1981 Totem Pole Dedicated to Mr. Don Craven

The 1980-81 Totem Pole has been dedicated to Mr. Don Craven, American History and American Government teacher at Bonner Springs High School.

Mr. Craven came to Bonner High in the 1969-70 school year after serving 26 years in the Armed Forces. His first ten years were with the United States Air Corps and the final 16 years with the Strategic Air Command. He has traveled to every continent on the planet except Australia and South America. He has also served in Korea and Vietnam. He retired from the Armed Forces with the rank of Major.

Something unusual: a big smile on Mr. Craven's face.

What evil thoughts lurk behind that mild-mannered face?

A more normal expression.

Mr. Craven scratching his back against the wall in Mrs. Wind's room.

We Are Sexy, We Are Funny

A Seasoned Man

What a profile!

Busy at work trying to keep busy.

Mr. Craven attended the Kansas City Junior College and the New York University at Plattsburg, New York. Prior to coming to Bonner, he renewed his credits at the University of Kansas.

Presently, Mr. Craven teaches American History, Government, and Social Science Survey. He has also taught Sociology and Ethnic Studies. He is well known as the Student Council sponsor.

That characteristic dumbfounded glare.

Tammy Stude tries to ignore Mr. Craven.

Free at Last: Mrs. Stith and the Class of '81

After forty years of dedicated service to Bonner Springs High School, Mrs. Doris Stith retired from teaching. In the course of her career Mrs. Stith has made herself one of the most respected members of the Bonner Springs community. Students and parents of students know her as the person who introduced them to the great writers, opened their eyes to the beauty of the English language, and guided them through the roots and stems of the language with her Latin. Those of us who have benefited from her knowledge and teaching can appreciate her ceaseless dedication. Bonner High owes Mrs. Stith a great thanks.

"The Curious Savage" Cracks Us Up!

How can teenagers not like a little old lady who carries a Teddy Bear around all the time, especially one that is loaded with wealth. "Ethel P. Savage" became an eccentric heroine and we loved her and the play.

Mrs. Paddy, (Melody Smith) delighted the audience with her unique style and turn of mind. She awakened the audience to the humor in hate with her dissertations and her lists of what she hated—"cold cream, catfish, codfish, crawfish, catnip, politicians"—usually in alphabetical order.

Mrs. Savage seems quite capable of fending off her selfish step-children, so long as she is able to keep her Teddy Bear near her.

Mrs. Paddy's hate for electricity and Miss Willy's quick theft save Mrs. Savage's wealth and her peace of mind.

"Once Upon a Mattress"—A Stage Hit

Princess Winnifred, Susan Leininger, tosses and turns on her bed of twenty downy mattresses, unable to sleep.

To help the princess sleep, the queen sends in the Nightingale of Samerkin, Angie Smith, to serenade Winnifred into slumber.

Under the direction of Mrs. Katie Marshall, Mr. Mitch Miles, and Mr. Larry Berg, the spring musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," was a smashing success. With Susan Leininger and Ross Woolf playing the lead roles, the Drama Department turned the Bonner High stage into a Medieval castle of comedy.

The plot of this hilarious play revolved around the old fairy tale of the "Princess and the Pea" and was the "real story" of what happened to the famous princess who was so sensitive, she couldn't sleep on a bed of twenty downy mattresses even when one tiny pea was placed underneath.

With Dean Standridge as the stage manager, the technical crew played a leading role themselves, constructing complex and realistic sets and doing interesting lighting of their castle set. By renting costumes from a theatrical supplier, the costumes added a professional touch to the play.

As the play opens, Prince Dauntless, Ross Woolf; Queen Aggravain, Regina Stillman; King Sextimus, Richard Gumm; and the Wizard, Alonzo Linan, watch as Princess #12 fails the "Royalty Test."

These Performers Give Show Stopping Performances

Upper Left: Susan Leinger belts out her song of love, hoping she will live "Happily Ever After."

Upper Right: Regina Stillman sings her own solo, planning a much different end for the Princess.

Right: Richard Grumm, Erin Shevling and Mel Boswell are too busy celebrating the present to think about the future.

Lower Left: Erin Shevling reminisces about the past rather than think about what lies ahead.

Lower Right: Erin Shevling, Polly Phillips and Mel Boswell sing of a future in a happier place named "Normandy."

Lady Larken, Polly Phillips, does her best to tell Sir Harry, Mike Camp, that she is pregnant.

As the play ends, it is the Queen who is silent and the King who can speak.

Princess Winnifred, Susan Leininger, fails to impress the court with her acrobatic skills.

Members of the cast look on, hoping someone will make an entrance.

The Knights and Ladies of the Court stare in amazement as they watch Princess Winnifred swim the moat.

Regina Stillman, as the domineering Queen Aggravain, plots to get rid of Princess Winnifred and asks the Wizard, Alonzo Linan, for his assistance.

Susan Leining as the Princess, announces that she didn't sleep a wink, causing the Queen to be livid with frustration.

King Sextimus, Richard Gumm, explains the "facts of life" to Prince Dauntless, Ross Woolf, IN PANTOMIME, no less.

"Young Love"

The Valentine Dance gave young lovers an opportunity to dance the night away in a romantic setting. The Sweetheart Couple for 1981 were Dan Vitt and Tracy Tallman. The others shown are: Patty Stoneking with Joe Saunders, Marty Wright and Mark Cozine, and Wendall Mallory and Sherrita Newton.

Open House—Seems Like Old Times —to Our Parents

In an effort to show our parents and the community that we really are doing things while we are in school, we hold an annual Open House. Our parents visit the school, go through our hourly schedule on a 5 minute schedule and visit our teachers and our classrooms. Over refreshments they meet each other, and we realize how interested our parents are in us, our school and our activities.

The freshman team, under Coach Bob Chatterton, had one of its finest seasons in recent years, finishing with a 5-2 record.

Harriers Impressive in Final Meets

Led by seniors Ray Mosier and Dan Ballou, the Bonner High Cross-Country Team finished the season on a high note. The team ended up 9th in Class 5A State competition. Ray Mosier, #1 runner on the team ran a 3rd place clocking at State. Dan Ballou legged a 10th place finish while sophomore Dan Burnam sprinted to 55th. Junior John "Fred" Hecke cruised to a 59th place and frosh Troy Kindred placed 60th. Sophomore Ricky Smith grabbed 77th and freshman Scott Stine grabbed 97th.

The team started the season with high hopes, but after a disappointing first three meets, the Braves finally began to put it all together. Ray Mosier won the Miede Invitational while Dan Ballou took 4th as the team captured the 3rd place trophy. From there they went on to take 3rd in Blue Valley Invitational, followed by a 3rd at the Ward Invitational.

The disappointing 4th at EKL with Mosier as the EKL Champ, led the Harriers to place in the top 4th at the Regionals and a trip to the State Meet.

Coach Atwell's inspired coaching led the Braves all season. His ability to encourage a Harrier to reach and pass his potential has made his record at Bonner one to be proud of.

Two members of the Bonner Springs High School Volleyball Team were named to the EKL All-Tournament and League team. They were: Ruth Wagner, who was named to the All-League team for the third time in her career and has won three volleyball letters, and Judy Kuehn, who was named for the first time and is a two-year letter winner.

Bonner Springs Coach Pat Sears said that the selection was made on the basis of performance at the EKL Tournament held in October at Miege. She said that each coach nominates members of her team and the voting is done by league coaches, with the local coach not allowed to vote on her nominees. The top 12 vote-getters are named to the All-League team.

Wagner excelled in net play and

Kuehn performed as a setter for Bonner. These two, along with other seniors Carol McGraw, Sandy Riemer and Tillie Burns, were the center of a team that finished with a 9-12 record. At 9-12, Bonners' record wasn't as good as last year's 11-7, but this was a year when individual statistics stood out.

Girl Netters Make Racket "Golden Girls"

Just in their second year of play, the Bonner girl netters continued to improve. Despite their youth and inexperience, the team frustrated many seasoned pros. Led by Coach Bill Scott, the team learned the rackets.

Nikki Stine, senior, shows her serving power.

Janice Burris, senior, follows through (and over).

Although the Braves finished the season with a 7-13 record, their season was an improvement over the 1979-80 campaign. Seven close ball games that the Braves lost kept them from a winning record. But surfacing during the season were several young players who give the future a brighter look.

Taking second at the Tonganoxie tournament, the Braves highlighted their season by winning three trophies—the Runner-Up Trophy, The Up-From-Under Trophy and the Most Inspirational Player Trophy to Mike Reed.

Front row: Dwayne Holder, Jody Dalebou*, Anthony Young, Randy Reed, David Hall, James Sechrist, Troy Sawalich and Eric Bucklan.

The Bravettes Who "Carried the Ball"

Although this was not their best season, the Bravettes set many individual records. Ruth Wagner broke Cheryl Chambers career scoring record and her career rebounding record. Carol McGraw led in career assists and was second to Ruth in career scoring.

Carol McGraw and Ruth Wagner made the All-EKL team while Cheryl Nealy received Honorable Mention.

Four Juniors Make State Team

Top Right: Todd Stephans attempts to bring his opponent to the mat enroute to a Regional Championship, a Second at Substate, and a Fourth Place finish at State. Above: Bonners' own little stick of dynamite, Eddie Seaton, explodes again as he wins two more Regional and Substate Championships, along with placing Third in State.

Left: Marlon Groves looks for two or maybe even three more points in this match. Marlon had a good year with a great finish as he placed third in both Regional and Substate. Right: After recovering from a broken leg, Ricky Burns had his best year yet as a BSHS matman. Ricky works on Doug Chamberlin of Miege on his way to both Regional and Substate Championships and a Third in State.

The Boys' Tennis team ended its second season much as they did in their first year of existence, below .500.

Next year's schedule is almost complete, and it looks as if the Braves will see even tougher competition than they did this year. Coach Bill Scott commented about his team's progress of this year, and of next year as well.

"I think that the boys progressed very well this season. When they began the season, they did not play as near as well as they did at the end of the year. For next year, I hope that we will do better than this year. If we plan to get anyone through Regionals, they need to play hard all summer and next fall. Nine of the 12 members of the team will return, so we should have a good, experienced group. Hopefully, four or five freshmen shall come out and keep our group large and competitive."

The Bonner Springs Golf team had an improved season over last year. Bonner took third out of five teams in the Piper Invitational, April 7th at Pajada. Also, Steve Sill and Kyle Kirchner captured third place out of a field of 12 in the two-man team at the Osawatomie Invitational.

But the most impressive event for the Braves this season was when Kyle Kirchner qualified in the Regionals to go to State competition, the first time anyone from Bonner has competed in the State meet since 1972.

Senior swinger, Steve Sill.

Fall Sports Banquet Celebrates Athletes "North Bonner 40"

With Ed Nealy serving as Master of Ceremonies and chief jokester, the fall sports banquet was a panorama of sports achievement and community pride. Sponsored by the Bonner Booster Club, the athletes were treated to a buffet before their letters were awarded. Sixty-one athletes received letters for their sports achievements. It was an evening of athletic pomp and ceremony.

Athletes who participated in football, volleyball, boys and girls' cross-country and girls' tennis were honored.

Spring Sports

Banquet...1981

At the annual spring sports banquet, Carole McGraw was named female Athlete of the Year and Ray Mosier was named male Athlete of the Year. Letters were awarded in basketball, wrestling, track, tennis and golf. The cheerleaders were cited for their service to the continued enthusiasm and spirit of the student body.

The switch from Pep Club to Spirit Club and the addition of male members seemed to be the needed change for a successful season. In addition to adding enthusiasm and cheers of the sports, events, Spirit Club purchased T-shirts, sponsored a Queen candidate for Homecoming, Christmas dance, and the Tonganoxie Tournament and had a successful Christmas party. Perhaps the biggest achievement of the Spirit Club was the large number of members who rooted at the Tongy Tournament where they competed in a spirit contest.

The Kayettes enjoyed a successful year under strong leadership from its officers, board and sponsors. They kicked the year off by serving cold drinks and cookies to the faculty during enrollment. Holidays are special for Kayettes. . .and they make sure every one knows it with their decorations and their celebrations. They collect food for needy families for Thanksgiving and Christmas, they support an orphan in India, they have a secret Valentine exchange. The biggest event this year was their "Mr. Irresistible" contest. . .a replacement for their annual powder-puff football game. They not only made enough money for their yearly projects, they also found the most irresistible male at BSHS.

Kayettes Search for a Perfect "10"

This year the Kayettes sponsored the first annual Mr. Irresistible contest. He was selected in the following manner. Girls purchased paper flowers at the Kayette booth. Boys made every effort they could to get a girl to speak to him. If she did, she had to give him a flower. And, of course, the winner was the handsome, irresistible young man who had the largest collection of flowers.

Mr. Irresistible, 1981, was Dean Standridge and the runner up was Ricky Ochoa. Besides the titles, the two fellows and their dates were served a candlelight dinner by the Kayettes.

Membership Drive Is "Stir Crazy" with Silly Supper

In an all-out effort to bring in members that would enjoy the kind of things that FHA/HERO did, the club held a "silly supper." The evening was a meal of errors with the diners not knowing what they were getting from the names on the menu. Even the meal order was a mystery with some getting their dessert first.

The officers prepared and served the food with the assistance of two new members.

The Family that Works Together Stays Together

The motto for FHA/HEREO for 1980-81.

Kay Moore gives her adopted child her full attention. In an effort to bring about the impact of family responsibility, each girl adopted one or more children (a raw egg) and was responsible for its care for two weeks. They had to give it a home, clothes and care for it. . .and carelessness meant that it got broken. At the end of two weeks, each member brought back her child and was rated for the care. Those who were careless were childless. . .and those who were careful and loving brought their child and prizes were awarded.

Donna Cummings, Rose McCurdy, Leslie Davis, Barbara McCurdy and Charita Newton served refreshments made by the Home Economics Department at the Christmas dance.

Parents Join Their Children for a Parent Night at FHA

Once a year, FHA has Parent Night. . .for dinner and installation of officer for the next year. As the responsibility changes from the old to the new, the new officers are charged with the responsibility of carrying on the FHA traditions.

Bonner came away from the convention with three firsts. Kecia Stolfus won the banner contest, Mary Berlin took the costume contest, and Jeff Shuster placed first on the derivative. In addition, Shuster tied with Kim Palmberg for second on the grammar test and Dale Hammontree placed third on the derivative. Coupled with their work in the International Dinner and their own picnic in the spring, JCL had an active and enjoyable year.

The Band. . . Versatile and Talented

The John Philip Sousa Award is presented each year to the most outstanding senior member of the band. The selection is made by the band members themselves, based on talent, leadership and popularity. Mel Boswell was selected for the award and his four years of dedication to his love of music and band activities were awarded.

National Gold Medal Winners John Colgan, Twen Hurley, and Frank Dressler.

Mrs. Knowles and Karen Ford scrutinize work at the Arts Festival.

In Regional competition, Dan Vitt and Karen Ford won honorable mentions, and John, Twen, and Frank won gold keys.

In an outstanding year for the crafts department, three national gold medals were won by students in Scholastic Arts competition. John Colgan, senior, won with a sterling silver bodonics lighted Diode box with plique-a-jour enameled ring and 24 karat electro plated gild interior. Junior Frank Dressler won with a sterling silver leather-lined ring box featuring garnets, ivory and puka shell beads on top. Twen Hurley, junior, won in textile design with a complicated interlacing color pattern used for the design of curtains and other fabrics.

The Growth of the Arts and Crafts

John Colgan, Craftsman of the Year and winner of the Armstrong Award, works with Mrs. Knowles.

Besides winning a gold key and a national gold medal, senior John Colgan came home with another award from Scholastic competition. A new honor, the Armstrong Award, was awarded to John at the Regional competition. The award was signed to recognize the best craftsman in the state of Kansas at this time.

Four Extraordinary Scholars

Melody Smith, Co-Valedictorian

For the first time ever, one class produced both two valedictorians and two salutatorians, an extraordinary achievement. With the exception of Melody, all were educated in Bonner schools their entire lives.

Tillie Burns, Co-Valedictorian

Ruth Wagner, Co-Salutatorian

Sandy Riemer, Co-Salutatorian

With G.P.A.'s of 3.987 and 4.0, Ruth, Sandy, Tillie, and Melody left some big shoes to fill.

Ruth Wagner: Citizen of the Year

Mr. Mignot and Mr. Stokesbury with the 1981 Citizen of the Year.

Ruth and her father, Mr. Denny Wagner, hearing Ruth's name announced as 1980 Homecoming Queen.

The Citizen of the Year Award, begun three years ago, was designated to honor a student who shows respect for the flag, the community, and the school. The student also shows a regard for private and public property and responsibility.

The award is backed by the Kansas State High School Activities Association and is considered the highest honor that can be bestowed on a graduating senior. The faculty votes for the most deserving senior.

Typical Ruth: easygoing, friendly, personable, fashionable.

Ruth was a standout volleyball and basketball player all four years.

Ruth topped off a perfect year being a Co-Salutatorian and speaking at the commencement exercises.

The Top of the Totem Pole

The 1981 graduating class had the largest group ever with a 3.5 grade point average or better. Along with co-valedictorians and co-salutatorians, many of them received scholarships and grants.

Some Extra-"Ordinary People"

Mrs. Mary Knowles, NHS sponsor.

From the top 25% of the senior class academically, National Honor Society initiates are chosen by the faculty on the basis of character, leadership and service to the school.

Mrs. Doris Stith was honored at the initiation for her years of participation with NHS.

NHS Adds Pomp to your Circumstance

In a solemn ceremony, the new members of the National Honor Society were pledged to the meaning of the sacred flame—to continue their education, strive to do their best throughout their lives, and uphold the meaning of the sacred flame.

Scholarships Awarded to Many Seniors

An extraordinary number of seniors received scholarships this year, encouraging them to further their education. Counterclockwise from top left: Jim Martin: Pittsburg State Athletic Scholarship; Wayne Roland: Custodial Maintenance Association Scholarship; Dan Beebe: Washburn University Scholarship; Tillie Burns: Wyandotte County P.T.A. Behind the Scene. . . The Board of Education

The dedicated men and women who become members of the Board of Education give of their time, energy and judgement in order to make available to us the best available in curriculum, facilities and environment. Their constant encouragement and their efforts make many more things possible than we can imagine. We thank them for their efforts.

Ordinarily the Board is pictured during a meeting. However, this year we photographed the Board of Education as they stood with us during graduation. Although it was our night, it was theirs too in the sense that many of their decisions have helped us to our place.

Under the vigilant eye of each of these men, Bonner Springs High School functions for the maximum students attending. Their watchfulness, their interest and their caring make us like them and trust them. What more can you ask!

Secretaries on the Job "9 to 5" and Longer

Transcripts, typing paper, telephones, tardies, you name it, they've got it, and they'll get it for you. Our secretaries spend their days helping students and faculty. Not a minute goes by without an emergency they have to handle. Peggy Spillman, everyone's favorite nurse, reads the parents' notes and decides whether or not you're sick.

The Keepers of the Books and Records

Between the Guidance Department and the Library, we are provided with all the necessary help and resources for making decisions, writing papers, reading materials, reference materials and whatever else we want within means.

The Library and the librarians are a constant source of information we need for class work, for our interests and our hobbies and for our recreation.

Guidance and the counselors keep us informed about our available choices after high school, our national test scores, our grade average while in school. They assist us by offering us available information about scholarships and grants and encourage us to take advantage of whatever opportunities they know about.

A Touch of Class. . . Music, Arts and Crafts

These four teachers introduce us to our own talents and creativity in a manner that makes us become more aware of our talents. Some of us are exposed for the first time to our own ability to do a craft or an art or to interpret a piece of music and we have a new feeling about ourselves.

Both Mrs. Knowles and Ms. Horvath introduce to new media to work with in their arts and crafts courses. Mr. Berg and Mr. Miles introduce us to composers and music and lyrics that we have never heard or sung before.

Before the four of them they give us new skills that we will be able to use for our recreation or our enjoyment. And they introduce us to new levels of cultural enjoyment. These are things that will go on throughout our lifetimes.

Top Right: Larry Berg, Instrumental Music.

Language Arts. . . The Art of Reading, Writing

The Language Arts Department is the largest in the school and provides us with a variety of courses and teachers and skills. With the mini-courses during our junior and senior year, we are able to learn the language arts skills in areas that we prefer and that we have a special interest in.

Upper Right: Mrs. Georgeana Mattingly, Learning Laboratory.

Lower Right: Miss Pat Sheley, Sophomore English, Language of Persuasion, Consumer English.

Listening, Understanding, Discussing and Appreciating

In our four years in the Language Arts department we find ourselves given the opportunity to enjoy a wide variety of literature from the Bible to the American Novel. We are given reading laboratory experience to increase our reading skills and our speed.

We learn to use the library in every way and to produce a comprehensive paper from that use. We learn about the psychology of words that persuade us and that we use to persuade others and we learn to be more familiar with the language and words of the marketplace.

We get the opportunity to be in play productions whether we like to act and audition for a part or whether we enjoy being a member of the crew.

All of these increase our ability to read, write, listen, understand, discuss and appreciate.

Top Right: Mrs. Georgia Pettis, Freshman English, Bible Literature, Grammar, Communications.

Middle Right: Mrs. Gisele Weber, Reading Laboratory.

Lower Right: Mrs. Katie Marshall, Speech, Drama, Technical Theatre.

How To Beat the High Cost of Living...

The mathematics department helps us to understand the relationships between numbers, amounts, costs, and on into the abstract where it helps us understand rules, laws, formulas etc. From the everyday use of math to balance a check book to the unraveling of the mysterious of the binary.

Under the careful watch of these experienced teachers, we are challenged, amused and we learn.

How To Succeed In Business. . .

Under these four teachers we learn about the world of business, business law, typing, shorthand, data processing, accounting distribution and careers in the business world. With their help we learn the importance of accuracy, speed, deadlines, rules and the many other things that prepare us for the labor market. To a graduating senior, a job is "Where its at." A senior graduating who has had all the courses in the business education department usually has a job before graduation.

Top Right: Mrs. Deena French.

Upper Middle Right; Mr. John Heckathorne.

"How I Wonder What You Are. . ."

The science department is the only placed where we can ask questions and not get the usual answer. . . "I'll explain later". . . "You're to young to know. . ." or "What do you want to know that for. . ."

Here we can question and even experiment to find the answer to our questions. We find here the meaning of the lines the King says in "The King and I". . . "Very often find confusion

In conclusion I concluded long ago."

"But. . . is a puzzlement!"

Upper Left: Mr. Dennis Wilson.

"Joan of Arc" Meets the "Man of La Mancha"

Foreign languages, foreign cultures, and all that goes with it are offered to students of French and Spanish. History of the society, past and present, tastes, art, politics, social customs all make for an interesting year. . .and students learn to use the language as they go along. Trips to ethnic restaurants, art galleries and plays are a part of the fun in the courses.

Top Right: Mrs. Pat Sears.

The Study of "the Mad Mad Mad Mad World"

Isn't easy to teach young idealists about the past and present in this world. . .and help them face the future. But under these astute members of the social science department, history, government, psychology, geography, and social science survey are used to give students clues to their jobs as conscientious, voting citizens. The politics of the world, the country and the community are looked at both critically and optimistically. And no one leaves Bonner Springs High School without knowing his fullest responsibility as a voting citizen.

"The Attack of the Killer Tomato" Banner in Home Ec

Under the enthusiastic interest of two teachers, the Home Economics department has a variety of courses which give students skills in life's everyday problems and decisions. From child care to interior decorating, from boiling an egg to preparing a dinner for a group, from sewing on a button to making an expensive garment, students are carefully guided through the simple and complex problems in everyday living. They learn eventually to be self-sufficient. . .able to care for their simple needs and their more complex ones.

Industrial Arts, always the step-child of a school curriculum, is becoming more and more vital as technology races on. Students in this department are given a glimpse of the technology which will serve as profitable careers, bring them satisfactory occupations plus make all of our lives more interesting and more comfortable.

With this bird's eye view of the world's advanced technology, students realize how much more they must know in order to be a part of the technological world and that is a big discovery.

Producers of "Superman" and "WonderWoman"

In a required two year program, these teachers give us their knowledge in showing us how to use our bodies to their fullest potential. . .and to keep them fit for top-notch performance.

Besides the regular two years, they have an additional program for advanced physical education for extra conditioning of our developing bodies. With a variety of machines that stretch, pull and extend us, we learn maximum movement and gradually achieve maximum coordination.

In addition to these processes, they coach us in a variety of sports, helping us to learn the skills we will use to keep our bodies in condition, for relaxation and pure enjoyment. Physical education helps us compete with ourselves in learning to use our full physical potential for skills, relaxation and recreation.

They Track Us and Clean Up Our Tracks.*

Ron Stean

Cleaning up after nearly 700 of us is a job not even our own parents would want to be charged with, but these custodians not only clean up after us but they are our friends. They learn to know us by name, they help us when we need to find something or move something. They never refuse us when they can help us be more comfortable. And our school is always clean and orderly. . . thanks to their work and their energies.

Transporting some 2,000 students to and from school is a big job and a bigger responsibility. But, because they care for us, they do this important job patiently and carefully and we appreciate their efforts even though we don't express it or show it.
