through the enthusiasm of the Booster Club and they give their trust by hiring students to work in their establishments whenever they can. We know that the merchants of the area are the friends of the Braves and we appreciate their friendship, their loyalty and their financial support.

Dress-down Day EQUALS SELF-EXPRESSION

"Hi, y'all!"

Miss Bonner Springs picks Mr. Bonner Springs from "The Lineup!"

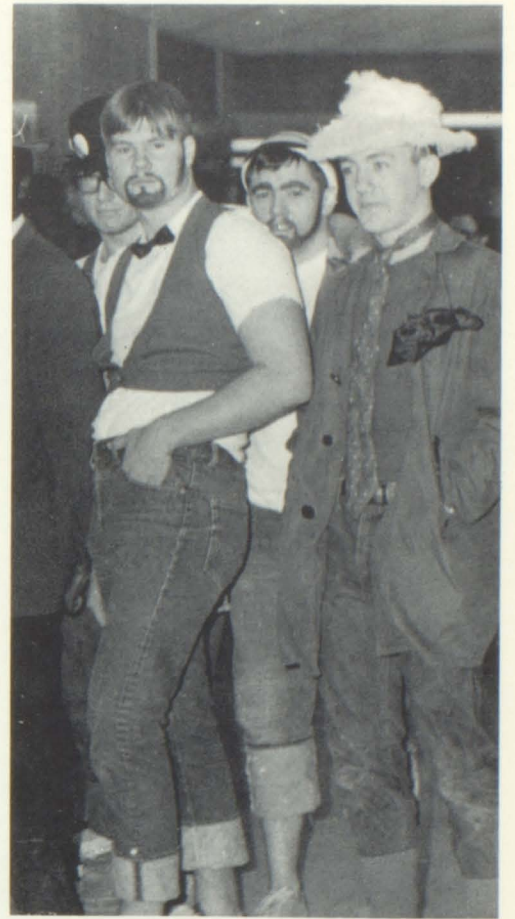

Two students, Raquel and Stone Hudson shake a leg at a Bonner mixer.

2 bits, 4 bits, 6 bits, a dollar! All for Bonner. . . stand up and holler!

Tony (I Spy) Stubbs thinks, "This is a rare find. A Spanish senorita and Bonner Springs Hebrew."

Farmers and Kirby move into Bonner for a Saturday night of "whooping it up!"

Students return from a field trip to a big industrial metropolis of Kansas. . .Edwardsville.
